LINDBERGH DECLINES AIR POST

SEAWAY TREATY BEATEN, 46-42, IN SENATE POLL

Roosevelt Angered; Plans Reprisal.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Angered by the crushing defeat of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty in the senate today, President Roosevelt immediately began shaping a program for resurrection of the pact and for chastising the Democratic senators who helped in the slaughter.

The administration was able by its various forms of persuasion to induce only 46 senators to vote for the treaty, a support which fell far short of the required two-thirds of the senators voting. The vote was 46 in favor of the treaty, 42 against, 5 not voting, 3 paired. Twenty-two Democratic senators left the White House ranks to aid in burying the pact.

The President was known to be irked by his defeat, which was the first major beating he has taken from congress since he assumed the presidency.

Campaigns by Phone.

It became known tonight that Mr. Roosevelt had conducted a personal campaign by telephone last night, and had called up a number of senators of both parties seeking to sway them from their determination to vote against the treaty.

Never before, so far as it can be learned, has President Roosevelt put up such a personal fight for any legislation. It may be reasoned that he had always enjoyed such generous support for his other legislation that he had no need to make a direct appeal. But his defeat in the St. Lawrence treaty vote weighs the more heavily upon his future relations with the congress because of his failure to win over the opposing senators even by personal argument.

It was learned Mr. Roosevelt had telephoned to Republicans as well as Democrats and that he kept at his task well through the evening and until 11 o'clock last night. The Republicans were told of Mr. Roosevelt's "hopes," it was reported, that they might see their way clear to vote for the treaty.

More Direct to Democrats.

The Democrats, according to stories told by several of them, listened to much more direct and persuasive forms of argument.

It was impossible to learn how many senators had been telephoned by the President, but one estimate was that some 20 were called. The results of the presidential lobby were likewise obscured by doubts, but there was some evidence that he had won two senators over from opposition to support, and that his conversation had been potent enough in the cases of three others to cause them to avoid the senate chamber this morning when the roll was called.

Plans for Resubmission.

Aware even before the vote was taken that the treaty was doomed, Mr. Roosevelt began laying plans for resubmitting it at a future session of congress. He is known to be fearful that Canada will undertake on its own initiative the building of an all-Canadian St. Lawrence waterway by deepening and widening the present Canadian canal around the international sector.

This possibility—and the President has been told that Canada could accomplish it by the expenditure of 100 million dollars—is highly distasteful to Mr. Roosevelt, for he believes it might entail the free access of British and Canadian ocean-going ships to the great lakes and the barring of American shipping except by payment of high tolls.

Blames Chicago Forces.

The President, it was learned, lays the greatest portion of blame for the defeat of the treaty upon the interests in Chicago and the Mississippi valley. He has taken a doggedly determined view that Chicago is not entitled to divert any water from the great lakes for any purpose except for drinking water and sanitation purposes, and considers that Canada, in agreeing to a diversion of 1,500 cubic feet per second for navigation purposes, was exceedingly generous. The Illinois senators and their supporters from the Mississippi valley declared the agreed diversion was wholly inadequate to maintain feasible navigation.

One senator to whom the President has talked on the subject argued that the United States was entitled to divert as much water as was needed for the Mississippi waterway, and to him Mr. Roosevelt told a story about a man in upstate New York who, 100 years ago, tried to divert a stream from its natural course so that he might gain water power. The man's purpose, said the President, would

WE SHOULD RECHRISTEN OUR POLITICAL PARTIES—THEIR PRESENT NAMES ARE MEANINGLESS

Watertown, S. D., March 14.—(AP)—Death has removed one of the last representatives of the "golden age" of the American stage, Mrs. Fannie Osborn Porteous, who played the original rôle of the inimitable Topsy in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and was known to theatergoers of both America and Europe. She was 85.

Although associated with most great figures of the American stage during the latter part of the nineteenth century, so quietly had she lived in retirement here for 28 years that comparatively few knew the story of her picturesque life.

A daughter of John Reese Evans of Long Beach, N. J., Fanny Wentworth was the name she assumed when she obtained her first rôle in a traveling opera company, appearing in Balfe's "Bohemian Girl" at Portland, Me. It was a name destined to become known to European royalty as well as American theater lovers of another day.

Joins "Cabin" Troupe.

When 16 she joined J. J. Ryer's company playing "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at the close of the civil war. It was as the original interpreter of the rôle of Topsy that she scored an outstanding triumph and accompanied the cast on extended travels.

Later she became a member of the company which supported Edwin Booth, one of America's greatest tragedians. She toured Europe with this company and saw Booth crowned with a laurel wreath by Kaiser Wilhelm in Berlin.

She showed a flair for character rôles and was a singer of Irish ballads as well. Later her accomplishments caught the fancy of Queen Victoria, and the American actress was called before the British monarch several times to sing.

She was married to Henry Osborn, Philadelphia barrister, when 20. Miss Wentworth moved west with her husband when his health began to fail and played in stock companies in Butte, Mont., and Salt Lake City, Utah. After her husband's death in the latter city in the late '80s she returned east to resume her career.

Injured in Train Wreck.

While a member of Brady's company playing "A Rising Generation" Miss Wentworth was injured in a train wreck near Montreal and was obliged to give up regular theatrical work for a time.

During this period she met and married James Porteous, son of a prominent family of Glasgow, Scotland, subsequently resuming her career.

Since 1906 she had lived in Watertown, where her husband died several years ago.

Funeral services were held yesterday, with burial in the cemetery here.

8 POLICE SQUADS GO OUT ON HUNT FOR ELEPHANT

Desk Sergeant Ernest Sundt of the North avenue police station picked up the receiver of the office telephone last night.

"An elephant," said the voice on the wire, "is raising cain up and down the 1400 block of Hoyne avenue. Why don't the police do something about it?"

"The matter will be taken care of," said the sergeant.

He immediately sent all available motor squads to the scene and called on the detective bureau for help. Deputy Chief of Detectives William V. Blaul, deserting his dinner, piled into a car with two assistants, two machine guns and two elephant rifles.

While the forces were concentrating on the elephant infested area there was a second call to the North avenue desk. The informant said the elephant had escaped from his trainer at 815 North Hoyne avenue. This word was transmitted to the pachyderm hunters.

These, failing to find the quarry in the area first mentioned, went to 815 North Hoyne avenue and questioned Charles Gutz, 17 years old. He assured them the largest animal his family possessed was a dog. Convinced the elephant scare was a hoax, the eight squads went back to their regular duties.

NANCY LEITER'S INCOME CUT TO $5,000 A MONTH

Nancy Leiter, granddaughter of the late Levi Z. Leiter and heiress to a portion of his $15,000,000 estate, must manage to live during the next eight months on $5,000 a month, according to a ruling yesterday by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. On Nov. 14 Miss Leiter, who is now in an eastern school, will become of age and receive her inheritance. She is now 17 years old.

Miss Leiter has been receiving $7,500 a month, but the cut was made when Attorney A. M. Rogers, of the law firm of Mayer, Meyer, Austrian & Platt, informed the court there was only $50,000 available for the girl from now until Nov. 14.

When she is 18 Nancy will receive $500,000 immediately from her grandfather's estate and $800,000 held for her by her mother. When the Levi Z. Leiter estate is finally settled she will receive one-eleventh of that, more than $1,300,000 at present market prices.

Parrot Cusses a Bit, but Owner Says It Sings, Too

Denver, Colo., March 14.—(AP)—Mrs. May Harris' 209 year old parrot, Chief, does swear occasionally, but he is equally proficient at singing hymns. And that's why, Mrs. Harris explained to William A. Black, deputy district attorney, today she believed she should be allowed to hang the bird's cage outside her midtown home, even if neighbors do complain that most of Chief's conversation is unholy.

Autoist Slain in Car; Woman Hurt in Crash

A man tentatively identified by cards in his pockets as Paul W. Kittleman, 32 years old, a Milwaukee policeman, was found fatally shot early today beside a wrecked automobile at Belvidere street and Telegraph road, two miles west of Waukegan.

Lying by him on the ground unconscious was a woman who later identified herself briefly as Mrs. Lillian Echlbracht, formerly of Fox Lake, but now a police matron attached to Central station in Milwaukee. A pistol from which a bullet had been fired was near her right hand.

Believes Woman Fired Shot.

From the physical evidence Sheriff Lester Tiffany and Deputy Sheriff Gino Palmieri of Lake county decided that Mrs. Albright apparently had shot the supposed Kittleman as they rode along and that the crash of the machine—it collided with a post—occurred after he slumped away from the wheel.

Both were taken by a passing motorist to the St. Theresa hospital in Waukegan, where the man died. Mrs. Albright, after telling Sheriff Tiffany who she was, lapsed again into unconsciousness. Her skull was fractured and it was feared she had suffered internal injuries.

Carries Milwaukee Star.

The cards in the man's pockets showed that he resided at 2131 North 20th street, Milwaukee. He carried a star, No. 519, of the Milwaukee police department.

According to William Parkell, 7924 Perry avenue, who was driving north in Telegraph road, the policeman's car passed him at high speed a mile south of the scene of the crash. When he reached the place, he said, the dying Kittleman was striving to gain his feet. Mrs. Albright, who had been thrown through the windshield, was lying beside the pistol.

Police Chief Fires on 3, Foiling Roadhouse Holdup

Three armed robbers entered the Quincy inn at 112th and Ridgeland avenue, Worth, early today and commanded the employes and patrons to raise their hands. Among the patrons was Chief of Police John M. Cleveland of Oak Lawn. Instead of complying he drew his pistol and fired at the trio. At a range of only a few feet, he stated later, he pumped a bullet into the abdomen of one of the men. The other men, after shooting wildly several times, assisted this man to an automobile and all fled.

HOUSE REBELS HIT BUDGET 200 MILLION BLOW

Roosevelt Is Beaten on Vet Benefits.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt tonight took his second defeat in three days from a stampeding house of representatives.

His program for balancing the budget appeared to be all but wrecked as the house, in a new revolt, insisted on adding more than 200 million dollars in veterans' benefits and government pay to the prospective federal outlays in the next fiscal year.

Although the insistence of the house was openly defiant of the administration, it was a compromise between the much more drastic action of the senate and the position Mr. Roosevelt is understood to hold with respect to the restoration of the federal pay cut and the return of veterans to the compensation rolls. The senate added a total of some 343 millions to the independent offices appropriation bill, which carries the bulk of the administration's economy plans.

Goes to Conference.

The action of the house today sends the measure to conference, where discrepancies between the house and senate versions will be reconciled. Indications were that the less costly amendments approved by the lower body will be agreed upon in conference by both houses.

Whether they will meet with the approval of the White House, however, was a matter of conjecture. No official statement has been forthcoming as to what the President will or will not accept in the way of a compromise on the economy legislation, although it has been indicated indirectly that he may find acceptance of the house amendments preferable to a veto of the entire appropriations bill.

The compromise amendment covering veterans' benefits was adopted by a vote of 222 to 192 after hours of bitter wrangling. Proposed by Representative John Taber [Rep., N. Y.], it involves a total annual expenditure of approximately 90 millions, as compared with the 118 millions called for under the veterans' amendment adopted by the senate.

What It Provides.

In substances the Taber proposal provides:

1. That all Spanish-American war veterans be restored to the pension rolls on a basis of 75 per cent of what they received prior to enactment of the economy bill last session.

2. That all world war veterans with service connected disabilities be restored to the rolls on a full basis.

3. That world war veterans with presumptive disabilities be returned to the rolls on a 75 per cent basis.

In addition, it eliminates pensions for emergency officers, pensions for the widows of the men lost in airship disasters, and knocks out the so-called Borah amendment limiting the restoration of the federal pay cut to persons receiving less than $6,000 a year.

Like Byrnes Amendment.

Mr. Taber's amendment, he pointed out, was drafted along the same general lines as the amendment proposed in the senate by Senator James F. Byrnes [Dem., S. C.] and rejected by the higher body. Senator Byrnes is generally regarded as the administration's official senate spokesman on budgetary matters, and for this reason it was believed that the President may be inclined to accept the Taber amendment if it can be agreed upon in conference.

With respect to restoring the federal pay cut, the house adopted an amendment offered by Representative Carl Vinson [Dem., Ga.] under which federal workers would receive 5 per cent of their 15 per cent pay cut retroactively as of Feb. 1 last, and an additional 5 per cent on July 1 next. This program, it was estimated, will add some 161 millions to the federal pay roll, as compared with 225 millions required to restore the full 15 per cent as voted in the senate.

Believed Acceptable.

Although President Roosevelt has expressly stated that only 5 per cent of the pay cut should be restored at this time, it was generally understood that he is prepared to accept a proposition similar to that agreed upon by the house today.

Today's resolution in the usually placid house was the second within the last three days and was scarcely less turbulent than the uprising which swept the soldiers' bonus bill to overwhelming passage over President Roosevelt's objection last Monday.

That the administration was in for serious trouble became apparent early in the day when the membership of

Flyer Repeats Opposition to Mail Policies

President Roosevelt announces plan to revamp entire aviation policy of government. Details on page 2.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Charging that the use of the army to carry air mail was unfair both to the air lines whose contracts were canceled and to the personnel of the army air corps, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh tonight sent a telegram to Secretary of War Dern declining to serve on the committee named to study the army's operation of the air mail.

Col. Lindbergh, in a message which indicated his bitterness at the course of events in the air mail situation in every line, asserted that the army air corps had had "neither equipment designed for the purpose nor adequate time for training in a new field."

Attorney's Office Releases Statement.

The Lindbergh statement was given out at the office of his attorney, Henry Breckenridge. It read as follows:

"I greatly appreciate the honor of your request that I become a member of a special committee to study and report upon army aviation in relation to national defense.

"I would of course be glad to contribute in any way that I can to the maintenance of an adequate national defense. However, according to the announcement by the war department, this committee is to study and report upon performance by the army air corps in its mission to carry the air mail as directed by executive order. I do not feel that I can serve on a committee whose function it is to assist in following out an executive order to the army to take over the commercial air mail system of the United States.

Says Action Was Unwarranted.

"I believe that the use of army air corps to carry the air mail was unwaranted and contrary to American principles.

"This action was unjust to the air lines whose contracts were canceled without trial. It was unfair to the personnel of the army air corps, who had neither equipment designed for the purpose nor adequate time for training in a new field.

"It has unnecessarily greatly damaged all American aviation."

Col. Lindbergh's refusal to serve on the committee with Orville Wright, Clarence Chamberlin, and a number of high army officers came as a stunning surprise. He had conferred on the air mail situation with Secretary Dern in Washington only last Saturday, and it was assumed when Secretary Dern announced appointment of the committee on Tuesday that the colonel had consented to serve.

The object of the committee, as announced by Secretary Dern, was to study and report on the army's operation of the air mail and "the adequacy and efficiency of its technical flying equipment and training for such a mission."

Asked Complete Study.

"The secretary of war desires the committee to include especially in its considerations of equipment such flying instruments as are deemed necessary for efficient aviation and night, beacon, and radio controled flights and landings, and in its consideration of personnel, their training and experience in cross-country flying, in night flying, blind flying, and in instrument flying, and their understanding and employment of the instruments re-

ROSENBERG TAX STORY A FAIRY TALE, U. S. SAYS

Part of the Evidence in Case Revealed.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

When the late Moe Rosenberg, seeking to settle a charge of income tax evasion, declared in Washington last December that he gave Chicago politicians $500,000 in 1929 and 1930 for campaign purposes, the government officials called his story "a fairy tale."

This was disclosed yesterday by federal investigators, who also divulged for the first time something of the prosecution side of the Rosenberg tax case and gave some reasons why Rosenberg, Democratic boss of the 24th ward, was ordered to trial after the Washington hearing.

Part of Government's Case.

The trial never took place because Rosenberg died last Jan. 12 of an embolism that followed an appendicitis operation. But here are some of the things the government intended to prove:

1. That Rosenberg did not make the enormous profits he claimed to have made in his junk business, the Rosenberg Iron and Metal company.

2. That a government audit of the books of the leading utility companies in the Chicago area disproved his statement that he was able to buy their junk on his own terms because of his influence in utility legislation. The government found that Rosenberg paid the prevailing market prices for the scrap metal, just as the utility operators have contended in public statements.

Evidence Against Campaign Gifts.

3. That Rosenberg did not make the huge political contributions he claimed to have made. This was to have been shown by the government not only through denials from the alleged recipients but through evidence of large financial losses sustained by Rosenberg, indicating that he had not been so generous as to distribute all his unreported income among his political friends.

4. That a loss of $220,000 which Rosenberg claimed he suffered by investing in the Commercial Discount company, a mortgage buying concern, was later made up in the main through his Cook County Trust company, now defunct, which obtained a great number of receiverships in the state courts.

An Ex Parte Hearing.

The story told by Rosenberg in Washington, the federal investigators asserted, constituted his defense against the tax evasion charge—a defense prepared with the assistance of two lawyers. It was also a defense made in an ex parte hearing at which the politicians charged with accepting his money had no opportunity to face their accuser.

The federal agents said the defense sounded like some of those used in previous income tax trials in Chicago. Gene G. Oliver, former county assessor, said he lost all his money betting on horse races. Lawrence O'Brien, former state representative, said he didn't know he was supposed to pay income taxes because he did contracting work for public agencies. Chris Paschen, former city building commissioner, said he sank his money in Paschendale, his 2,000 acre farm near Antioch.

These men, nevertheless, were found guilty of income tax fraud. The government has never lost an income tax case in Chicago.

U. S. Audits Utilities' Books.

It was learned in the United States courthouse that the government made a careful audit of the books of the Illinois Bell Telephone company, the Commonwealth Edison company, the People's Gas, Light and Coke company, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, the Chicago Rapid Transit company and the Chicago Surface Lines, the principal utilities from which Rosenberg purchased his junk.

The audit bore out the statements of officials of these companies that Rosenberg paid the market prices for the junk and that there were no excess profits which he could have used for political slush as he claimed.

The prices recorded in the companies' books were found to be the same as those on Rosenberg's books. His books showed net profits in the scrap metal business for 1929 and 1930—the tax years in question—of $155,000.

$190,709 from "Other Sources."

The government contended that this was all the income Rosenberg derived from the junk business, but they traced $190,709 to him from "other sources."

It was suggested that perhaps Rosenberg understated the selling price of his scrap when recording it on his books, but the federal agents pointed out that this was not his contention. According to Rosenberg's story, everything he bought went on the books and some of his sales went on the books, but that part of his sales which he needed to make "for expenses" was not reported on the books.

In the Washington hearing, federal agents said, Rosenberg was asked this question by Albert Fink, one of his attorneys: "For the year 1929 there was $240,000 worth of sales which you didn't put on the books?" Rosenberg's reply was: "Yes, sir."

The government agents said that every ton of scrap bought from the utilities by Rosenberg was traced, and that he could not have received income from "unreported sales" because he had not acquired the materials to sell.

Opinion of Federal Agents.

The agents said they were unable to trace the origin of Rosenberg's $190,000 of other income, which was shown by cash deposits in large amounts. They expressed the opinion that most of it came from gambling houses on the west side, and did not represent profits on junk purchased from the utility companies.

Against Rosenberg's statement that he paid out some $500,000 to politicians the government planned to show that his great personal losses would not have permitted such large losses. The government intended to introduce evidence that Rosenberg had enormous losses in the stock market. By his own statement in Washington he lost $100,000 in 1929 alone.

Loss in Mortgage Company.

Rosenberg also told the income tax authorities in Washington that he lost $220,000 in 1929 by investing in the Commercial Discount company. The federal agents confirmed this statement and also told the story of the Cook County Trust company.

In the spring of 1929 the Commercial Discount company found itself embarrassed for cash. This concern dealt in second mortgages, buying the mortgages, hypothecating them with banks, and buying more mortgages with the money thus borrowed. The company was wholly owned by Joseph Optner and Nathan Manilow, as Rosenberg told the Washington officials.

In need of capital and believing that Rosenberg's prestige in politics would cause other investors to follow him, the company induced him to invest $220,000 in its stock. But other investors did not follow suit, and after the stock market collapse that fall Rosenberg found his own $220,000 "frozen" in second mortgages.

Founds Cook County Trust Co.

According to the federal agents, Rosenberg then conceived the idea of establishing the Cook County Trust company as a means of recouping his loss in the Commercial Discount. The government men were told that Rosenberg planned to make a killing first in the receivership business and eventually to branch out in the trust business.

Optner, one of the partners in the Commercial Discount company, who had been in the real estate and building business all his life, had a personal receivership business with almost 200 receiverships in the state courts. This had no connection with the Commercial Discount, but Rosenberg, according to the government agents, induced Optner to go into court and have all these receiverships transferred to the Cook County Trust company, promising to give him stock in that company.

Optner Is Disappointed.

After the transfers were made, the government agents were told, Optner went to Rosenberg and asked for his stock.

"To hell with you. That is my way of getting even for the money I lost in your company," Rosenberg is reported to have told Optner.

These receiverships constituted the foundation of the Cook County Trust, in which Rosenberg is said to have regained his $220,000, or most of it.

Rosenberg sold the Cook County Trust to the Phillip State bank in the spring of 1932, receiving $200,000 for the preferred stock and an unannounced sum for the 10,000 shares of common stock. Nineteen days later the Phillip State bank closed its doors, owing depositors $2,100,000.

Telephone Company Statement.

The Illinois Bell Telephone company issued a statement yesterday declaring that for the last ten years all its outside plant junk, containing copper, tin, and lead, was sold to Rosenberg's iron and metal company, "under a definite contract whereby the price varied daily with the market for refined lead, tin, and copper, as quoted in the trade journal, the Daily Metal Reporter."

"Since the value of the junk material depends upon the market for these elements, we have provided that the price paid to the telephone company should vary with the market," the statement continued. "This arrangement has been an outgrowth of long experience in disposing of this type of material, and has been subject to constant study as to whether it brought us a fair and proper price in comparison with any other arrangements which might have been made. Frequent checks and studies have convinced us that it does."

The statement said that Rosenberg bought telephone company junk from 1928 to 1933 in the following amounts: 1928, $488,360; 1929, $490,271; 1930, $411,741; 1931, $158,885; 1932, $44,458; 1933, $46,104.

Previous statements from other utility companies said that Rosenberg bought a total of $1,215,000 worth of junk from the Commonwealth Edison, Peoples Gas, and Public Service of Northern Illinois companies for the four years, 1928 to 1931, an average of about $300,000 a year; an average of $12,500 worth a year from the Chicago Rapid Transit company, and only $990.56 worth in all from the Chicago Surface Lines.

County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough, who returned yesterday from a vacation in Florida, joined the list of officeholders who have denied receiving campaign contributions from Rosenberg.

"I want to say emphatically that I never personally received one penny from Rosenberg," said McDonough. "Nor did he directly or indirectly contribute to any campaign in which I was a candidate."

INCOME TAX LIEN IS FILED AGAINST WM. H. MALONE

An income tax lien for $109,641 was filed yesterday against William H. Malone, former chairman of the Illinois state tax commission, who is now in Germany, in the United States District court by Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue.

The action charged that Malone, who was indicted on Oct. 13, 1933, on a charge of income tax evasion, owes the government the money for the years from 1929 to 1932 inclusive. The indictment against Malone charged that he defrauded the government of $59,580 in income tax for the years 1929 and 1930.

Collector Harrison also filed a similar lien against Mrs. Marie Crowe, widow of Timothy J. Crowe, for $363,030. This action was merely the refiling of the lien filed against Crowe before his death. Crowe, former head of the sanitary district during the whoopee era, was under sentence to serve one to five years in the penitentiary for conspiracy in connection with the spending of sanitary district funds at the time of his death.

AIR MAIL SERVICE TO MEXICO FLIES AS PER SCHEDULE

Nogales, Ariz., March 14.—(AP)—One private airmail service operated in the United States today, for the benefit of a foreign country.

While the United States domestic air mail was grounded, the regular mail plane of Western Air Express passed through Nogales at 6:30 a. m. on schedule, en route from Los Angeles to Mexico City.

R. C. Weil, assistant manager, said here the Mexican mail is being carried free from Los Angeles to Mexicalia, the first border point, and from there to the Mexican capital, via Nogales, under contract with the Mexican government.

ARMY AIR MAIL CRASH FATAL TO TWO LAID TO FAULTY ENGINE

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 14.—(AP)—A coroner's jury held today that engine failure caused the crash of an army plane that killed Lieuts. Frank L. Howard and A. R. Kerwin, air mail flyers, here last Friday. No reason for the failure was found.

The crash occurred a few minutes after the ship had taken off on a night test flight preparatory to carrying mail.

Witnesses testified today that longer runs and faster takeoff speeds are necessary at the Cheyenne airport than at sea level landing fields, where the flyers were trained. The altitude at Cheyenne is about 6,000 feet.

Lieut. A. R. Snavley and Robert F. Tate testified the men were either killed or knocked unconscious by the impact of the crash. The plane caught fire and the bodies were burned.

The officers said the army board of inquiry, of which they were members, had been unable to determine exactly the cause of the accident.

Sergt. Robert E. Dugar said the motor sounded normal until the crash. From the action of the navigation lights, he said, the ship appeared to make a violent maneuver, either a zoom-upward movement or a chandelle-a climbing turn, before it plunged to earth.

The committee is to be authorized to call such witnesses and take such testimony as it may deem necessary.

When Col. Lindbergh's declination was given out shortly before 10 o'clock tonight at Attorney Breckenridge's office neither the flyer nor his attorney was present. A secretary handed copies of the typed telegram to newspaper representatives.

Denies Receiving Telegram.

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Secretary Dern said tonight that he had not received Col. Lindbergh's telegram declining to serve on the special board to investigate the army air corps, but that he was very sorry the noted flyer did not see fit to serve.

The refusal of Col. Lindbergh leaves only Clarence Chamberlin of the three noted flyers invited, Orville Wright having declined on the ground of poor health.

Secretary Dern said he was "casting about" for substitutes for Col. Lindbergh and Mr. Wright.

Planned Efficiency Quiz.

"Our object in appointing this board was not entirely to investigate the army's operation of the air mail, but to study the efficiency of the army air corps in general," said Mr. Dern. "There have been so many investigations in progress that it has become rather bewildering and we felt that for the good of the service and for the enlightenment of the general public it was only right and just to have a detailed survey made by a totally nonpartisan expert board.

"The object is to see whether we have a good air corps or not. If we have not, we want to know it and remedy the condition; if we have, we also want to know that, and the public also is entitled to know. What we are after is facts."

PRESIDENT BARES PLAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Revamping of the entire aviation policy of the government is being undertaken by a special committee appointed by the President, Mr. Roosevelt revealed today.

Expressing him as discontented with the present system, by which aviation activities are conducted by army, navy, marine corps, coast guard, and commerce department, as well as in some cases by the department of agriculture and the forestry department of the department of the interior, the President indicated he was in favor of a thoroughgoing investigation of the entire setup.

The inquiry is now being conducted by an interdepartmental committee set up by Mr. Roosevelt, and while it was not clear how much combining might be done when the final decisions are made, there was ground for believing that some consolidations will be effected.

Service Still Paralyzed.

The air mail service was still paralyzed today. The army planes have been grounded since last Sunday while the air corps staf has been trying to evolve plans for making flying safe and halting the killing of army aviators.

Maj. Gen. Benjamin D. Foulois, chief of the army air corps, left Washington today on an inspection trip to determine whether all was in readiness for flying to be recommenced on a new and drastically curtailed service. Foulois was in Newark and New York today, and was expected by his staf here to fly to Chicago tomorrow. Whether he will go farther west was not determined. At both the air corps headquarters and the office of Harllee Branch, second assistant postmaster general in charge of air mail, no one could be found willing to hazard a guess as to when the order to resume air mail service will be issued. Some expected it tomorrow; others figured it might be near the end of the week.

Democrats Behind President.

In two roll call votes upon the passage of the emergency bill authorizing mail flying by the army air corps, senate Democrats proved that they were behind the President in the air mail controversy. A vote of 61 to 29 effectively tabled a Republican motion to sidetrack the bill into the military affairs committee. A vote of 51 to 22 passed the bill, which authorizes the war department to furnish the postmaster general with the equipment and personnel necessary to carry the mail, and the postmaster general to make available to the army the appropriation normally used for air mail subsidies.

Both votes were strictly party affairs. In the first, 55 Democrats upheld the motion of their party leader, Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas, to table a motion to recommit the bill made by Senator Robert Carey [Rep., Wyo.]. The Democrats swung to their side five Republicans—Senators Couzens, Frazier, La Follette, Norris, and Nye—all of radical or near radical persuasion, and Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite. Senator Huey Long [Dem., La.] was the sole Democrat to vote "No." The second vote was much like the first, except that Senator Johnson [Radical Rep., Cal.] voted in the affirmative. Senator Long was again the lone Democrat in the negative.

To Summon New Witnesses.

Meanwhile, plans were made to summon a notable series of witnesses before the senate postoffice committee where the administration bill to restore transportation of the mails to commercial companies is pending. Invitations were sent out to Col. Lindbergh, Clarence Chamberlin, Maj. Eddie Rickenbacker, and Gen. William Mitchell. A general invitation also was issued to representatives of any of the air mail companies whose contracts were canceled to appear if they wish.

Members of the press were largely responsible for this list of future witnesses; for, running temporarily out of witnesses to summon, Chairman Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.], remarked that the newspaper men present might have some ideas. They had, and suggested the persons above.

Claim "Trial Without Hearing."

It has been a Republican contention that the air mail operators had no chance to appear before the Black committee investigating air mail prior to Feb. 9, when their contracts were canceled. Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], the special committee's chairman, has denied the charge and said that no company representative was ever denied a hearing.

A lengthy and detailed defense of Walter F. Brown, postmaster general under President Hoover, was engaged in before the senate by Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.], who has acted throughout the controversy as Brown's friend and champion. Senator Fess denied the Democratic charge that "fraud and collusion" took place at the meeting in May and June, 1930, to which the former postmaster general summoned the air mail operators. He declared the meetings were justified and were the only means by which the postmaster general could fairly and efficiently build up a reorganized air mail service under the McNary-Watres act which was passed in April, 1930.

"What the representatives of the air mail companies recommended, Postmaster General Brown disapproved of," said the Ohio senator. "Does that look like collusion?"

Charge Political Prejudice.

He blamed the charges against Mr. Brown upon "political prejudice."

Senator Long, interrupting, doubted the wisdom of trusting any postmaster general with so much authority as air mail acts, past, present, and pending, have carried. He chose the occasion to make a thrust at Postmaster General Farley, whose refusal to grant patronage favors to Senator Long has won the "Kingfish's" hearty disfavor. He recalled Mr. Farley's recent free plane to the southwest.

"I'd hate to trust the postmaster general we've got in there now," said Senator Long. "Are we going to leave authority over the air mail up to this man who got the free ride, the free grub, and the twenty dollar hat for nothing?"

New Air Mail Schedules Slash U. S. Mileage by 84 Per Cent

Announcements of the future air mail schedules made yesterday disclose that army mail pilots will fly only 21 per cent of the daily trips made by commercial transport companies on mail routes prior to cancelation of their contracts last Feb. 20. So far no day has been fixed for the resumption of these curtailed routes.

While retaining the main transcontinental trunk lines the new air mail map will slash the twenty-seven airways flown by the private lines to ten. The daily mileage flown with the mails will drop to 15.6 per cent of the distance upon which the commercial lines gave service. The average daily mileage will drop from 141,000 to 22,000.

Calculations based on the new schedules show that the army planes will be slower on the average of 30 miles an hour than were the planes used for mail service by the private lines. This is reflected in substantial increases in scheduled times on the new tables.

Cut New York Route in Half.

The new schedules lop off three round trips daily between Chicago and New York via Cleveland and Toledo, from the old total of six daily round trips. The mail which formerly was carried on five round trips daily between New York and Washington has been cut to a single round trip. The four daily round trips between Chicago and New York via Fort Wayne, Columbus, Pittsburgh, and Philadelphia have been eliminated entirely.

The transcontinental route from Chicago to Kansas City, Salt Lake City and San Francisco, remains at two round trips daily. The branch line from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles and San Diego has been cut from two round trips to one a day. The southern line from New York by way of Washington to Jacksonville, Fla., has been reduced from two round trips a day to one. Branch line flying from Washington to Atlanta has been cut from four round trips to one daily.

Other total eliminations include the Chicago to Miami via New Orleans route, which formerly was a daily round trip, an Atlanta-Jacksonville-Miami round trip, Cleveland-Washington, Cleveland-Fort Worth, Dallas-Los Angeles, Los Angeles-San Francisco, Denver-Albuquerque, Atlanta-New Orleans, Chicago-Columbus, O., and the Detroit-Milwaukee hop. Most of these were daily round trips but a number, among them the Chicago-Columbus route with four round trips daily, were for more.

Offer Air Express Service.

Air service can be obtained over most of these routes at the present time by patronizing the air express services maintained by the commercial operators. However, a few reductions in routes have been made since these concerns lost their air mail contracts.

One of these curtailments was announced yesterday by American Airways with the indefinite suspension of service on their Detroit-Bay City, Mich., line which primarily was an air mail route. The company has halted only 14.3 per cent of its daily mileage since loss of the mail contracts, according to Lester D. Seymour, president of the line.

CHICAGO SEEKS HONORS IN U. S. HEALTH CONTEST

City's Achievement Record Sent to Washington.

Chicago's claim for national honors as the healthiest big city in the United States was forwarded yesterday to the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington for consideration in its annual health conservation contest.

Chicago placed third among cities of more than 500,000 population in last year's contest, it was recalled. New achievements in health in 1933 have made it possible, according to George W. Young, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, that this city may place first this year.

The lowest death rate in the history of the city was recorded in 1933, Charles W. Bergquist, chairman of the association's health conservation committee, revealed. The death rate per 1,000 population was 9.7. The infant death rate of 1932, which was the lowest in Chicago's history, was also maintained. This was 49.3 per 1,000 births. Infants up to one year of age are considered in this record.

A Record Breaking Year.

The maternal mortality rate was also the lowest in the history of the city in 1933, being only 4.3 deaths per 1,000 live births. Not one baby lost the vision of both eyes from opthalmia neonatorum, the record also showed.

The diphtheria case and death rate was the lowest in Chicago's history. Only 154 cases were reported and 9 deaths occurred during 1933. Only 8 cases of smallpox and no deaths were reported in the same period, another record breaker. Typhoid fever case and death rates were the lowest ever reported in Chicago. Seventy-eight cases and 12 deaths were recorded.

Other health features of the year were: Highest percentage of school children satisfactorily vaccinated in the history of the city; marked reduction in cases of deaths of whooping cough—2,457 cases and 13 deaths; decrease in venereal disease.

No Contagion from Milk.

There was not a single case of contagion traceable to impure milk, the report showed, and the butter fat content of milk sold in the city averaged between 3.6 and 3.7 per cent, far in excess of the ordinance requirements.

A resolution was adopted at the city council meeting yesterday commending the work of Dr. Herman N. Bundesen and the board of health in the fight on amebic dysentery and thanking all the medical authorities for their part in the fight.

FORBID WEIGHT GUESSERS TO PAW 1934 FAIR GUESTS

The guess your weight men at the Fair this summer are going to have a much harder time of it than they did in 1933. This year they will have to depend on their eyes and their accumulated store of wisdom, for the rule is "hands off." The contract signed yesterday specifies that no prospective patron can be touched, not even a quick pat to see if it is good solid muscle that fills the coat sleeve.

Officials to Cut Cost of Eating at the 1934 World's Fair

BY EARL MULLIN.

Eating at the Fair this summer is to be more of a pleasure and less of an expense, officials said yesterday after completing the restaurant and cafe program. In general the Exposition has demanded more places in which to eat, a wide diversity of types, and a cut in the prices charged.

The greatly increased refreshment program is in line with the announced intention of Fair officials to profit by the mistakes made during the first year of the Exposition. One of the greatest causes of complaints by Fair visitors last year was the high cost of dining. This year food will cost no more than it does in the city proper, Fair officials said.

Plan Sidewalk Cafe.

Eating places this year will range from hamburger stands to ornate dine and dance clubs, with free picnic grounds and inexpensive cafeterias in between. Of particular interest to native Americans will be the sidewalk cafés and open air dining rooms which have long been one of the attractions of European cities. Mayor Kelly was largely instrumental in getting the small intimate sidewalk cafés dotted throughout the grounds.

The presence of beer and wine once again on American menus, Mayor Kelly contended, would make for the leisurely dining and drinking that fits so well with little tables strung along a shaded walk. The presence of this type of refreshment stand will lend a continental air to the Fair grounds.

Foreign Dining Places.

All of the foreign villages will present dining places typical of the country represented, and it is here that sidewalk dining will get its greatest attention. Cafeterias will be located at strategic spots in the grounds, as will inexpensive table d'hôte dining rooms. Practically all of the dine and dance places of the 1933 Fair will be open in 1934, and here the prices will be commensurate with the type of amusement offered. Fair officials are less interested in these than in the socalled popular priced eating places.

Prices for complete meals will range from 15 cents in the cafeterias and roadside stands to $2.50 in the night clubs. The majority of the plain restaurants, places in which no music or entertainment are offered, will range from 50 cents to 75 cents. Exposition inspectors will keep a close watch on the quality of the food and the prices.

Dining Room on Midway.

Two new structures, typical of the change in eating facilities, are now ready for construction. One is a large dining room in the center of the old Midway, open at the sides but with a roof supported by decorative pillars. The second floor will provide an open air lounge where, according to present plans, stringed instrument concerts will be given. The second building is to be built over the lagoon, north from the 16th street bridge. The first floor will house a medium priced cafe and the second an exhibit of the Hiram Walker distilling company.

Comfort stations at the Fair will be free this summer. The 5 and 10 cent charges at the 1933 Fair for these facilities aroused more criticism than any other thing and officials decided, despite the fact that a large profit was earned on the investment last year, to make them a free service.

Members of the Association of Ninety Three'ers last night held a "Do You Remember When" dinner in the Boston Oyster house of the Morrison hotel. Under the direction of the president, D. E. Ward, members told stories of the 1893 World's Fair and sang songs of that time. Plans were made for the participation of the organization in the 1934 Chicago Fair.

Last summer the organization maintained a booth at the Fair, at which 40,000 persons who attended the 1893 exposition registered.

Adopt Equal Rights Bill.

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—The legislature will keep a hand on officials of A Century of Progress during its second showing this summer. This was assured when the senate passed the Jenkins bill calling for a commission to investigate any "violations of state and national laws" at the Exposition.

Introduced in the house by three Negro representatives, Charles J. Jenkins, William J. Warfield, and Harris B. Gaines, Chicago Republicans, the bill was intended to guard against racial discrimination by concessionaires at the Fair.

It passed the senate today and lacking an emergency clause will become effective on July 1.

In addition to giving the Negro representatives what they want, the bill will also permit the assemblymen to make effective protests if they are denied as many passes as they wish.

Appropriations insuring state participation at the Fair also passed both houses today.

JOHN DILLINGER PAROLE UNDER FIRE OF JURORS

Crown Point Investigation Gets Under Way.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

The oft-delayed grand jury investigation into the escape of John Dillinger, national outlaw, from the Crown Point jail was begun yesterday. It was reported that the jury will extend its inquiry to include an examination of Gov. Paul V. McNutt's parole of Dillinger last spring from the Michigan City prison, where he was serving a ten to twenty year sentence for robbery.

State officials, as well as the Lake county officers who surrendered Dillinger to walk to his freedom, watched the grand jury inquiry with apprehension. The political fate of a number of office-holders may rest upon the outcome of the investigation.

Errors in Parole Records.

A photostatic copy of the parole records was to be shown the jurors, it was learned. Several errors as to dates and facts of Dillinger's sentence and service in prison have been uncovered in these records, although there has been no evidence that these were other than stenographic slips.

ing the grand jury to make a complete investigation of all the facts relating to the Dillinger escape.

"The national prominence of the escaped prisoner has resulted in much publicity," he declared, "and inferences have been made that graft and collusion were responsible for the break. It has also been inferred that politics, neglect, and cowardice were elements in the escape.

Slain Gangster Gets Short and Snappy Inquest.

The life of Charles [Ice Wagon] Connors, Touhy gangster, who was found shot to death Tuesday beside 107th street near Archer avenue, was valued at something less than $6 yesterday by Deputy Coroner Jacob Schwed. A verdict of murder by persons unknown was returned by the coroner's jury which heard testimony by several hired witnesses.

"I don't care who killed Connors," Deputy Coroner Schwed said at the start of the hearing. "This inquest is going to be opened and closed today. I will not be a party to spending six more dollars of the taxpayers' money."

Search for Mail Loot.

The deputy coroner referred to the fact that each of six jurors is paid $1 for each hearing of a continued inquest. As the inquest was closed with the routine finding, Jack Rubins, investigator for the office of the public administrator, began a search for a safe deposit box in which Connors may have hidden his reported share of the $75,000 robbery [illegible]

SAYS MAKLEY BEAT SHERIF SARBER ON HEAD WITH A GUN

Lima, O., March 14.—(AP)—Charles Makley, once a member of John Dillinger's widely traveled troupe of bank raiders, late today listened as County Prosecutor Ernest M. Botkin told how Sheriff Jess L. Sarber died in an attempt to keep Dillinger in jail.

The state contends Makley is one of the three men who walked into the jail office June Oct. 12, shot Sheriff Sarber and walked away with Dillinger.

Makley, Botkin said was the man who struck Sarber over the head with a gun, then forced Mrs. Sarber to get the keys of the jail.

There are eleven men and one woman on the jury.

Clarence C. Miller, of defense counsel, said that Makley went to the home of his brother, Fred E. Makley, in St. Mary's, O., shortly after midnight of Oct. 11 and remained there until the night of Oct. 12.

older. Has dirty brown hair, a dissipated look, weighs 220 pounds, and is about 5 feet 7 inches in height. His face wears a habitually surly expression."

Banghart Nears Prison.

Cook county authorities yesterday were preparing to send Basil [The Owl] Banghart to prison for the Factor kidnaping as soon as legal technicalities are cleared away. Banghart was convicted Tuesday by a jury which fixed his punishment at 99 years in the penitentiary.

In prison Banghart will join three

North Carolina. She is alleged to have held part of the loot for members of the gang.

A third defendant in the mail robbery trial will be Banghart, it was disclosed last night by United States Attorney Lloyd C. Moody, who said that as soon as the kidnaper is committed to Joliet penitentiary he will go before a federal judge and ask for his removal to Charlotte. Moody explained that this action is planned as a precaution to make certain that Banghart will spend the rest of his life in prison. Regardless of the outcome of the mail robbery trial, Moody said Banghart would be returned to Illinois to serve his kidnaping sentence.

Factor, victim of the kidnaping that netted the gang $70,000, yesterday waited the next move of the British government. He has been ordered returned to England for trial on the charge that he defrauded British investors of more than $7,000,00 in stock deals.

Chicago attorneys for the British crown yesterday were waiting for orders from the embassy in Washington before moving for Factor's arrest.

JOHN DILLINGER PAROLE UNDER FIRE OF JURORS

Crown Point Investigation Gets Under Way.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

The oft-delayed grand jury investigation into the escape of John Dillinger, national outlaw, from the Crown Point jail was begun yesterday. It was reported that the jury will extend its inquiry to include an examination of Gov. Paul V. McNutt's parole of Dillinger last spring from the Michigan City prison, where he was serving a ten to twenty year sentence for robbery.

State officials, as well as the Lake county officers who permitted Dillinger to walk to his freedom, watched the grand jury inquiry with apprehension. The political fate of a number of office-holders may rest upon the outcome of the investigation.

Errors in Parole Records.

A photostatic copy of the parole records was to be shown the jurors, it was learned. Several errors as to dates and facts of Dillinger's sentence and service in prison have been uncovered in these records, although there has been no evidence that these were other than stenographic slips.

The date of Dillinger's parole was May 22, 1933. Gov. McNutt, who comes from Morgan county where Dillinger lived, approved the petition signed by the 184 neighbors of Dillinger, including the victim of the robbery and the judge and prosecutor who gained his conviction. Dillinger pleaded at a hearing that he wished to go to his step-mother's bedside. She died shortly before he returned home.

While Dillinger had served eight years when he was paroled and would ordinarily have been eligible for such action, his record was a poor one, according to the evidence, and he had attempted to escape several times. Under prison rules, a convict who has attempted to escape is usually barred from consideration by the parole board.

Two Sentences Imposed.

The records showed that Dillinger was sentenced to the state reformatory on Sept. 15, 1924, for ten to twenty years on charges of assault and battery with intent to rob and two to fourteen years on charges of conspiracy to commit a felony. He began serving his sentences at the Indiana reformatory.

He was transferred to the state prison at Michigan City July 15, 1929, after his second attempt to escape, and an additional sentence of one year was placed against him. The report of the reformatory head declared he was an unruly prisoner.

Under these circumstances, prison authorities said, a prisoner would usually have been forced to serve the maximum term allotted him by the trial court. The grand jury was to be asked to consider if Dillinger was given undue favoritism in the parole action.

Jury Is Completed.

The special grand jury was completed yesterday after three days of disappointment and delay due to the difficulties attending the drafting of the six members. The sixth grand juror, Fred Niemeyer, a retired farmer, was sworn in and Judge William J. Murray of the Lake County Circuit court instructed the jury to inquire into the prison break without regard to whom the evidence might involve.

The judge pointed out that he himself had been criticized for refusing to remove Dillinger from the Crown Point jail to the Michigan City state prison and urged an impartial investigation of that phase of the affair.

The first witness to testify before the grand jury, which met in the library of the courthouse at Crown Point, was Warden Lew Baker, who was in charge of the jail at the time Dillinger decided to leave. He described the manner in which the desperado walked to freedom. The jurors took a trip through the jail to examine Dillinger's route for themselves.

Special Prosecutor Named.

The responsibility of presenting evidence to the grand jury rests upon Martin J. Smith, selected as a special prosecutor, in order that no charge of partiality may be made against Robert G. Estill, state's attorney. Smith, a former judge, is a Republican, while most of the officials involved are Democrats.

Judge Murray was grave in charging the grand jury to make a complete investigation of all the facts relating to the Dillinger escape.

"The national prominence of the escaped prisoner has resulted in much publicity," he declared, "and inferences have been made that graft and collusion were responsible for the break. It has also been inferred that politics, neglect, and cowardice were elements in the escape.

Wants Blunk Investigated.

"Owing to the fact that Ernest Blunk [deputy sheriff and finger print expert who has been charged with aiding Dillinger to escape] was my appointee, I urge you to make a most vigorous investigation into his part in the affair. I have been criticized for having myself refused to transfer Dillinger to the Michigan City prison. I want you to determine if the Crown Point jail is a proper place to harbor hardened criminals, and if it is not, recommend such improvements as may be necessary."

"Name everybody involved in your report, whether they are criminally liable or not," the judge concluded his instructions.

Five of the six jurors must concur in indictments to be returned, under the Indiana law.

The grand jury adjourned until this morning after hearing the testimony of Warden Baker and James Dexter, a cook at the jail, who quit his job two days before Dillinger's escape. The nature of Dexter's evidence could not be learned, although there were reports that he had testified that some prisoners and officials in the jail knew that Dillinger was planning to escape.

Sheriff to Be Called.

More than thirty witnesses are to appear before the grand jury including Mrs. Lillian Holley, the woman sheriff, and a number of guards and prisoners who have accused Blunk and Sam Cahoon, turnkey of assisting Dillinger. Cahoon is 64 years old.

The search for Dillinger yielded no definite clews yesterday. Some of the witnesses to the $52,000 robbery of the First National bank of Mason City, Ia., on Tuesday said that one of the seven robbers looked like Dillinger, but doubts were expressed here that Dillinger was there.

Fear that Dillinger will stage one of his well-known bank robberies is costing bankers of Illinois and several other central states more than $1,000 a day as pay for extra guards, banker's association representatives estimated yesterday. Detective agencies reported there had been an unusual demand for bank guards since the escape.

LIE DETECTOR SEEKS CLEW TO N. U. MYSTERY

Students Submit to Truth Tests.

Following complaints that several hundred valuable volumes had vanished from the Northwestern university law school library on McKinlock campus, it was disclosed yesterday that the lie detector was used on students of the school in an attempt to solve the mystery.

The submission to the lie detector tests was voluntary on the part of the students. When the disappearance of the books was called to the attention of the student council which is elected by the students and controls all disciplinary action in the graduate school, the council summoned the 350 students of the school to a meeting last Friday afternoon.

Urges Lie Detector Tests.

Robert Grover, president of the council, proposed that the entire student body submit to the lie detector tests. He called attention to the fact that the guilty alone had cause to fear the ordeal, and declared that it would familiarize the other members of the class with the latest in crime fighting equipment.

There was a hot debate over the proposal. Some of the students protested that their constitutional rights would be violated by such wholesale crime tests. On a final vote, however, the proponents of the tests won.

The lie detector is owned by the crime detection laboratory which is operated by the law school. Permission for its use was granted by the director of the laboratory, Prof. Newman F. Baker, and on Monday and Tuesday the tests were begun. Twenty-four men and one young woman, all student employés in the library, were tested. The results were kept secret pending the tests to be performed upon others of the law school.

Find Opposition Grows.

But yesterday it appeared that the remainder of the school enrollment would not be subjected to the detector's measurements of pulse beats, respiration, and nervous reaction as questions concerning the missing books are put to them. The sentiment against the tests has apparently grown stronger and last evening Prof. Baker stated that he believed that no more students would be placed in the machine.

Dean Leon Green of the law school, who verified the story of the students' action last evening, explained with a smile: "Who doesn't occasionally take a book and fail to return it? It's not really a crime and besides I'm told by the library that already more than a hundred of the missing books have been returned as mysteriously as they disappeared."

WILLETT'S WIFE DROPS PROTEST ON SETTLEMENT

After a protest that she should be guaranteed a $17,500 income for life instead of for five years, Mrs. Grace Williamson Willett yesterday listened to the advice of Superior Judge Rudolph Desort and agreed to the original settlement offered by her estranged husband, Howard L. Willett, head of a trucking company.

Under the agreement Mrs. Willett will continue to have an income from an insurance trust and one-third of the Willett company's stock after the five years are up, but Willett will not be forced to contribute any amount necessary to assure the $17,500 annually. Mrs. Willett told the judge yesterday that she wanted the guarantee to continue.

33 Candidates Named

Hollywood, Cal., March 13.—[Special.]—Thirty-three candidates for selection as Wampas Baby stars were chosen at the nominating meeting of the Screen Press Agents' organization today. From the 33 girls nominated, 13 eventually will be chosen to represent the young movie actresses not already on contract to studios. Among the girls nominated were Julie Haydon [Donnella Donaldson], former Oak Park, Ill., girl; Lucille Lund, Northwestern university girl; Mary Kornman, and Dorothy Dix of Chicago.

Will Wed Camera Man.

Hollywood, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—Nominated as one of the Wampas Baby stars today, Mary Kornman of Hollywood, 19 year old film beauty, disclosed she would leave tomorrow for Yuma, Ariz., to be married to Leo Tover, film camera man. Miss Kornman starred in pictures as a member of Hal Roach's "Our Gang" company. She met Tover three years ago.

PUTS CHICAGOAN ON BOARD FOR ATTACK ON CRIME

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings broadcast an appeal today to the lawyers of the United States to assist in speeding up the administration of criminal justice and purging their profession of unworthy members. He spoke at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel to the New York County Lawyers' association.

Mr. Cummings announced he had named a nonpartisan board of advisers to serve without pay at headquarters in Washington. They are Frank A. Thompson of St. Louis, Donald Defrees of Chicago, and George W. Whiteside of New York.

"I am placing at the disposal of the courts," said Mr. Cummings, "the bar associations, and the grievance committees of the bar the facilities of the department of justice."

CORONER VALUES CONNORS' LIFE AT LESS THAN $6

Slain Gangster Gets Short and Snappy Inquest.

The life of Charles [Ice Wagon] Connors, Touhy gangster, who was found shot to death Tuesday beside 107th street near Archer avenue, was valued at something less than $6 yesterday by Deputy Coroner Jacob Schewel. A verdict of murder by persons unknown was returned by the coroner's jury which heard testimony by several bored witnesses.

"I don't care who killed Connors," Deputy Coroner Schewel said at the start of the hearing. "This inquest is going to be opened and closed today. I will not be a party to spending six more dollars of the taxpayers' money."

Search for Mail Loot.

The deputy coroner referred to the fact that each of six jurors is paid $1 for each hearing of a continued inquest. As the inquest was closed with the routine finding, Jack Rubins, investigator for the office of the public administrator, began a search for a safe deposit box in which Connors may have hidden his reported share of the $25,000 taken by the Touhy gang in a Charlotte, N. C., mail robbery.

Although the inquest failed to disclose a motive for the slaying, police held to the belief that Connors was killed because he refused to donate to a defense fund for Touhy gangsters convicted of the kidnaping of John Factor, wealthy speculator. The police expressed a desire to question Frank [Porky] Dillon and Ludwig Schmidt, fugitive members of the gang.

Dillon, Schmidt, Tommy Touhy, Leroy Marschalk, and James McFadden are the only members of the once powerful gang still at large. Dillon is being sought for trial on the Factor kidnaping charge and Schmidt for the Charlotte mail robbery. The following description of Dillon was made public yesterday by State's Attorney Courtney:

"Dillon is 38 years old and looks older. Has dirty brown hair, a dissipated look, weighs 220 pounds, and is about 5 feet 7 inches in height. His face wears a habitually surly expression."

Banghart Nears Prison.

Cook county authorities yesterday were preparing to send Basil [The Owl] Banghart to prison for the Factor kidnaping as soon as legal technicalities are cleared away. Banghart was convicted Tuesday by a jury which fixed his punishment at 99 years in the penitentiary.

In prison Banghart will join three other members of the gang who are serving similar sentences for the Factor kidnaping. They are Roger Touhy, Albert Kator, and Gustav Schaefer.

The fate of William A. [Buck] Henrichsen and Isaac Costner, members of the gang who turned state's evidence and testified at the Factor kidnaping trials, was discussed yesterday by attachés of the state's attorney's office. Henrichsen, it was believed, will be given his freedom.

U. S. to Get Costner.

Costner, it was said yesterday, will be turned over to the government for trial in North Carolina for his alleged complicity with Banghart and Connors in the Charlotte mail robbery. His co-defendant in the mail robbery trial will be Mae Blalock, sweetheart of Banghart. Arraigned yesterday before United States Commissioner Walker, she waived examination and was held for removal to North Carolina. She is alleged to have held part of the loot for members of the gang.

A third defendant in the mail robbery trial will be Banghart, it was disclosed last night by United States Attorney Lloyd C. Moody, who said that as soon as the kidnaper is committed to Joliet penitentiary he will go before a federal judge and ask for his removal to Charlotte. Moody explained that this action is planned as a precaution to make certain that Banghart will spend the rest of his life in prison. Regardless of the outcome of the mail robbery trial, Moody said Banghart would be returned to Illinois to serve his kidnaping sentence.

Factor, victim of the kidnaping that netted the gang $70,000, yesterday waited the next move of the British government. He has been ordered returned to England for trial on the charge that he defrauded British investors of more than $7,000,00 in stock deals.

Chicago attorneys for the British crown yesterday were waiting for orders from the embassy in Washington before moving for Factor's arrest.

SAYS MAKLEY BEAT SHERIF SARBER ON HEAD WITH A GUN

Lima, O., March 14.—(AP)—Charles Makley, once a member of John Dillinger's widely traveled troupe of bank raiders, late today listened as County Prosecutor Ernest M. Botkin told how Sheriff Jess L. Sarber died in an attempt to keep Dillinger in jail.

The state contends Makley is one of the three men who walked into the jail office here Oct. 12, shot Sheriff Sarber and walked away with Dillinger.

Makley, Botkin said was the man who struck Sarber over the head with a gun, then forced Mrs. Sarber to get the keys of the jail.

There are eleven men and one woman on the jury.

Clarence C. Miller, of defense counsel, said that Makley went to the home of his brother, Fred E. Makley, in St. Mary's, O., shortly after midnight of Oct. 11 and remained there until the night of Oct. 13.

CANAL TREATY BEATEN, 46-42, IN SENATE POLL

Roosevelt Angered; Plans for Chastisement.

have shut off the water from power mills further down the stream and the courts, under the common law of England, enjoined the upstate man from his design.

Angered at Threat.

However, the senator argued with the President that the case here was not the same, and that Chicago intended to take as much water as was needed, and to this Mr. Roosevelt took violent umbrage.

So angry is the President over the opposition from Chicago that it would be regarded as most inauspicious for that city at any time in the near future to push any proposals for federal consideration of its sewage needs, new appropriaitons for the Illinois waterway, or similar purposes.

Chicagoans were inclined to congratulate themselves on having already gotten enough millions from the public works fund to carry the sanitary district program for another two years and to complete the improvements on the Illinois waterway. It is considered likely that Mr. Roosevelt will put thumbs down on any Chicago projects which are in any way related with the diversion of water from Lake Michigan.

The vote on the treaty followed shortly after the senate convened. It had been agreed that the roll would be called on the pact not later than 6 o'clock today, but for once it appeared the senate was talked out. The debate has been going on intermittently and with increasing intensity ever since Jan. 10, when the President sent his message to the senate asking for the treaty's ratification, and the senators this morning were ready to admit that there was nothing more to be said.

The five senators who failed to vote were Caraway, Fletcher, King, Thomas of Oklahoma and Trammell.

Clear Way For Vote.

The way for a vote on the treaty proper, cleared of any reservations, was laid at the beginning when Senators William H. Dieterich [Dem., Ill.] and Josiah H. Bailey [Dem., N. C.] followed the example set last night by Senators J. Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.] and Bennett C. Clark [Dem., Mo.] and withdrew reservations they had offered.

The suddenness with which the vote arrived caught some senators unaware, and several were summoned hastily from cloakrooms and offices. The last to be recorded was Senator Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.], who rushed into the chamber all out of breath, to the amusement of the galleries. It is doubted that Senator Wagner could ever have lived down missing such a vote, because he has been an active opponent of the treaty, despite his position as one of the most ardent of the New Deal sympathizers and supporters.

Splits Party Lines.

The vote on the treaty split senate party lines almost in two. No less than 22 Democrats rebelled against the President and his insistent desire for ratification and joined with 20 Republicans to vote against the treaty. On the Republican side 14 Republicans joined with the 31 Democratic loyalists and the single Farmer-Laborite to vote for ratification.

Republicans who voted for the treaty came largely from the so-called "radical" group or from among the "liberals," who frequently depart from the regular lineup.

The backbone of the opposition came from the east. With the exception of South Carolina, whose senators voted for ratification, and Florida, whose senators evidently avoided the vote, the Atlantic seaboard was almost solid against the treaty. Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, North Carolina, and Georgia cast the votes of both senators in the negative. New Hampshire's and Vermont's senators divided, as did West Virginia's. Virginia's Senator Harry F. Byrd voted "no," and it was announced that Senator Carter Glass of Virginia would have voted the same way had he been present.

Mississippi Valley Next.

Next in size was the group of negative votes from the Mississippi valley. Illinois' Senator Lewis and Senator Dieterich were foremost among the treaty's opponents during the long debate; another was Senator Clark of Missouri, whose Republican colleague, Senator Roscoe C. Patterson, also voted against ratification. Louisiana cast two votes on the "no" side; Kansas, Mississippi, and Iowa each cast one.

On the Pacific coast, Oregon was another state both of whose senators voted with the opposition; Washington cast one negative vote. The remaining three votes of the 42 "noes" came, one apiece, from Colorado, Texas, and Wyoming.

Following the vote, an attempt was made by senators ton the opposition side to move to reconsider in order that the motion might be tabled and the present treaty forever shelved. The attempt was blocked by Senator Lewis. In fairness to the proponents of the treaty, he said that a move to reconsider ought not to be made for 24 hours in order that friends of the treaty might, if they wished, have time to prepare reservations in the hope of winning a few more votes.

Senator Lewis predicted that the treaty in a new form would be sent to the senate probably for consideration at the next session. He expected it to omit the clauses touching on the sovereignty of Lake Michigan and the Chicago diversion.

"But so far as I am concerned—and I believe I speak also for several others," he said, "I shall not be satisfied with a mere omission, but shall demand that internationalization of Lake Michigan and the limitation of the sanitary district diversion shall be specifically renounced by Canada."

MONTREAL ELATED.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 4.—There was general satisfaction in Montreal business and shipping circles tonight on the defeat in the United States senate of the proposed St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada. Montreal has consistently held the attitude propounded by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and other prominent interests that the project is too expensive to be undertaken at this time and that it would not yield the benefit the advocates claim. Roosevelt's warning that Canada will build the seaway is taken here as a bluff; the dominion will not have the money for many years to construct any Canadian waterway route.

REBEL CONGRESS HITS BUDGET 200 MILLION WALLOP

Roosevelt Is Defeated on Vets' Benefits.

the house unexpectedly rejected a parliamentary stratagem designed by Democratic leaders to preserve the Roosevelt economy program for emasculation. By a vote of 169 to 247, the house knocked out a special rule which, if adopted, would have precluded the lower body from voting separately on the pay cut and veterans' issues. Conferees on the part of the house—all administration chieftains—would have had a free rein in seeking to lop off all or a large part of the funds added to the independent offices bill by the senate.

Democrats Beat Democrats.

But the plans devised by Democratic leaders met defeat at the hands of their own Democratic majority. The roll call which beat the rule showed 121 Democrats bolting their party ranks to join 111 Republicans and 5 Farmer-Laborites in opposition. Not a single Republican voted aye.

The separate votes on the pay cut question and the veterans' benefits serve to instruct the house conferees that the lower body is insistent that the Taber and Vinson amendments be incorporated in the independent offices bill. Indications were that the senate will recede in conference from its more drastic position and agree to the house amendments.

The day's session was almost as wild as the uproarious bonus proceedings on Monday. Strident words hurtled back and forth across the center aisle and the chairman rapped constantly, loudly and futilely for order.

VETO CERTAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt today renewed his promise to veto the immediate payment of the bonus with greenbacks, even if the senate, like the house of representatives, should pass it by a smashing majority.

Although the President himself would be quoted no further because the bonus is still pending in congress, the White House let it be known that he regards the proposed issuance of printing press money for the bonus merely the forerunner of what might become uncontroled inflation.

Turns Down Flat Money.

At the same time it was understood that President Roosevelt has turned thumbs down on the issuance of greenbacks to pay off any portion of the government's debt. This, too, he is said to feel, would invite a continuous issuance of fiat money to pay for all sorts of governmental extravagances.

With a billion dollars' worth of Liberty bonds maturing on April 15, there had been rumors that the treasury might pay them off in greenbacks as it is allowed to do under inflationary laws. The threat of the bonus and the President's new attitude are regarded as having killed this possibility.

While the house continued today to call for increased benefits to injured veterans, the bonus issue as such was quiet. It is considered headed for defeat in the senate, but even if it succeeds in passing there, it will be thrown out by the White House.

Fears Pork Barrel.

President Roosevelt is reported as believing that there would be no end to the special groups to whom congress might vote special benefits payable in greenbacks if the bonus should go over. Munitions workers during the war, government employés, and other groups might extract from congress similar measures which would plunge the country into printing press inflation.

Most serious of all, according to the views imputed to the White House, is the possibility that congress might embark on unlimited spending and lending of federal easy money, making up its deficits with fiat money.

HOW CONGRESSMEN VOTED ON RULE TO AID ECONOMY PLAN

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Representatives from the north central area voted as follows on the rule brought in by the Democratic leadership to protect the Roosevelt economy program:

ILLINOIS.

FOR THE RULE—Adair, Arnold, Beam, Brenna, Dobbins, Kelly, Kocialkowski, O'Brien, Sabath, Schaefer, Schuetz, Thompson, Rainey [Democrats].

AGAINST THE RULE—Gillespie, Keller, Meeks, Nesbit, Parsons [Democrats]; Allen, Britten, De Priest, Dirksen, Moynihan, Simpson [Republicans].

NOT VOTING—Buckbee, Reid [Republicans].

INDIANA.

AGAINST—Durgan, Gray, Griswold, Jenckes, Ludlow, Schulte [Democrats].

WISCONSIN.

FOR THE RULE—Hurhes, Henney, Reilly [Democrats].

MICHIGAN.

HINTS KINNEY REGIME CHECK KITING AT TRIAL

Indications of check kiting during the régime of Garrett DeForest Kinney, former state director of finance who took his own life last year, appeared yesterday during the trial of three men charged before Judge Donald S. McKinlay in the Criminal court with conspiracy to evade the payment of the state gasoline tax. The defendants are Max Johnson, Al Johnson, and Sam Levin, who operated the Consumers Gas and Oil company.

T. E. McArdle, former investigator for the finance department, was on the witness stand as a prosecution witness when defense attorneys under cross-examination developed the fact that $21,000 was paid in taxes by the defendants in 1931, but that they were only credited with a $6,000 payment. On re-direct examination Assistant State's Attorney John O'Hora showed that the $15,000 payment finally showed up on the finance department books approximately one year later.

"I cannot account for the situation unless there was some check kiting going on in the department," said the prosecutor. "We have been given no explanation as to why a payment should be held out for nearly one year before it was entered on the books."

Pilot Gives Thrills to Two Who Gave Him Bad Check

Dallas, Tex., March 14.—(AP)—Two airplane passengers bound for Alexandria, La., landed, gasping, back in Dallas today and found handcuffs awaiting them. Lou Foote, commercial pilot, had learned a $100 check given him by the men here was worthless. So today at Texarkana, when they asked to be taken to Alexandria, Foote turned his ship about and kept his prisoners subdued with snap rolls and other hair raising stunts. At the end of a dive from 11,000 feet, Foote landed with a jerk in front of his hangar and turned the passengers over to waiting officers.

Loop Building Asks Writ Against Candidate's Signs

A petition for an injunction to restrain Harry L. Dunn, independent Democratic candidate for sheriff, from posting signs in the windows of his offices in the Ashland block, 155 North Clark street, was filed in the Circuit court yesterday by A. B. Mason, manager of the building. When Dunn rented the rooms he agreed that they were not to be used for political purposes nor were signs to be placed in the windows, the petition said. The case will be heard today by Judge Harry M. Fisher.

CHILD SCALDED TO DEATH.

Croxdon, Ind., March 14.—[Special.]—Lucille Walther, 4, living near Lanesville, was scalded to death today when she fell into a pan of hot water.

PRIMARY DRIVE OF DEMOCRATS TO OPEN SUNDAY

Six Speakers to Address Theater Meeting.

A battery of six speakers, according to an official announcement, will open the Illinois Democratic campaign for the April 10 primary in a meeting at the Auditorium theater at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

The meeting will mark the beginning of a drive for the entire regular Democratic ticket from top to bottom, including the candidates for Cook county offices. But in view of the list of speakers announced, it is expected that there will be considerable punch put into arguments for the election of Democrats to congress to sustain the hand of the President.

Speaker Rainey on Program.

Three of the speakers particularly are expected to take this theme. They are Speaker Henry T. Rainey of the national house of representatives, an Illinoisan; and Senators Patrick A. McCarran of Nevada and William H. Dieterich of Illinois.

The others speakers will be Gov. Horner, who may stress the importance to him of a good general assembly; and Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney. The latter two, it is believed, will dwell more on the situation in Chicago and Cook county.

An overflow crowd was predicted for the meeting on the strength of forecasts of the size of delegations from all wards and from the country town districts.

Urges Party to Boost Fair.

The announcement of the meeting also contained a statement authorized by National Committeeman P. A. Nash, who is in Florida, telling of another subject that will be mentioned at the mass meeting and at future party rallies. This will be an appeal for united support of A Century of Progress this year.

"The World's Fair," said the statement, "put Chicago ahead of practically all cities in the country last year. So we want every Democratic candidate to get out and boost for another big success this year, to urge all workers and members of the party not only to attend the Fair but to write to their relatives and friends inviting them to come to Chicago this summer."

MASSEN PLANS USE FOR CITY'S 'GAS' TAX FUNDS

Two proposed ordinances, providing for an arterial street system of 363 miles in Chicago and a construction and repair program for 22 miles of these streets, were introduced in the city council yesterday by Ald. John A. Massen [48th]. The measures are designed to provide for use of the city's share of the gasoline tax revenue. Ald. Massen explained that the state law requires that gasoline tax money be spent in cities only on arterial streets. The proposed ordinances were referred to the traffic committee. The program must be approved by the Illinois department of public works as well as by the city council before specifications can be drawn, bids asked, and construction begun.

Negro Gets Year in Jail and Fine for Pandering

Calvin Stone, 35 years old, a Negro, was sentenced to serve a year in the county jail and pay a fine of $300 last night after a jury in the Municipal court of Judge J. William Brooks found him guilty of pandering. According to testimony the Negro had forced Miss Margaret Cahill, 20 years old, the sister of a Chicago policeman, to work for him for four years. It was also alleged he had taken earnings of $3,000 from her and forced her to live with him. Stone was arrested several weeks ago during an inquiry into reports that a south side vice ring was selling girls who escaped from the Geneva Home for Wayward Girls.

VINCENT ASTOR OFFERS TO SELL TENEMENTS TO NEW YORK CITY

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Vincent Astor has offered to sell his lower east side tenements to the city at a capital loss of 35 per cent, the buildings to be demolished and the land to be used for the erection of model dwellings, Tenement House Commissioner Langdon W. Post announced today. The buildings have been returning about 3 per cent, Mr. Astor said. Mr. Post asserted the Stuyvesant estate, through Albert Stuyvesant, had offered to cooperate with the department in its drive against violations of the housing law.

Mr. Astor called on Mr. Post to discuss the properties from 29 to 41 and 42 to 56 Avenue A, 106 to 128, 134 and 138 and 157 to 159 East Third street, at 194 and 196 East Fourth street, and 433 to 439 East Sixth street.

Mr. Astor said the task of improvement was beyond the reach of private capital at this time. As to terms of sale, Mr. Astor said, "You can write your own ticket and then we'll talk."

Mr. Astor got the property as a result of the death of his father, John Jacob Astor, in the sinking of the Titanic. The 1934 assessment was about $800,000.

The New York City housing authority, which is to get $25,000,000 from the federal government for housing construction, would be the official body to make the deal with Mr. Astor.

Chicago Maps Welcome for Noted Polish Soldier

Mayor Kelly was directed in a resolution of the city council yesterday to appoint a committee of 15 members to arrange for a reception to Gen. Joseph Haller, noted Polish soldier, when he visits Chicago on his tour of the United States. Gen. Haller is to arrive in New York tomorrow, but the date of his visit to Chicago is not known definitly.

BOARD TO CLEAN POLL BOOKS OF "DEAD" NAMES

Ask Voters to Help Find Ineligibles.

County Judge Jarecki and the board of election commissioners, it was announced yesterday, have completed plans for what they believe will be a record breaking cleansing of the poll books before the primaries of April 10.

Instructions already have been issued to judges and clerks of election warning them of the danger of punishment for contempt of court for failure to perform their duties in this respect. Large card notices appealing for the assistance of all voters were posted in all polling places Tuesday.

Names to Be Posted.

The final preparatory step will be the posting in every precinct polling place of a list of the names carried on its registry lists at the close of revision. This will be mounted on a large card with instructions on the method of effecting the erasure of the names of persons not entitled to vote.

More than usual thoroughness in this work is believed necessary at this time because of the large intermediate registration Tuesday. A total of 291,393 persons registered and the authorities believe a great majority of these were persons who had moved since the last general registration of 1932. There were no registration days in 1933 and the accumulation of removals during an 18 months period is believed to have left an unprecedentedly large number of "dead" names on the registers.

Watch for "Dead" Names.

The posting of the poll lists will enable householders to detect "dead" or "stinger" names registered from their own addresses or from among their neighbors. It is urged that discoveries of this sort be followed by applications to erase the names of the persons not entitled to vote.

Such applications may be made at the election board rooms in the city hall on March 26 or 27. The board requests that after the latter date it be notified of any suspected names detected, saying that attempts to vote under such names will be challenged on primary day.

Dread going out in it?

you may lack good resistance

Does exposure result more seriously for you than for most people? Instead of taking it as a matter of course, do you look upon it as the beginning of an uncomfortable season?

Then now is the time for you to fall in with the modern practice of advance protection. Don't wait until exposure gets the best of you. Start right away to build up your resistance.

Many people find that good resistance is the best defense they can offer against exposure. They do not seem to mind the hazards of this time of year as much when they are in good physical condition.

Squibb Adex tablets are a concentrate of the protective factors in halibut and cod-liver oil with Viosterol. Each tablet contains 1500 units of Vitamin A and 2450 units of Vitamin D.

The only tablet made from three vitamin sources, they have special resistance-building value.

ROOSEVELT HAS NEW INCOME TAX EVASION POLICY

Grand Juries Will Decide on Prosecutions.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—As tomorrow's deadline for filing income returns moved steadily nearer, President Roosevelt today decreed a new income tax procedure designed to break up so-called "negligent" evasion of taxes.

All tax returns which the government suspects of embodying willful evasions will be referred to grand juries for investigation of possible fraud under the new White House policy. This policy, it was learned, caused the grand jury cases started against former Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and others last week.

Far Ahead of Last Year.

While the White House was revealing this new procedure, millions of taxpayers throughout the country were rushing to file their returns before the deadline tomorrow at midnight. Four million returns from individuals alone are expected.

Early returns and taxes paid on them continue to run far ahead of those filed in the same period last year. During the first 12 days of March this year the treasury has collected 33 million dollars from early returns compared with 10 millions in the same days a year ago.

Calls It Safer Method.

President Roosevelt's new ruling on the income tax in effect takes out of the hands of the justice department or internal revenue officials the question of deciding whether a tax evasion was willful or negligent and whether the taxpayer should be prosecuted for fraud because of the evasion.

The President is represented as feeling that removal of this decision from the hands of single officials, who are open to temptations, especially on large cases, is a beneficial move. He feels, it is said, that the more safe and legal method is to let a grand jury decide such questions of fraud on the same grounds as other allegations.

Hundreds of cases are already on their way to grand juries for investigation, according to reports. The cases against Andrew Mellon, James Walker, former mayor of New York; Thomas S. Lamont, Morgan partner, and Thomas L. Sidlo, Cleveland lawyer, were announced publicly because Washington feared their existence would leak out locally anyway.

Aimed at Large Taxpayer.

President Roosevelt is said to be particularly interested in preventing large taxpayers from taking illegal deductions and then, when discovered, escaping fraud prosecutions by saying that they merely followed advice of counsel. Grand juries will be asked to determine whether such cases were willful or merely negligent acceptance of advice.

The right of claiming that he was misled by his lawyers is a standing invitation to any large taxpayer to take a questionable deduction and then ward off any criminal prosecution with the excuse that he was erroneously informed, according to the views ascribed to the President.

Surrenders to U. S.

JACOB FINKELSTEIN.

Jacob R. Finkelstein, a promoter, who was named Tuesday in a criminal information charging failure to file an income tax return in 1930, when his income amounted to $98,753.46, appeared at the United States court house yesterday with his attorney, Benjamin Landis. Finkelstein was released in bond of $3,000, which Judge Philip L. Sullivan had reduced from $5,000. Attorney Landis declared that evidence would show that Finkelstein's losses in 1930 exceeded his income. Finkelstein, who lives at the Congress hotel, is an official of the American Reduction corporation, 105 West Adams street.

THOUSANDS JAM INCOME OFFICE; TIME UP TONIGHT

77,000 Total Thus Far; Some Pay 1 Cent.

The last minute rush of income tax payers was in full swing yesterday, throngs pushing their way into the United States court building to make good their obligations to the government. An even more intensive crush is anticipated today, as many thousands must file their returns to avoid penalties which will be applied after the midnight deadline.

Late yesterday afternoon, it was announced, a total of 77,000 returns had been received in the offices of Collector of Internal Revenue Carter H. Harrison. At the corresponding time in March, 1933, a total of 84,800 had been received.

Mail Returns Unchecked.

It was said, however, that the number of returns this year was not strictly comparable thus far, as many sent in by mail had not yet been counted.

Under the rules of the department of internal revenue all filings sent through the mails must be postmarked not later than midnight tonight, otherwise the penalty provisions are applicable.

Many payments were small, several of only 1 cent having been accepted. The largest single payment yesterday was $109,282.89, representing only one-fourth of the total amount due. The collector's office did not specify whether it came from an individual or a corporation. If from an individual it would represent a 1933 income of something more than $1,000,000.

Sales Tax Deductions.

Considerable confusion concerning the possibilities of deducting the Illinois sales tax from income taxable by the federal government has arisen this year. Officials of the bureau of internal revenue have held individuals may not deduct their sales tax payments on the theory the tax is levied on the retailer and not on the customer.

Persons who have not filed their returns yet may find assistance at the public service offices of THE TRIBUNE, 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower.

WATCHMAN IS DROWNED.

Harrisburg, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—M. Saxhaug, 37, of Forbes, Minn., was drowned early today in the Ohio river at Elizabethtown. He was a watchman on the barges of the Congress Construction company of Chicago, and is believed to have fallen between two barges.

W. J. CUMMINGS NEW DEMOCRATIC FINANCE CHIEF

Chicago Banker Takes Treasurer Post.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Walter J. Cummings, chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, was today appointed treasurer of the Democratic party.

This announcement, made by Postmaster General James A. Farley, who is also chairman of the Democratic national committee, followed a conference last night between Farley, Cummings, Frank C. Walker, the retiring treasurer, and John S. Cohen, Atlanta publisher, who had previously rejected the treasurer post.

Inherits Half Million Deficit.

Taking over the direction of Democratic finances, Mr. Cummings inherits a party deficit amounting, according to the last reports, to more than a half a million dollars. The party's cash balance is down to less than $18,000, its latest statement showed.

Mr. Cummings' first task will be the raising of funds with which to help along the election of Democratic senators and congressmen this fall. Supposedly he will also raise the money for the next presidential campaign.

A new finance force will be set up within the party following Mr. Cummings' appointment, according to Mr. Farley's announcement today.

Farley Is Elated.

"Mr. Cummings will return to Washington within a week," the postmaster general said, "and after his return a new finance chairman and a new finance committee will be appointed which, with Mr. Cummings, will formulate plans for raising the necessary funds to wipe out the party's deficit and carry on the work of the party.

"I feel that the party is very fortunate in securing for committee treasurer a man of such outstanding prominence and ability as Mr. Cummings. He has been a lifelong Democrat, but has never been active in politics."

An industrial and traction owner in the Chicago area, Mr. Cummings was brought to the treasury department by former Secretary William H. Woodin during the banking crisis. He remained to become head of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation, but resigned from that post when, through the intervention of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, he was elected chairman of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company of Chicago in January.

LAST TAX BILLS MAILED; DEADLINE EXTENSION ASKED

McDonough Seeks Suit for Penalty April 15.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday, including those for 1933, were $874,178, making a total of $113,588,563 collected since enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act began on April 28, 1933. The day's collection of real estate taxes and the uncollected taxes for four years follow:

	1928.	1929.
March 14 ..... $	7,273	$ 49,132
Uncollected	14,947,893	40,190,785
	1930.	1931.
March 14 ..... $	59,179	$ 83,145
Uncollected	63,690,438	60,613,126

The day's collection of 1932 real estate taxes totaled $650,826; of 1931 personal property taxes, $4,171, and of 1932 personal property taxes $64,914.

With the last of the 1932 tax bills placed in the mail yesterday County Treasurer Joseph B. McDonough began negotiations to have courts set the deadline date for payment of the bills as April 15. After that date the customary penalty of one per cent per month will be added to the bills of all delinquent taxpayers.

Legally the penalty date has already passed. It was set as March 1 by the legislature. If the strict letter of the law were to be obeyed those taxpayers who received their bills after that date would have to pay a one per cent penalty even though they might pay on the day they got their bills.

Asks for Suit.

To forestall this penalty on those who received their bills late and to give other taxpayers time to meet their bills the treasurer entered into negotiations with the Chicago Real Estate board. He asked that they bring a suit for an injunction against him to extend the penalty date.

Attorneys for the board told Attorney Thomas D. Nash, representing the treasurer, they were already contemplating such action. A similar action, brought last year, brought a court order holding the penalty date for 1931 taxes could not be fixed until 30 days after the last tax bills had been mailed.

File Action Soon.

The suit is to be filed within a few days, it was said. If the precedent of last year is followed the deadline date will be set automatically as April 15, Attorney Nash said.

The total tax bill for 1932, according to the estimate of officials, will be about $218,000,000, or about $45,000,000 less than the 1931 total of $263,786,604. The 1932 total cannot be determined until railroad taxes have been compiled. This will be done within two weeks. In 1931 these taxes totaled $13,049,507. It was estimated that the 1932 railroad total will be about $1,000,000 less than the 1931 taxes.

In 1930, the peak year for tax extentions, the total bill was $290,284,505, including railroad taxes of approximately $15,000,000.

BEG YOUR PARDON

The 1932 tax extension of the Ridge Park district was listed as $129,284 in a news item Sunday concerning the taxes of the small park districts. The figure should have been $84,285. The incorrect figure was inadvertently reported to the citizens committee on public expenditures.

U. S. Liquor Levy Is Not Deductible on Income Tax

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—The federal tax of 32½ cents a pint on liquor is not deductible by the consumer for income tax purposes, it was learned today at the internal revenue bureau. Asked if purchasers could use the tax for exemptions on purchases made between Dec. 6 and Dec. 31, 1933, the bureau explained that the tax is deductible only by the person who pays it in the first instance—the manufacturer, rectifier, wholesaler, or retailer.

CHICAGOAN TO BE FREED BY JURY IN BOND FRAUD CASE

San Antonio, Tex., March 14.—(AP)—Sol Stern of Chicago, one of six defendants on trial here on charges of disposing of $546,000 worth of allegedly stolen bonds, held out for a verdict of not guilty when the government offered to dismiss the case against him late today.

Judge R. W. McLlian overruled motions of defense attorneys for an instructed verdict for Z. D. Bonner, president of Commercial National bank; John H. Cunningham, formerly one of the bank's attorneys; June B. Morrow and Jimmie Dalze, alias Jimmie De Grassi. Harry N. Royster, sixth defendent, entered a plea of nolle contendere.

W. R. Smith Jr., United States district attorney, then offered to dismiss the case against Stern or to agree to the court charging the jury to find Stern not guilty. Stern said he preferred the latter.

Stern was philosophical about his ultimate release, recalling that he is charged in an indictment in Chicago in connection with the disposition of bonds stolen there.

"First they kiss you, then they might kill you. You never can tell. It sure does take money to run around the country being tried," he said.

SMASH EVANSTON SHOP WINDOW.

Ludwig P. Danielson, operator of a barber shop and beauty parlor at 1409 Chicago avenue, Evanston, reported yesterday to police that vandals had tossed a brick through the plate glass window of his place. He said he knew of no motive for the attack.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

ALDERMEN DEFY COURT AND CUT PAY OF JUDGES

Councilmen Face Sentence for Contempt.

An appropriation bill of $117,792,489 for 1934, in which are combined the budgets of nineteen city funds, was approved yesterday by the city council without a dissenting vote. Before the vote was taken the aldermen were served notice that their action might result in sentences for contempt of court and a period of incarceration in jail for each.

The possibility of contempt citations arises from the council's disregard of injunctions issued by Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan ordering an appropriation of more than $600,000 to compensate the judges and employés of the Municipal court for salary deductions made during 1932 and 1933 as a result of the city economy plan. One injunction applied also to the salaries of the aldermen and city department heads, but the councilmen agreed not to accept the additional remuneration for themselves and refused to appropriate it for the court.

Order Pay Cut in 1934.

The aldermen also disregarded orders of Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby and a majority of his associates on the Municipal court bench to pay full salaries to the judges and court employés during the current year. The order would have given the court an appropriation of $2,505,671, an increase of $521,482 over last year. Instead the aldermen decreed a pay cut of 52 days for the judges and court employés for 1934.

Under the new budget the aldermen are taking a 78 days' pay reduction, the same as all other city employés, with the exception of the police and firemen, whose cut is for 52 days' pay. While there was no debate yesterday on the orders of Judge Sullivan and Judge Sonsteby, the aldermen privately reiterated assertions made in the finance committee that they would rather go to jail than decrease appropriations for essential public services by over 1 million dollars, as they would have to do to satisfy the court orders.

The aldermen did, however, compliment the action of Municipal Judge Robert J. Dunne. In a letter to the council Judge Dunne, son of Edward F. Dunne, former mayor and governor, stated that he would accept a 52 days' reduction in his $10,000 annual salary for 1934. Reading of the letter was greeted with applause.

Five Million Less than 1933.

The appropriation bill of $117,792,489 is $5,019,520 less than last year's despite the fact that the current measure includes a new appropriation of 5 million dollars from the city's share of the state gasoline tax fund. The major fund in the group of nineteen is the corporate budget of approximately $44,075,000, which provides for fire, police, health, and street and alley cleaning activities.

Appropriations from the corporate fund are some $3,800,000 less than for 1933 and would have been considerably less had there not been a salvage of about $3,500,000 in last year's budget on the orders of Mayor Kelly. This year the aldermen have cut into supply and material accounts, laid off about 900 employés, and halted automatic salary increases.

The department of public welfare, which duplicated services of charitable organizations, was abolished, saving $21,265. The appropriation of the board of local improvements, which for several years has had no special assessment work, was reduced from $711,761 in 1933 to $353,387 for this year. Some of the board's employés were transferred, however, to the city vehicle tax and motor fuel tax budgets.

No provision was made in the budget for 24 police lieutenants who gained promotion recently by means of a court order, the council appropriating only for 127 lieutenants, the number in service before the 24 were promoted. Those left out will go on the reinstatement eligibility list. An item of $40,500 to reward policemen for meritorious service was left in.

The sum of $40,000 for investigators was added to the appropriation for motion picture censors. The investigators will check alleged evasions of censorship orders. While debating this matter there were calls from spectators in the council galleries that they could not hear. The aldermen obligingly inserted an appropriation of $10,000 to improve the acoustics of the chamber.

Stage Is Set for Showdown on State School Bills Today

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—The stage was set today for a showdown on the administration's school legislative program tomorrow morning. The bills to be voted upon provide for a partial diversion of the gas tax, amounting to $10,000,000, to the state fund for distribution to the school districts on a per pupil basis.

In the senate late in the afternoon a roll call on the Schnackenberg-Swanson bill for diversion of the state's liquor taxes to the schools was postponed after several senators explained that the gas-tax-for-schools measures were ready for a vote in the lower house tomorrow.

Call Halt to Proceedings.

Senator James O. Monroe [Dem., Collinsville], who had asked for the roll call, called a halt to the proceedings after a conference with Richey V. Graham [Dem., Chicago], president pro tem. of the senate. In the lower house various amendments had been adopted for the bills, which embody the plan agreed upon by Gov. Horner and Mayor Kelly. The gas tax diversion scheme was decided upon at a conference in the governor's office yesterday. Teachers' organizations from Chicago and downstate are urging its passage.

It was estimated that approximately $10,000,000 will be added to the school fund, by the plan, for a total of $20,500,000. Of this sum Chicago will receive an estimated $6,500,000.

In addition, one provision, adopted on the initiative of Mayor Kelly, would divert a third of Chicago's share of the gas tax directly to the public school system for another $1,000,000. The revenue thus obtained would add up to $7,560,000, or the equivalent of two months' salaries for Chicago teachers and other employés.

Count on Back Taxes.

Director of Finance K. L. Ames Jr. has estimated that back taxes would be collected during the year to pay out $4,000,000 of the $12,000,000 in arrears for prior years in the state school fund. Chicago would get about $1,280,000 of these overdue payments.

Democratic leaders were of the opinion that the administration's school legislation would pass both houses.

They pointed out that with the April 10 primaries in the offing it would be poor politics for either the Republicans or Democrats to oppose the school bills.

The four bills embodying the program that was agreed upon at the governor's conference yesterday were sent to third reading after the adoption of amendments and will be ready for a roll call tomorrow. Speaker Arthur Roe [Dem., Vandalia] announced that the bills would be called early for consideration.

Boyle Offers Amendments.

The amendments were offered by Representative James P. Boyle [Dem., Chicago]. One changed the Sinnett bill to provide that a third of each motor fuel tax cent going to the state, cities, and counties would be diverted to the common school fund. Another provided for an additional third of a cent of Chicago's share of the tax to go directly to the school board.

Boyle's bill providing an appropriation of $2,800,000 to be distributed to high school districts throughout the state was also amended. To this amount $7,200,000 was added, thus making up the $10,000,000 appropriation which is to be financed by the gas tax diversion, according to the plan.

DIVERSION OF GAS TAX FOR SCHOOLS OPPOSED BY C. A. C.

Opposition to the diversion of Illinois gasoline tax funds for the financing of schools was voiced yesterday by George W. Young, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, in a message to Gov. Horner. At the same time Carl A. Barrett, president of the Illinois Automobile club, sent a message to the governor favoring the plan.

Mr. Young said the Association of Commerce opposes the plan on the theory it involves class legislation, one group of taxpayers being forced to bear extra taxation for school maintenance and emergency relief.

"The large majority of motorists in the state are fathers and mothers and the welfare of their children come first," said Mr. Barrett's wire.

Move to Prevent Chance of Override.

BY PERCY WOOD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—Friends of Gov. Horner moved today to clear the way for his expected veto of the Devine bill which would permit open and unrestricted sale of beer over bars.

Senator Louis O. Williams [Dem., Clinton], who engineered the liquor control law through the general assembly, prepared a resolution calling for sine die adjournment of the second special session, which passed a law for the regulation of intoxicants.

Although the control law went into effect on January 31, the second session was kept open in case any emergency legislation would become necessary. It has been running concurrently with the present, or third, session.

Would Prevent Override.

The Devine bill completed its legislative course last Wednesday. If Williams presents his resolution and it is passed, the governor could veto the bill and neither house could pass it over his veto, because the power to legislate on liquor laws would pass with final adjournment of the second session.

Gov. Horner issued a statement criticizing the Devine bill when it passed the house. He regarded it as opening the way for the return of all the so-called evils of the oldtime saloon. Nevertheless, the bill passed the senate and there has been much talk that if the governor vetoes it moves would be made to pass it over the veto.

Since the measure received 116 votes in the house and 38 in the senate, if the members stuck to their original position the veto could be overridden.

Denies Horner's Idea.

Williams' resolution became known tonight. He denied that the governor had asked him to introduce it. Whether it will be presented at all was problematical. Many members said they would fight it and the senator was uncertain as to what action he would take.

Offered an opportunity to pass the Powers "imitation" whisky bill, the senate shied away today and postponed the matter until tomorrow. This measure would force distillers to label as "imitation" all whisky, which did not contain 75 per cent of liquor aged four years in oak.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ENDS PORTO RICAN VISIT; HOPS FOR U. S. TODAY

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, March 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who will return to the United States tomorrow by airplane, reviewed the reserve officers training corps of the University of Porto Rico today. The cadets and co-eds of the university cheered the first lady of the United States wildly at the campus where she reviewed the parade.

During the day she went shopping, spoke to a group of Girl Scouts, and inspected the School of Tropical Medicine where she talked with research workers in the field of hookworm and tuberculosis. She also visited the convent of the Sisters of Notre Dame where she received a huge consignment of needlework which she arranged to purchase last Saturday.

It included gifts from the girl workers and the sisters to the presidential family. The sister superior said handkerchiefs for the President were embroidered at the same table at which a vestment was being made for Pope Pius XI.

LINCOLN PARK'S POLICE REFUSED INCREASE IN PAY

Lincoln park policemen petitioned the park commissioners yesterday for a restoration of the salary they received prior to the 10 per cent reduction of two years ago, when they were paid $200 a month. President A. D. Plamondon said the board could not afford to increase the pay at this time. The park policemen, through Policeman E. L. Ottiger, also asked a summer vacation instead of one in the winter, a 6 hour day for crossing policemen, full pay when sick and legal representation when they need it. The board decided against anything that would increase park expenses.

LIQUOR LICENSE APPLICATIONS TO BE PUBLISHED

The city council yesterday adopted an amendment to the liquor ordinance which requires the publication of all applications for licenses in the city. The amendment provides that applications be published in a newspaper of general circulation for three days, the cost to be borne by the applicant. It also provides citizens shall be given five days in which to protest, if they have objections to issuance of the license. Mayor Kelly, who sponsored the measure, spoke for its adoption after it was presented by Ald. Terence F. Moran [16th], chairman of the council committee on licenses.

URGES 5 CENT BEER AS BLOW TO OLD TIME SALOON

Brewery Expert Predicts Revenue Increase, Too.

Promotion of temperance through a 5 cent glass of 4 per cent beer was urged yesterday in a statement made public by Max Henius of the Wahl-Henius Institute of Brewing.

By reducing taxes to allow the sale of 4 per cent beer at 5 cents a glass and 10 cents a bottle, Mr. Henius said, the law makers of the country could increase revenue, promote temperance, and strike a telling blow to the "old time saloon."

Will Cut Whisky Sales.

"It is an old experience that where beer and natural wines have been freely used, whisky consumption has receded," Mr. Henius said. "Jefferson said that no nation is drunken where wine is cheap.

"Four per cent beer is all that good beer should be. In order to satisfy the public taste, it must be made in a skillful manner. It possesses all the properties of taste, aroma, and body. Its refreshing effect is greater than other beverages, yet it is not intoxicating.

"When beer was legalized, a federal tax of $5 a barrel was imposed. State and local governments hastened to put on additional taxes and licenses. Therefore the 5 cent beer has not returned and the revenue is below expectations. The people have a right to 5 cent beer and the government needs the revenue."

Pointing out that he had fought the saloon as a menace to temperance before prohibition, Mr. Henius said that the worst feature of the saloon is the drinking bar.

Assails Bar Feature.

"It was an invitation to quick drinking. Such drinking, in turn, was an invitation to the use of distilled liquor to feel the immediate effects. It was a public place where people crowded together. One would invite several others to have a quick drink, then one of those invited would return the compliment. Then another, and so on. As a result several drinks would be taken where one or two would have been sufficient.

"To drink a glass or two of beer, it is more natural to sit down in comfort at a table. One drinks in leisurely fashion in a certain degree of privacy. If there is a party of several people, the table becomes a private affair. A glass of beer is not gulped down, it is sipped. There is no urge to feel the flow of fire throughout the body as at the bar."

ORDER NATIONAL ANTHEM SUNG IN SCHOOLS DAILY

Chicago's public school children hereafter will begin the school day by singing "The Star Spangled Banner," in accordance with a resolution adopted by the board of education yesterday. The resolution was introduced by Trustee Joseph P. Savage. The resolution, in addition to ordering that all school sessions be opened with the singing of the anthem, directs that the children be taught other patriotic songs, which have been printed in a pamphlet issued by the school board.

Quicker Relief Now From Pain

There is now a quicker way to ease pain. A way that often brings relief from even a severe headache or neuritis in a few minutes. Millions are now employing it—the fastest safe relief, it is said, ever known for pain.

Those results are due to a scientific discovery by which a Bayer Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence, to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glasses, above, tell the story. A Bayer Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And thus is ready to go to work almost instantly. This unique Bayer discovery means quick relief from pain for you and yours. Fewer lost hours from headache, neuralgia or the pains of rheumatism. And safe relief—for Genuine Bayer Aspirin does not harm the heart.

When you buy, though, see that you get the GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN. The best way is never ask for aspirin by the name "aspirin" alone. But if you want Bayer Aspirin's quick relief always say "BAYER ASPIRIN."

Gains 7 Pounds In 5 Days . . . and Wins Back Healthy Appetite!

WHY BE SKINNY?

Read How New Mineral Concentrate Richest in Newer Form of "FOOD IODINE" Is Building Up Thousands of Nervous, Skinny, Rundown Folks Where All Else Fails.

"Gained 7 pounds with one package of Kelp-a-Malt and feel 100% better."—Mrs. W. J. S. . . . "It will be a week this noon since I began using Kelp-a-Malt and I have gained 5 pounds and feel much better."—T. W. H. . . . "Gained 5 pounds the first package. Am very much pleased."—D. E. G. . . . "Had stomach trouble for years. When I take Kelp-a-Malt I have a hearty appetite for everything and suffer no distress. Kelp-a-Malt has banished constipation, which I have had all my life."—W. D. C.

Just a few of the thousands of actual reports that are flooding in from all over the country telling us how this newer form of food iodine is building firm flesh, strengthening the nerves, enriching the blood—nourishing vital glands and making weak, pale, careworn, underweight men and women look and feel years younger.

Scientists have recently discovered that the blood, liver and vital glands of the body contain definite quantities of iodine which heretofore has been difficult to obtain. Modern foodstuffs, even fresh vegetables and similarly so-called "good" foods have recently been discovered to be lacking not only in food iodine but in all the other essential organic minerals without which strength and health are impossible.

Supplies Newer Form of Food Iodine.

Kelp-a-Malt, only recently discovered, contains practically every mineral essential to normal well being. But most important of all, it is the richest known source of the newer form of food iodine—natural iodine not made from iodides or other chemicals which oftentimes prove toxic, but the same iodine that is present in small quantities in spinach and lettuce. It is the lack of this iodine which experts in nutrition say is our foremost national health problem. Kelp-a-Malt is a sea vegetable concentrate taken from the Pacific Ocean and made available in palatable, pleasant-to-take tablet form. Six Kelp-a-Malt tablets provide more food iodine than 486 pounds of spinach, 1,600 pounds of beef, 1,387 pounds of lettuce. Three Kelp-a-Malt tablets contain more iron and copper for rich blood, vitality and strength than a pound of spinach, 7½ pounds of fresh tomatoes—more calcium than 6 eggs, more phosphorus than a pound and a half of carrots—sulphur, sodium, potassium and other essential minerals.

Only when you get an adequate amount of these minerals can your food do you any good—can you nourish glands, add weight, strengthen your nerves, increase your vigor, vitality and endurance.

Try Kelp-a-Malt today. Contains no yeast—doesn't cause bloating. Two weeks are required to effect a change in the mineralization of the body. At the end of that time, if you have not gained at least 5 pounds, do not look better, feel better and have more endurance than ever before, the trial is free. 100 jumbo size tablets which are 4 to 5 times larger than ordinary size tablets cost but little. Get Kelp-a-Malt today.

CITY BURNS, 150 DIE IN SALVADOR DYNAMITE BLAST

Explosion and Fire Razes 4 Blocks of Buildings.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, March 14.—(AP)—Approximately 150 persons were killed when an explosion of many cases of dynamite almost destroyed the port of La Libertad today.

Following the terrific explosion, which occurred at the docks, nearby buildings caught fire and four blocks were quickly consumed by the flames. Buildings destroyed included the city hall and a church.

In addition to the 150 believed dead, many persons were reported seriously injured. Hundreds of automobiles were rushed from the capital to the stricken city to bring the victims to hospitals here.

Flames Spread Rapidly.

Hours after the explosion, the main part of the city was still in flames. The fire was spreading so rapidly, reports said, that it was feared the entire city may be lost.

The dynamite was being unloaded from a ship when it exploded in a cellar and caught fire. Officials believe that the blast was caused by sparks from a locomotive.

Among those killed were many officials, including four customs agents.

Firemen Sent from Capital.

Scores of firemen were sent from the capital as soon as the first reports were received, and hundreds more left soon afterward. Automobiles and all trucks available were pressed into service to rush Red Cross workers and national guardsmen to the port.

Communications with La Libertad were temporarily disrupted by the explosion, which could be heard here, about 30 miles away. La Libertad is the most important port of entry for the capital. A modern asphalt highway links San Salvador with the port, which has a population of about 5,000.

TRUCK CRUSHES CHILD, 3, TO DEATH IN STREET

Mary Donley, 3 years old, 7934 South Union avenue, was fatally crushed yesterday when she was run over in front of her home by a truck as she ran across the street. She died en route to the Auburn Park hospital. The driver, Jefferson Ludwig, 30 years old, of Orland Park, was held by the Gresham police for the inquest. The truck belonged to the Capitol Dairy company, 4326 South Wabash avenue.

Mrs. Julia McGrath, 69 years old, 4439 West Monroe street, was killed last night when she was struck by an automobile at Washington boulevard and Kostner avenue. The driver, Vincent Larson, 19, 1509 Warren boulevard, was held by Fillmore police pending an inquest today.

These three deaths raised the 1934 Cook county motor toll to 244.

Adam Suchocki, 54 years old, 1616 West 17th street, was struck and fatally injured early today at 17th street and Ashland avenue by an automobile, the driver of which failed to stop.

Suchocki, for many years an attendant at the county morgue, had left his work only a few minutes before the accident. He was taken to the county hospital, where he died, and his body was then taken to the morgue.

Wife Charges Policeman Used 3d Degree on Her

Policeman Jacob Cramer of the Cottage Grove avenue station is ambitious to be a detective and practices the third degree upon his wife, Mrs. Edna Cramer, 5350 South Richmond street, according to a bill for separate maintenance filed yesterday in the Circuit court by Attorney Victor Frohlich, the wife's counsel. On several occasions, the bill charged, Cramer handcuffed his wife, kicked and choked her and put the stock question: "So, you won't talk, huh?"

LIFE IN PRISON FOR FATHER WHO KILLED THREE

JOHN PIETROWSKI.

John Pietrowski, 25 years old, who killed his wife and two children to obtain $600 in insurance in order that he might start a chicken farm, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday after he pleaded guilty before Judge Grover C. Niemeyer.

Pietrowski took time off a CWA job on which he was employed on Jan. 3 and killed his family in their home at 5019 North Melvina avenue. His wife, Anna, 23 years old, died Jan. 5 from the effects of a beating. Betty Ann, 3 years old, was killed by a blow on the head, and Johnny, 10 months old, was drowned in a bathtub.

The defendant giggled throughout the hearing. After the plea of guilty had been entered Judge Niemeyer asked Assistant State's Attorneys Harold Ward and Frank Righeimer if they had any recommendation as to the sentence.

"None," Ward told him: "the sentence is the responsibility of the court."

Judge Niemeyer sentenced Pietrowski to life imprisonment on each of three charges, the sentences to run concurrently.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Albert Bustice, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Chester Barrows, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Tony Cascio, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

John Lambries, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Walter P. Steffen.

John Pietrowski, murder, sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary by Judge Grover C. Niemeyer.

Walter Stanger, attempted robbery, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary; Michael Cabovic, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Charles Lamen, burglary, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary by Judge Francis B. Allegretti.

EXTRA! DANVILLE BOYS WIN PAPER SELLING CONTEST

A team composed of Dick Wood and Louis Brant, boy carriers for the Danville Commercial News, were judged the winners of the newspaper selling contest held yesterday in connection with the convention of Central States Circulation Managers at the Stevens hotel.

Three other teams of carriers from De Kalb, Rockford, and Milwaukee competed in the event. The two winners will go to New York in June for the International Circulation Managers' contest.

The circulation managers of 75 newspapers in nine central western states closed their convention yesterday with the expressed conviction that service as a newspaper carrier is valuable physical and educational training for a boy. The delegates were reported to have agreed unanimously that any federal child labor statute should make provision for employment of boys on newspaper delivery routes.

South Side School Tract Is Sold for $133,684

The board of education yesterday authorized Howard P. Savage, school business manager, to complete the sale of a tract of school property at West Ninety-first and South Throop streets to the Ridge Park district for $100,000 in cash and $33,684.50 in 1931 and 1932 Park district tax anticipation warrants. The property will be used as a playground.

CUBAN PRESIDENT TO PUT 352,626 IDLE ON FARMS

Reveals His Plan to Avert New Revolution.

BY GUSTAVO RENO.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, March 14.—Admitting that his government must find work for 352,626 registered unemployed or face revolution, President Carlos Mendieta outlined tonight in an interview an emergency reconstruction program.

Under this program, Mendieta said, immense tracts of government owned land will be broken up into small farms of from 15 to 35 acres and distributed among the unemployed at a small cost. Purchasing options would provide for payments in from 10 to 25 years, without interest.

Rural properties, valued at $25,000,000, confiscated from former President Gerardo Machado and his relatives and supporters are to be distributed under the same plan, the president said.

Sees City Congestion Relieved.

Mendieta expressed confidence that the distribution will relieve congestion in the cities. The 4,000,000 people now in the cities, without the slightest opportunity to find work, can now return to the uncrowded interior, he pointed out.

Each farmer will be given standard farming equipment, including a plow and harrows, one yoke of oxen, two horses, two cows and several pigs and other animals. In addition he will get fruit, coffee and cocoa trees, as well as vegetable and grain seeds.

Expert advice from government agricultural engineers is now available free through the department of agriculture, Mendieta explained.

Will Give Financial Aid, Too.

The government will give financial aid through the National Farmers' Loan and Credit bank, now being organized by Secretary of Agriculture Rionda, the president said. It will advance up to $1,000 annually to each farmer purchasing on instalment or for cash the government distributed lands.

Immigration will be immediately restricted under the plan, Mendieta continued, with all countries except the United States being allotted yearly quotas. Preference will be accorded farmers from southern France, Spain, Italy, and Germany. Italians, whom President Mendieta regards as most closely resembling Cubans, will be given especial consideration.

Drastic restrictions will be enforced against all laborers except farmers. Mendieta said he has practically decided to prohibit for five years immigration from countries governed by Socialist or bolshevik doctrines.

Hopes to Bar Agitators.

The president hopes these restrictions will avert a further influx of professional agitators and trouble makers. He regards such persons as responsible for the recent nation-wide strikes and disorders.

It is also proposed to mint $20,000,000 into Cuban silver pesos through a Washington loan just agreed on by Secretary of the Treasury Martinez Saenz and officials of the new United States export-import bank.

About $20,000,000 worth of Cuban paper money is scheduled for issuance to enable the government to pay salaries, pensions, and debts now in arrears. In addition it will allow inauguration of a public works program.

Argentine Packing Plants Ask Day and Night Shifts

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 14.—The newspaper La Razon states that all packing plants today asked government authorization to work day and night shifts to fill orders for canned meats. It is learned that the Swift and Armour plants sought permission for the extended shifts in order to fill urgent orders from Japan.

Bolivian Cabinet Quits After Weeks in Dissension

LA PAZ, Bolivia, March 14.—(AP)—The complete cabinet of Bolivia resigned today, giving President Salamanca the privilege of organizing a new ministry. Rumors of dissension in the Bolivian government, engaged in a war with Paraguay for supremacy in the Chaco Boreal territory, have circulated for some weeks.

Buffalo Caught, But His Mate Runs Into Post and Is Killed

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

Tony, until yesterday the buffalo monarch of 40 acres of Cook county forest preserves, departed yesterday for new pasture lands in Wisconsin, where he will be no expense to Cook county.

Scheduled to go with him was the meek little buffalo cow, Eloise. Tony departed alone, however. Frightened at seeing her protector made helpless by a lasso and ropes, Eloise was not her usual docile self when a cowboy rode after her. When finally the rope was around her she tossed her head wildly and broke her neck by striking a metal fence post, dying at once.

So Tony Goes Alone.

Last night Tony jolted along, crated in the rear of a truck, headed for Mercer, Wis. There he will have his fare of oats, bran, hay, corn and salt at no expense to taxpayers on the summer estate of Charles Lindquist of Argo, the estate formerly owned by the late Charles Comiskey. Lindquist offered to pay the moving expenses of Tony and Eloise and take them off the county's hands.

Movie and newspaper cameras were on hand to record the passing of buffalo in Cook county. Everything was set for a gala farewell to powerful Tony and his mild little mate.

More than two hours were spent in capturing Tony. He and the little buffalo cow had been lured previously into a fenced-in inclosure about 75 by 100 feet.

Breaks Three Ropes.

Tommy O'Neil, cowboy from the stockyards, sat on a fence post and swung his lasso at Tony who, unsuspecting, stood still while it was hung around his neck, drawn tight and attached to a fence post. Then Tony bounded away and broke the rope. He did this three times. He was finally captured when George Cassidy drove his forest preserve tractor into the inclousure, chased Tony over to the cowboy on the fence, who got a rope around his neck and another around one leg.

Eloise, puzzled, came over to her master and licked him with her tongue. Then O'Neil rode his horse after her swinging his rope. She darted away, shook her head, danced, and after repeatedly going back to Tony to see if she could help him, she was lassoed and accidentally killed when she crashed against the fence.

A third buffalo, the last in the county, will be trucked to the Lake Delton, Wis., farm of Edward Reilly of Berwyn, within a few days.

FINE EDITOR $25 FOR CONTEMPT OF KENTUCKY HOUSE

They'll Have to Sue to Collect That.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—(AP)—The Kentucky house today voted to fine Vance Armentrout, Louisville editor, $25 and costs for refusing to reveal the name of the writer of an article in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

The committee that tried him reported to the house it was recommending a small fine in deference to the editor's scruples against breaking a confidence. The house voted 65 to 20 to sustain the committee.

Called Much About Nothing.

During the debate, Representative James B. Milliken of Newport said, "There are two questions before us—whether to sustain the house committee or to punish a man for not violating his newspaper ethics. It is our duty to sustain the committee, but all of this is much ado about nothing."

"I feel like shouting 'Hurrah for Armentrout,'" said Representative Ralph Gilbert of Shelby county, but added that did not relieve Armentrout of a transgression of the house rules. Representative Henry Ward of Paducah, a newspaper man, said "not a single newspaper man in Kentucky would have acted differently from Mr. Armentrout."

Armentrout went to jail last week rather than tell the lobby investigating committee the name of the writer of the "Psalm of Politics," which the trial committee held reflected upon the integrity of the speaker and the members of the house. He was released on habeas corpus after an hour behind the bars.

Writer Called Cowardly.

Representative Fred A. Gnau of Louisville, chairman of the special trial committee, in opening that hearing said the member of the general assembly who wrote the article was "cowardly" in not acknowledging it.

The trial committee reported it had no alternative under the law but to fine the newspaper man guilty of contempt, but that it recognized scruples against violating newspaper ethics by breaking a confidence.

Armentrout, acting editor of the Courier-Journal during the illness of Harrison Robertson, the editor, refused to name the writer, who signed himself "A Member of the House of Representatives," and was tried Monday night by the special committee under a statute making contempt a misdemeanor punishable with a maximum of six months in jail and $1,000 fine. There was a constitutional question, however, as to whether the house could keep him in jail after its adjournment, set for tomorrow night.

Counsel for Armentrout said in Louisville today the only way the fine could be collected would be for the attorney general to file suit. Armentrout's attorneys indicated that would be fought in the courts.

HITLERITES MAY BAR LOVE IN MARRIAGE IN FAVOR OF EUGENICS

MUNICH, Germany, March 14.—(AP)—Nazi eugenics experts may soon take over supervision of marriages in Germany, Dr. Arthur Guett indicated tonight at a meeting of the party's public health council. He said reform of marriage laws was necessary in order to "save the German people from racial extinction."

Dr. Guett announced that "kinship" offices are being contemplated as substitutes for the regular marriage registry offices. Such offices would pass judgment on the physical compatibility of couples seeking permission to marry. The offices would make a study of the family trees of the applicants for certificates.

Orders Family Trees Listed.

DRESDEN, Germany, March 14.—(AP)—Following closely on the statement of Dr. Arthur Guett in Munich, the minister of interior of Saxony tonight ordered that family trees be listed for every person in the state.

FRANCE, BRITAIN OPEN TALKS FOR NEW TRADE PACT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 14.—Discussions were begun today between French and British delegations for a new commercial treaty between France and Great Britain designed to avoid a trade war.

The French delegation was headed by Lucien Lamoureux, minister of commerce. The British delegation was headed by Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade.

The strained Franco-British situation is due to the denunciation of the old treaty which gave Britain most favored nation treatment following the French adoption of a system of quotas for imports. The quota system was accepted by Britain, but subsequently quotas were cut 75 per cent in several classifications. Then the French offered to restore these cuts in return for increased quotas for French goods in British markets.

Nazi Mob Riots as Jew Tries to Wed Gentile Girl

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MAINZ, Germany, March 14.—When a young Jew, whose name was given as Alfred S., wanted to marry a Gentile girl here a mob staged such scenes before the registry office that police emergency squads were called into action. They placed the couple under "protective" arrest. In nearby Leeheim-im-Ried local Nazi authorities ordered that all farmers trading with Jews be blacklisted on a public blackboard.

AUSTRIAN COURTS BEGIN TRIALS OF 1,600 SOCIALISTS

First Group Sentenced to 8 Months in Jail.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, March 14.—In conformance with Chancellor Dollfuss' policy of clemency, several Socialists tried today before the criminal court in Wels, Upper Austria, were given jail sentences of eight months, contrasting with the death penalties given those who were tried before courts martial.

The same leniency is expected to be exercised Friday and Saturday when the first trials of Socialists for crimes against the government will come up before the Vienna criminal courts. Two courts will try eight men charged with participating in the recent "revolt." They will be presided over by Judge Zeidler and Judge Ossio.

1,600 Still in Prison.

These eight are confined in Alserstrasse prison, known here picturesquely as the "gray house," along with 1,600 others charged with participating in the February fighting.

Thirty examining magistrates are conducting investigations into their guilt or responsibility for the fighting against the Fascist heimwehr. It is expected these investigations will last until autumn, with trials taking place as the evidence is completed.

When Dollfuss returns from his talks with Premier Mussolini in Rome he will participate on Saturday in a big manifestation of his fatherland front organization, which is supposed to embrace all other former political parties, and then he will have to deal with two tough problems.

Tries to Unite Armies.

The first will be that of determining what is to be the future relationship between the various armed bodies, such as the heimwehr, the stumnscharen, the bauernwehr, and many others, and the fatherland front. These bodies, especially the heimwehr, object to becoming absorbed in the fatherland front.

Over this issue difficulties are looming, for only today Starhemberg and other heimwehr leaders held a meeting, while the chancellor was out of town, at which they complained of certain "hindrances" to their program to fascistize Austria completely along Mussolini lines, and also of obstacles against "renovation" ideas.

Dollfuss' other problem is the readjustment of his cabinet. Starhemberg is proposed as minister without portfolio, to begin with. By way of dissolving the landbund, or Agrarian party, without too much friction, it is reported that this party will be given another portfolio on condition it decides to vote its suicide and join the fatherland front.

Meanwhile Dollfuss' new constitution is getting the finishing touches. According to some reports, Dollfuss took it to Rome with him for the approval of Pope Pius, and it will be promulgated on Easter, April 1.

Crisis Up to Mussolini.

ROME, March 14.—(AP)—The Austrian view of the central European scene was given to Premier Mussolini today by Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss of Austria as a supplement to conferences which Il Duce has had with the Hungarian premier, Julius Goemboes.

Premier Goemboes, who talked with Mussolini yesterday, was not at the council table today, but the three men met at an exhibition of horsemanship and again tonight at a sumptuous state banquet which Premier Mussolini gave in honor of his guests in Venezia palace.

Only Austrian and Hungarian diplomatic representatives attended the dinner, along with high Italian officials, but most of the other diplomatic corps, including American Ambassador Long and his staff, were present at a reception given after the banquet.

It was stated after the reception tonight that the three premiers had decided to meet together tomorrow noon.

NAZIS EXCITED BY SIGN OF MARLENE DIETRICH'S HELP

Hope Film Star Will Forget Grievances.

BERLIN, March 14.—(AP)—The German capital was excited today by a sign of reconciliation between Nazi Germany and Marlene Dietrich, the motion picture star.

Ignored Berlin Last Summer.

Although the film star left Germany before the advent of the Nazi régime, Berlin wondered why she met her husband in Vienna last summer instead of coming here to her home town. It was suspected that there was trouble between herself and the Nazis.

At that time the Nazi press was expressing severe disapproval of her wearing of trousers, and it was said here that she objected to being dictated to in her choice of costumes.

Denies Help to Party.

Hollywood, Cal., March 14.—(AP)—The German born film star, Marlene Dietrich, through her studio representatives today denied she had made any contribution to the Nazi party in Germany and declared she had no intention of doing so "at the present time."

Miss Dietrich said she had mailed a check for $500 to the so-called "winter fund" in Germany to care for children of the poor, and at the same time had mailed a check for a similar amount to the Community Chest of Los Angeles.

The actress refused to discuss her attitude toward the Nazi movement, but said she did not expect to visit Germany in the near future.

SOCIALISTS TAKE HELM OF LONDON COUNTY COUNCIL

(Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.)

LONDON, March 14.—With an almost complete absence of ceremony, the Labor majority took possession of the London county council today thus giving London the distinction formerly held by Vienna of being the "biggest Socialist municipality in the world."

There was a storm of cheers for Herbert Morrison, organizer of Labor's election victory and so-called "prime minister of London." Lord Snell of Plumpstead became the council's chairman ending 27 years of Conservative administration. The most important post in Morrison's unofficial cabinet, chairman of the housing committee, went to Lewis Silkin, a lawyer, who promptly announced that the slum clearance scheme of the old Conservative council would be scrapped as inadequate.

Silkin promised a new survey of London would be begun covering not only slums legally unfit for habitation but also basement dwellings where 100,000 Londoners live. He added the survey also would cover overcrowded conditions "which will help produce future slums if not dealt with."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 14.—The Nazi government is doing well by the German farmer to judge by the report of the German Institute for Business Research. The report shows that for the current crop year the farmers' gross cash income was increased by about 790,000,000 marks, or more than $300,000,000, to 7,300,000,000 marks, which is more than $3,000,000,000 at today's rate of exchange.

The government slashed the farmers' taxes and granted subsidies totaling 387,000,000 marks (about $147,000,000). Part of the savings was invested in fertilizers and new machinery, which the farmers hope will further increase their wealth in the coming year.

It is interesting to note that dealers are taking advantage of the farmers' new wealth. Spring catalogs show that the price of seeds and seedlings are from 20 to 40 per cent higher than last year.

BRITAIN'S ARMS ENVOY WARNS OF DANGERS AHEAD

Tells House Nation Must "Keep Powder Dry."

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 14.—Capt. Anthony Eden, British lord privy seal and arms expert, told the house of commons tonight that "there is more than a glimmer of hope" for disarmament, but he also warned that the nation had better keep its powder dry and take an armaments inventory. He also asserted that British policy in the future must be to restore to the league of nations the full authority of membership of all the great powers of western Europe.

Capt. Eden recently returned from a European pilgrimage, during which he discussed the disarmament issue with various governments. His appearance today was in the nature of a report on his trip.

Wants to Face "Realities."

If disarmament fails, Eden warned, every nation will have to review its armaments, "this country perhaps more immediately and urgently than others because it has voluntarily disarmed already." He expressed the opinion that a disarmament convention must be obtained which faces the realities of the situation on the basis of recent British proposals permitting limited German rearmament.

With the French reply to the latest British proposals as yet not received, Capt. Eden refused to reveal details of his discussions with the governments concerned.

Misapprehension and mistrust among the nations of Europe are the chief obstacles to the conclusion of a convention, he declared. In this connection he criticized strongly recent militarist utterances by Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Prussian premier, but he insisted that a reconciliation is not hopeless.

Churchill Attacks Activity.

Winston Churchill, Conservative, attacked the usefulness of Eden's European trip and objected to endeavors to keep the disarmament conference alive. The only result of the conference so far, he asserted, has been the rearmament of Germany. He said Britain should look to its own security.

Morgan Jones, Laborite, criticized the government for its laxness in taking the lead in disarmament. He said the American government soon after President Roosevelt took office offered to abolish all weapons forbidden Germany under the Versailles treaty. He described the British attitude to this proposal as unsatisfactory.

Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, leaped to the defense of the government. He denied emphatically that the British and American governments were at variance on disarmament and read a long quotation from Mr. Roosevelt's message of last May in which it was stated that "the first thing is to take definite steps toward this objective as broadly outlined in the MacDonald plan."

PAY RAISE FOR NEW KING STIRS WRATH OF BELGIAN DEPUTIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BRUSSELS, March 14.—Whether to raise the young Belgian King Leopold III.'s 2,000,000 franc salary [$2,100,000]—more politely known as "liste civile"—or to cut it down like any other salary in this kingdom, was hotly debated today in the chamber of deputies. The bill proposes a raise of 2,500,000 francs for the 32 year old successor to King Albert and 3,000,000 francs annually to Albert's widow, Queen Elisabeth. The bill probably will pass tomorrow afternoon despite the opposition.

A fist fight was barely avoided when one communist and one liberal hurled the worst Belgian curses at each other, which translated into printable language merely meant, "You're a demagog."

The communist leader, Jacquemotte, called raising the king's annuity "indecent" in these days of general misery, and added, "Queen Elisabeth is the widow of a multimillionaire and needs no annuity."

Emile Vandervelde the Socialist pointed out, "Living has gone down. What King Albert considered sufficient ought still to suffice."

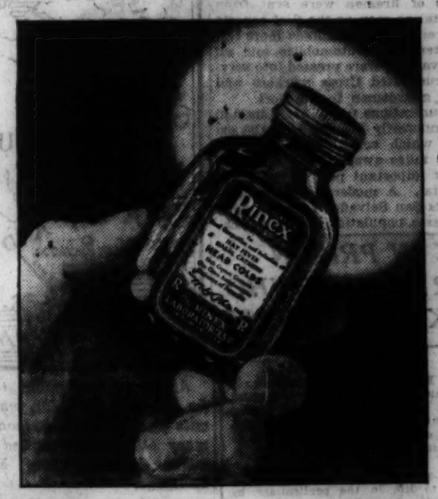

The only woman deputy, the Socialist, Lucie de Jardin, said, "I respect Queen Elizabeth, who is a true woman, but why should she get 2,000,000 francs when war invalids get only 50 cents a day?"

The finance minister, Henri Jaspar, a conservative, explained that King Albert had added from his own pocket to the court budget which was insufficient to keep up the palaces properly.

BREAKS COLDS IN 5 HOURS!
8-Action Relief Fights It Thru "Mass Attack"

Don't let that common cold "lick" you. Fight it! Not with half-way measures which strike at merely one, two or three symptoms. Be modern. Overwhelm your cold with the "mass attack" method. Fight the symptoms in eight different ways at once.

That is precisely what Doctor Platt's Rinex Prescription does. Rinex neglects no symptom, overlooks no evidence of misery. Your head is all clogged up, your nose congested. Sniffle . . . sneeze . . . wheeze. Your brain refuses to work. Each of these things means something. Attack them all at once, with Rinex, and see how much better you feel, in every way, in 30 minutes.

Quoting Dr. Platt

The discoverer of Rinex, Doctor M. G. Platt, tells you, from the results of his persistent cold research, exactly how Rinex acts: "A cold should be fought in eight different ways. Rinex actually does this. (1) It quickly clears the head, making breathing easy. (2) It tends to prevent or allay spasms of the bronchial tubes. (3) It reduces attendant fever. (4) It promptly and safely relieves headaches and other associated pains and discomforts. (5) It safely soothes the nerves, without the use of narcotics. (6) It stimulates gently, relieving that dull-minded, depressed feeling. (7) It reduces acidity, which is frequently a contributing cause. (8) It provides the means for adding to the calcium content of the blood, often deficient in cold conditions. A cold is in the system, and that is why, to control it, you must reach it internally."

No wonder, as more and more people learn about Rinex, that hit-or-miss methods for fighting colds are being discarded. Doctor Platt has provided the 8-action method for quickly breaking the hold of vicious, miserable cold attacks.

Easy to Take Rinex

There is nothing unpleasant about Rinex. You have a cold. With a glass of water, wash down two tasteless Rinex capsules and one Rinex tablet. . . Almost magically your head clears. You stop sneezing and wheezing. No more nose blowing. Your eyes cease burning. You have a sense of freedom. In 30 minutes, see how much better you feel.

Rinex is perfectly safe and is not habit-forming. It is a godsend to sufferers of head colds, nasal catarrh and asthmatic paroxysms.

YOUR GUARANTEE
If Rinex does not master your cold in 5 hours, your druggist is authorized to give you back every penny you paid for it.

Be on Your Guard

When you ask your druggist for Rinex, be sure the label on the bottle says Dr. Platt's Rinex Prescription. It is true that more than 10,000 druggists recommend Rinex to all their customers. If your druggist attempts to offer you a substitute, it is proof that he is not worthy of your confidence. To be sure of 8-Way relief, insist on Rinex, and nothing but Rinex. In the liberal size bottle, containing both capsules and tablets, it is $1.

Avoid Laxatives that Constipate you!

Physicians Warn Against Irritating Drugs

Do you know that there's a common ailment generally referred to by physicians as "cathartic constipation"?

Medicine-laxatives cause it. Most of them work by irritating the delicate membranes of the digestive tract—an unnatural method.

Soon the intestinal muscles refuse to respond to an ordinary dose . . . compel you to take more and more. Before you know it, the laxative-constipation habit has you in its grip!

Nature Demands a Flush
(The Water Way)

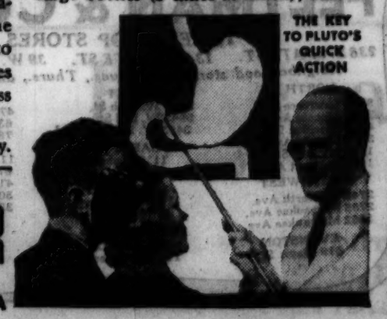

That's why more than 50,000 physicians recommend Pluto Water. For Pluto is not a drug or medicine laxative but a saline mineral water. The same amount each time—no need to increase it—always performs, does not gripe, gives positive results in less than one hour!

Pluto Water is gentle—but speedy. That's because the proper dilution—one-fifth glass Pluto in four-fifths glass hot water—promptly opens the pylorus valve leading from the stomach, permitting the flush to enter the intestines and complete its work without anxious hours of waiting.

Shake off Asthenia!

If you feel achy, listless, only half-alive, that is nature's warning of Asthenia—a condition usually caused by the poisons of constipation. The famous ten-day Pluto Water treatment ends it promptly—makes you feel like a different person.

187 U. S. SAILORS SAVED; GUNBOAT BURNS OFF CHINA

Crew Is Rescued by Two British Ships.

HONGKONG, China, March 15.—[Thursday.]—(AP)—The 187 men aboard the United States gunboat Fulton when flames enveloped it during a heavy storm yesterday six miles south of Single island were brought safely to this port early today.

Three of the crew were injured. One suffered from smoke in the lungs, another had a broken arm, and the third a broken leg. Their names were not announced.

The rescue of the crew by the British destroyer Wishart and the British steamer Tsinan was an example of wonderful seamanship, the survivors said.

Flames Spread Rapidly.

Fire broke out at 6:35 p. m. in the engine room amidships and developed rapidly, since the Fulton had much wood in her construction. Within a few minutes flames made a barrier dividing the ship fore and aft and putting the main boilers out of commission. Pumps consequently could not be used to fight the blaze.

Officers were at mess when the alarm was given. They hurried out, but despite every effort the fire was soon beyond control. The magazines were flooded to prevent an explosion.

An emergency wireless set sent an S. O. S. call, which the Tsinan first received and relayed to the Wishart. The Tsinan arrived first, but was unable to get close to the Fulton because of the heavy swells. The Wishart, which with the Fulton was on patrol duty in Bias bay against pirates, arrived at 8 p. m.

Thrilling Story of Rescue.

So quickly and so fiercely did the fire engulf the ship that the crew could not launch lifeboats, located in the middle of the craft. Three other boats, however, were put off before the Wishart arrived. Sick bay patients and attendants were put in the three crafts.

The British destroyer was able to put its bow alongside that of the Fulton for a few minutes at a time, while the crew jumped across from the flaming vessel singly. This was repeated many times. The Fulton was completely abandoned at 10 p. m.

Several members of the Fulton's crew, including Lieut. C. H. Chrichton, were isolated by the flames at the stern, where the fire quickly started.

Jump to Life Raft.

The Wishart could not take off this party, but lowered a life raft, to which the party jumped upon the calmly given orders of Lieut. Chrichton. He was the last to leave. His shipmates were enthusiastic in their praise of his presence of mind. Officers of the Fulton lauded the heroism of their men. All the Fulton's ship's papers were saved.

The Fulton was 216 feet long and of 1,160 tons, and was known as the "grief ship" of the navy.

In 1922 it drifted for three days off Cape Hatteras with a broken propeller shaft. Commissioned in 1914, it was one of the first American vessels to be equipped with Diesel engines. After the world war a German submarine engine was installed.

Protected Yanks at Foochow.

The Fulton, commanded by Harry McHenry, last played a prominent role in protecting Americans in the far east off Foochow, Fukien province, in January, when a detachment went ashore during disorders arising from the Fukien anti-Nanking rebellion.

The Wishart and the Tsinan, a commercial vessel belonging to the China Navigation Company, Ltd., of London, left the burning vessel as soon as possible with the rescued men. The Whitshed, another British warship which had rushed to the scene, stood by while the Fulton became more and more a blazing inferno.

It was believed the vessel would burn for 24 hours more and drift toward shore.

SHEBA'S CAPITAL CITY OF 200,000, FLYERS REPORT

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

CAIRO, March 14.—The French airman, Capt. Edouard Corniglion-Molinier, and Andre Malraux, eminent writer and orientalist, described today how, on March 7, they discovered what is believed to be the ancient city of the queen of Sheba, sought for centuries by archeologists and scientists.

"We left Cairo on March 1 in our single motored plane, and flew to Djibouti via Assouan and Khartoum, port of the Sudan. We made Djibouti our headquarters. With fuel enough to last 11½ hours we started a search for the Sheban city. We flew towards the Bab el Mandeb straits, passed over the island of Perim, followed the coast of Yemen, then flew over Mocha and Hodeida in Yemen.

Pile of Stones at Mareb.

"Reaching Sana, capital of Yemen, which we found to be enveloped in a dense fog, we made our way toward Mareb, which some scientists believed to be the lost city of Sheba, but the ruins we saw there consisted only of two columns and a huge pile of stones," they said.

The aviators refused to believe that these constituted the only ruins left of the great Sheban civilization, so they proceeded and soon reached the area of Jof and the desert Rub-el-Khali [uninhabited area of the heart of Arabia].

"Flying out of a volcanic valley we were bewildered by the extraordinary sight which met our eyes. We saw ruins of a great city, with huge buildings and towers built up several stories, each smaller than the one beneath it. The city appeared so white that it seemed as if all the buildings were of marble. A wall, in ruins, surrounded the city, which lies on a hill of volcanic stone. It was black in color, which rendered the city's whiteness more brilliant.

Molinier said he saw a few tents inside the white city, which he believed showed that it is inhabited now by Bedouins.

Find City of Tombs.

"This must have been the town of the living. As was the general rule in towns of the ancient days, near it we discovered a town of the dead, where the tombs lie in rows, some large and some small. There seemed to be between 1,500 and 2,000 of them. About 40 were much larger than the others.

By comparison of the extent of this white city with Sana, Molinier is convinced that the lost city, during its life, must have had 200,000 inhabitants.

Attracted by this sight, the aviators descended as low as 300 meters [980 feet] despite all the dangers which might befall them. They did this in order to make certain that what was before them was not imagination or a mirage, but actually the ruins of the lost civilization which they believed to be the capital city of the kingdom of Sheba.

According to Molinier, this newly discovered town is situated about 150 kilometers [94 miles] from Sana, and not more than 10 kilometers [6 miles] inside Rub-el-Khali. He stated also that there are several inhabited villages near the unknown city.

Have Pictures for Proof.

To prove the great discovery, the aviators took both still and moving pictures from the air. Upon the return to Djibouti, they had the pictures developed and left copies with friends so that in case of an accident upon the return journey to Paris there still would be actual proof of their great accomplishment.

"Circling at this low altitude, we were bewildered by the marvelous sight and forgot that our fuel was limited, and that we were in danger of a forced landing in an impossible country. Also we were fired at from the ground by wild Bedouins scattered here and there. Fortunately the plane was not damaged."

Much to their dismay, due to a shortage of fuel, they were compelled to return immediately to Djibouti, which was reached on the last drop of gasoline.

Both Molinier and Malraux expressed the deepest thanks and gratefulness to Hassan Annis Pasha, controller of aviation of Egypt, for the valuable help in supplying corrected maps and accurate information concerning that territory. Annis Pasha explored Arabia several years ago.

BROKER CHARGED WITH KILLING OF BOSTON WOMAN

Vague on Row After Drinking Party.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Arthur W. Morse, Harvard graduate and Wall street broker, surrendered today on a charge of homicide in connection with the death of Mrs. Edna Field Leavett, a 26 year old Boston divorcée. She died in Bellevue hospital last night after a tour of Greenwich Village night clubs and a battle in Morse's apartment in MacDougal alley.

Broker Tells of Fight.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Cohn questioned Morse at length. The broker told substantially the same story he had told previously when arraigned on a charge of felonious assault.

He said that he had gone to several drinking places in Greenwich Village with Mrs. Leavett and they had quarreled after returning to his apartment about 2 a. m.

"What did you quarrel about?" Mr. Cohn asked him. Mr. Morse refused to answer. He denied that he had struck the woman.

"How did she get hurt, then?" Mr. Cohn queried.

Woman's Skull Broken.

Patrolman Dominic Largo, who responded when neighbors complained of the noise in Morse's flat, told of the arrest and of the subsequent removal of the woman to Bellevue with a fractured skull.

Morse surrendered with his attorney, Edward T. Welch on whose advice he refused to make a statement. He was scarcely able to speak when he was booked. His face showed scratches.

Mr. Morse is vice president of D. W. Clinch & Co., investment brokers at 48 Wall street.

Finds Fifty Tarantulas Nested in Banana Bunch

Albert Cosmos, an employé in a fruit store at 1040 Bryn Mawr avenue, was startled yesterday when a tarantula crawled out of a bunch of bananas he had just unpacked. The arachnid, which had a leg spread of 5 inches, was imprisoned in a bottle. Investigation showed fifty baby tarantulas in a nest among the bananas.

Seattle Mayor Loses; Only Two Officials Re-elected

Seattle, Wash., March 14.—(AP)—Only two of the seven city officials seeking another term were successful in yesterdays biennial election, and one of them was unopposed. Mayor John F. Dore, sponsor of a drastic economy program, was defeated by Charles L. Smith, former assistant corporation counsel, 62,093 to 46,652.

ELKS FETE FATHERS AND SONS TONIGHT; JARECKI WILL SPEAK

A Father's and Son's day program will be given tonight in the club rooms of the Chicago lodge of Elks at 174 West Washington street, with Judge Michael Feinberg, a former exalted ruler of the lodge, and County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki among the speakers.

JUDGE JARECKI.

Both the members of the lodge and their sons, members of the Antlers, will contribute to the entertainment, and a friendly rivalry is expected to develop between the two groups. Judge Feinberg is to address the senior organization and Judge Jarecki will speak on behalf of the Antlers.

A supporting program for the affair has been arranged under the directorship of Exalted Ruler Archie H. Cohen.

LINDY KIDNAPING AID GUILTY OF JUMPING BOND

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Irving Bitz, one of Col. Charles Lindbergh's underworld contact men in the effort to regain the aviator's kidnaped child, tonight was found guilty by a jury of jumping his bail of $25,000 last October.

Bitz went to the Tombs without bail to await sentence on March 22. Judge Corrigan told the jurors he was glad they had arrived at the verdict, which he said he believed was correct.

Bitz was to have been tried on an indictment for carrying a pistol when he failed to appear last October. He admitted that in 1926 he was convicted of conspiracy and served a year and a day in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

RED MOB RIOTS IN MADRID; FIRES UPON BUILDINGS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, March 14. — One rioter and a civil guard were seriously injured and many others were less seriously hurt tonight when riots in the center of Madrid's business section threw theater crowds into an uproar.

Civil guards broke up the demonstration, only to have the crowd march to Gran Via street. The marchers sang communist songs. They fired on the telephone exchange there and civil guards again intervened.

Rushing to Alcala street, the mob fired pistols and threw stones at the Socialist party headquarters. Using clubs, the civil guards again dispersed the crowd, making many arrests.

15 Die as Hotel Building Collapses in Syrian City

BEIRUT, Syria, March 14.—(AP)—An old building housing a hotel and cafe collapsed today, killing at least 15 persons. French authorities are removing bodies from the ruins.

Former Real Estate Man Kills Himself in Home

Henry W. Gescheidle, 58 years old, 4515 North Rockwell street, a former real estate operator, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself. He was said to have been despondent over inability to find work. The body was found by his landlord. A note addressed to his wife, Nannie, and his 25 year old daughter, neither of whom were home at the time, told of his failure to find work during the last eight months.

REFORM THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Municipal court is an outstanding example of how the remedy for an evil often brings greater evils in its wake.

The system was adopted when the justice of the peace became intolerable. The court was primarily intended to be the poor man's court, but it was given a wide range of jurisdiction and perhaps in that was the germ of its undoing. It is not today the poor man's court. It has not succeeded in maintaining the dignity which is necessary if continued confidence should be had in it. Some of its judges are apparently allied with or influenced by the anti-social element of this community. The standard of service rendered, even by the honorable men there, is of a low order.

Several factors enter into this situation. The system of election which subjects the Municipal court judge to a primary and an election, both costly and both, of course, dependent upon political help. The election is in November—the judges appear on a separate ballot—the candidacies are entirely lost sight of except by their political friends, hence the Municipal court judge is more dependent on politicians than are the judges of the Circuit and Superior courts.

The same judges who are trying the bulk of the poor man's civil litigations are also the police magistrates and police court judges. These courts are held in various districts and traditionally they have been under the influence of local political leaders. Politics of the worst kind is more influential in this court than in others.

An elected chief justice, with powers beyond the control of the judges, and especially with the power of assignment to certain duties, molds that court to his own peculiar whims. The other judges, having no interest in the administration of the court as a whole, are simply holding political jobs. Their aim is to get through with the work assigned to them as quickly as possible and then to go to their own affairs or their own pleasures. Only recently we have had a demonstration of lack of responsibility on the part of the court where the chief justice was able to put over a set of rules making the practice of that court, which should be the simplest of all, the most complicated.

Much of the indifference of the abler judges lies in the fact that after they are assigned to try important matters they find it difficult to become interested in their work when assigned to do less important or more disagreeable work.

To remedy a situation which has become nothing short of scandalous a complete reorganization of this court is necessary. We have had enough experience with the weaknesses of the institution and its operation to formulate a less faulty institution, and this should not be postponed. In truth the whole judicial system of Cook county is in sore need of reorganization, and the reform of the Municipal court is a part of this problem, but a very important part. If the larger task is not taken up the reform of the Municipal court should not wait upon a solution of the whole problem.

PRICES AND PROFITS.

In February of this year there was a 12 per cent increase in travel on the street cars in Chicago. The fare is 7 cents. In the same month the elevated lines (fare 10 cents) showed no gain and the bus company (fare 10 cents) showed a decline of more than 3.7 per cent.

Here is another illustration of the fact, familiar to most business men, that a higher price does not always mean a greater profit. They know that in most businesses the largest gross income as well as the largest net income are achieved when prices are adjusted to permit large sales at a small profit on each item.

The government's indiscriminate price-raising policies suggest pretty strongly that the bureaucrats have forgotten this elementary relationship if they ever knew it. The price-raising fixation is the more remarkable when it is viewed in connection with the government's frantic efforts to increase employment. It should be obvious that higher prices mean restricted sales and must lead, in turn, to restricted employment not only in the particular industry concerned but in all the other industries to which it looks for supplies and services.

If, for example, the government forces retailers to raise the price of shoes, fewer shoes will be sold than might otherwise be disposed of. In turn, there will be less employment in the wholesalers' warehouses, less employment in the shoe factories, less employment on the railroads, less employment in the tanneries and cotton mills and, of course, lower prices for hides and other raw materials than there otherwise would have been.

Artificial price raising is extremely dangerous medicine. At any moment, prices are as high as they can be set if the existing supply of goods is to move into consumption. Any interference with this elementary relationship is almost certain to produce unwanted and perhaps disastrous results. Our government's ventures in wheat and cotton, and more recently in milk, demonstrate the dangers. The British government's venture in rubber control tells the same story. The Greek government's venture in currants is another example. The manipulation of copper prices before the depression is still another. Economic history is full of these instances of failure, but their value as warnings seems to be unheeded.

THE SEAWAY TREATY DEFEATED.

The St. Lawrence seaway treaty was defeated in the senate as Washington observers had forecast. The treaty was badly negotiated by Mr. Hoover's state department. Our diplomatic representatives were under instructions to offer terms which Canada would accept and the Canadians knew it. Therefore they forced our spokesmen to give way at every disputed point.

The treaty sacrificed the Mississippi waterway. It sacrificed American sovereignty over Lake Michigan. It required our taxpayers to shoulder a disproportionate share of the costs. All of these sacrifices were made in order to win the northwest to Mr. Hoover. The effort failed even of that objective. Meanwhile the nation had become aware of the fact that a half million dollar lobby had been at work for years propagandizing for the seaway. This revelation raised new doubts about the merits of the project either for transportation or for the generation of electric power. These doubts found their reflection in the senate's action.

Great credit belongs to the two senators from Illinois, Mr. Lewis and Mr. Dieterich, who took a leading part in the debates. They have earned the gratitude of their state and their country. It is to be expected that if the negotiations with Canada are resumed there will be no further attempt to restrict by treaty the right of the United States to withdraw water from Lake Michigan. Lake Michigan remains an American lake.

THE FINE ART OF WELSHING.

A bill has passed the lower house of the Iowa legislature providing that the mortgage moratorium shall not apply to mortgages made after Jan. 1 of this year. It is easy to see what was in the minds of the legislators. They knew that a general mortgage moratorium might give some temporary relief to those who have already borrowed money, but to the much greater number who have need for money now or will need it in the future the moratorium could serve only as a severe handicap.

You cannot have your cake and eat it, too. You cannot welsh on a contract (whether the Supreme court lets you do so or not) and expect to preserve a reputation for honorable dealing. Any one who is considering lending money on Iowa mortgages can hardly overlook the fact that if an emergency can whittle away the constitutional protections accorded the creditor, another emergency can whittle away the protections which seem to be given by an act of the legislature. It is easy to foresee that in another depression an act restricting the moratorium to debts contracted before 1934 will be repealed and the new emergency will justify the new repudiation.

States which enact laws to protect the borrower against a lender's just claim for repayment must expect to pay the penalty in a shortage of capital for development and needlessly high interest rates. A state which countenances repudiation, even though the Supreme court sanction it, must take the consequences, and they cannot be averted by legislative act. Needless to say, the operation of this principle does not begin at the Mississippi river. Welshers must expect to be treated as welshers in Illinois as in Iowa.

SOME LEGAL CONSEQUENCES OF THE TUGWELL BILL.

One of the important objections to the substitution for the existing food and drug acts of the Tugwell bill which repeals the former is that it would set aside a large body of judicial rulings upon which the industries and commerce concerned have shaped their conduct during the last quarter century. A sweeping new act which includes much new territory and subject matter will call for much litigation, and while that may be thought by lawyers nothing to complain about and may even be applauded by those who favor the make-work policy, the business concerned and even the public, which must directly or indirectly pay the bills, can hardly enjoy the prospect.

This objection is not applicable to well considered new provisions required to correct demonstrated weaknesses of the existing laws. They will call for new interpretations and applications, but the benefits to be expected from specific correction of weaknesses in the existing laws will presumably compensate. The repeal of the present acts, however, with the substitution of a much more sweeping law, involves a serious sacrifice of rulings and precedents which have protected in large measure the rights of the public and of the industries affected. Much of this sacrifice could be avoided by adopting the method of amendment to the existing acts instead of repeal and substitution. This is a substantial consideration which congress ought not to ignore.

Editorial of the Day

[New York Times.]

When Peter Zenger, the New York printer and publisher, was brought to trial in 1735, accused of seditious libel for printing in his column strictures on the royal governor of the province, his defense was undertaken by James Alexander and William Smith, leaders of the New York bar, who volunteered their services. They were immediately disbarred, but the so-called "Presbyterian junta" then secretly invited Andrew Hamilton of Philadelphia to undertake Zenger's defense. Though laboring under many infirmities, he appeared, to the surprise of the excited populace and the hitherto triumphant court, saying that he would have gone to the uttermost part of the land in such a cause. For, as he added, it was not the cause of the poor printer, but the cause of liberty —"the liberty of both exposing and opposing arbitrary power by speaking out and writing out."

The New York County Lawyers' association, in sending a delegation to Philadelphia last week to present a tablet in memory of a "remarkable service" to the cause of a free press in America, paid more than professional tribute to one who by a singular and happy coincidence also determined the plans and site for the building that became Independence hall. The city council of New York voted Hamilton the freedom of the city, and it is suggested that next year (being the two hundredth anniversary of an event from which Gouverneur Morris "dated liberty") should be especially celebrated by the renewal of that freedom of the city, originally presented in a gold box on which was engraved the inscription in Latin: "The laws were submerged; liberty was intimidated; but they have nevertheless emerged."

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

"DUKE OF LEINSTER Broke,"—Headline. This changing world! It wasn't so many years ago that Kipling wrote the famous line, "Duke's son, cook's son, son of a thousand earls." If those three got together today as they did during the Boer war things would be different. The duke's son and the son of a thousand earls would be borrowing money of the cook's son.

Yes, indeed, if Mr. Kipling wrote that verse today he would likely put it this way:

Says the duke's son, being busted, to the son of a thousand earls,
Let's hunt up the cook's son, though I hear he's quite a snob;
But if we shine the blighter's shoes or wash his silly car
He may look on us as equals and lend us half a bob.

A WOMAN'S PLACE is the home. Except when income tax time comes around. Then her place is down at the collector's office trying to unsnarl the mess Friend Husband left the schedule in and, with the help of the government people (often a woman), to fix the income tax return papers so that nobody has to go to jail. And the man who says the loudest, "A woman's place is the home," where is he all this time? Why, that amiable piece of cheese is sipping a highball in front of the radio and all set to say, "Well, gosh, what were you doing down there at the tax office all this time?"

SPRING AROUND THE CORNER.

Is that a robin on the twig
Or just a withered leaf?
Take up again your mending bag
And patch old Winter's grief—
When Spring comes swinging down the street
You'll know her care-free, dancing feet.

You'll see her adolescent limbs
In swift unskirted stride
And watch her silly schoolgirl whims
With reminiscent pride.
When Spring comes singing through the door
You'll spill your mending to the floor!

AND WHILE THEY WERE assiduously hunting for Mr. Dillinger in Ohio reports declare he was robbing a bank of some fifty-two thousand odd dollars out in Iowa. So the authorities should not have hunted Mr. Dillinger in Ohio. They should have pursued him in Iowa. But in that case Mr. Dillinger would have robbed a bank in Ohio. Which is what makes it so difficult to chase Mr. Dillinger in any one state. The great trouble is we have forty-eight states. If we were to reduce the number of states the hunters might get closer to Mr. Dillinger. Something should be done about this. Write to your congressman today!

EVERYBODY THOUGHT the "Ulysses" thing was all settled when a court ruled the book was not wicked and could be imported to our pure and unstained land without let or hindrance. But now up jumps the government's lawyers and they're going to appeal the case to the U. S. Supreme court in hopes "Ulysses" will be branded as an immoral book. Well, even if the United States says "Ulysses" is immoral, darned if I read it, although it would be a great temptation. It's too darned dull. Even immorality can't atone for that.

MR. BURGESS IN 1934?

Got no desire to see one.
What I should like to see's a jail

JOHN AITCH CONWAY.

A RAILROAD OUT WEST is planning tests to run trains by radio. It would be nice to have the inventors go a step further and arrange to drive automobiles by short wave radio broadcast. We'd all feel much safer on the road if all the hit-and-run drivers, stupid drivers, child drivers, cocktail drivers, inexperienced drivers, spifflicated drivers, and the I'm-in-an-awful-hurry drivers were made to sit in the back seat and sit on their hands while the car was being driven by radio. But what would the poor car do when the radio station that was controling it said: "Stop coughing. Go to your corner drug store and ask for Barknomoria," or "If it's trousers or an undershirt you are going to buy rush right over to Umpty Steen Seventy Steen West Nebuchanezzar road and you'll find just what you want"? In such a case it's hard to tell whether the auto would climb a telegraph pole or tell a traffic cop to go to hell. But those little imperfections can be ironed out in time.

TO SCRATCH OR NOT TO SCRATCH.

ITCHING is a symptom which has the peculiarity of being unpleasant because it is so pleasant and because it provokes scratching, a reaction with the same quantities.

The symptom, in the first place, serves notice of something that needs to be removed. In this it is akin to pain and sensitiveness. But these are always unpleasantnesses. There is a condition, known as masochism, in which a man gets pleasure out of his own pain or discomfort.

Itching differs from pain in that as long as it keeps below a certain level of iniquity it causes pleasure. Considerable increase or exaggeration is required to bring it into the realm of a discomfort, and there must be great exaggeration to force it into the pain class.

The instinctive reaction to itching is to scratch. We encounter it in animals far lower than man. Dogs and cats like to scratch themselves, as do hogs, not to mention monkeys. The best way to soothe an excited horse is to scratch the skin between his underjaws. There is a delight and joy in mildly rubbing and scratching the normal skin and it is greatly increased when there is any skin disorder of which itching is a symptom.

But the habit is so unpleasant that it is almost impossible to practice it in moderation. It is comparable to drinking coffee and maybe dancing and many other practices in that all the trouble comes from immoderation. The more one scratches the more he wants to indulge and, before he realizes it, he has removed too much of the protective layer of dead skin and has left behind some sensitized areas.

In other words, he has made minor wounds. These minor wounds are apt to become infected by the cocci and the fungi formed on the skin.

This consideration of the increase of itching which scratching induces leads to another point that is of great practical interest and that is, that ninety per cent of the discomfort of itching disorders is the result of our mental reaction to them. If a person has an itching disorder of the pruritus level he can maintain himself in comparative discomfort by refusing to take mental note of the symptom. If he does he can go about whatever measures for cure of the basic condition that he chooses, undisturbed by the symptom.

But if he thinks about it his discomfort immediately becomes worse. And if he scratches it becomes very much worse. In most of this group of disorders the main discomfort comes from the scratch wound. The tendency to become panicky or maniacal about the discomfort is great. This is especially true in hives. Such terms as "crazy to scratch," "scratch until I bleed," "can't resist scratching," are evidence of this maniacal tendency, one similar to that of the man who becomes frenzied because he cannot sleep. In some itching disorders such as poison ivy it is often necessary to tie up the hands. To prevent scratching in the sleep it is advantageous to wear gloves.

Certain of the remedies in common use for relief in itching disorders are beneficial, principally for psychological reasons. It is for that reason we wash patches of hives with soda water, or use some of the salves of accepted value in poison ivy dermatitis.

HOT WATER FOR CHILBLAINS.

Mrs. P. H. B. writes: When I was ten years old my parents moved to northern Wisconsin. I had to walk two and a half miles to school and the weather was sometimes below zero. We froze our feet and we were subject to chilblains. An old German doctor had us put our feet in hot water whenever they itched. The water was to be as hot as we could stand and we were to leave our feet in it until the water was cool. I can still see three of us sitting around a tub of hot water. We have not suffered from chilblains since.

REPLY.

Yours is one of a half dozen letters telling of success by using this method, substantially. It is one of several good ones. Putting the feet in melted paraffin at a temperature of about 125 degrees Fahrenheit is a better one, but it is more troublesome. Treatment with ultraviolet is also a better one. But yours is a good method and it is cheap and convenient.

HANDS TREMBLE.

A reader writes: For some time I have noticed that when my husband is eating or reading his hands shake very noticeably. He does not drink and has no bad habits that I know of except smoking. Is this serious? What would you advise?

REPLY.

Probably he has paralysis agitans or Parkinson's disease. This disorder is not caused by drinking, smoking, or other bad habits. It is serious in that it tends to become worse, but the progress of the disorder is generally very slow.

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

Chicago, March 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. A widow who was appointed administratrix is anxious to sell the property as her time has expired. 2. Can the heirs legally object to the sale? 3. Can the widow demand a valuation, a sale of the property, and a payment of her share? D. A. T.

1. The fact that you use the word "administratrix" instead of executrix implies that there is no will giving her authority to sell. On such facts she would not be authorized to sell as administratrix except on showing that the personal property is insufficient to pay the debts.
2. Depends on the facts. See 1.
3. Where owners of undivided interests in real estate cannot agree any one of them is entitled to force a division or a public sale by partition proceedings. The cost of such proceedings, including the complainant's solicitor's fees, are chargeable against the proceeds of the sale.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

WAGE ASSIGNMENT.

Chicago, March 10.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I borrowed $300 from a loan shark about four years ago for which I am paying 3½ per cent [$10.50] a month interest. He holds a wage assignment against me. I also own my own home. He is now pressing me for money on the principal which I can't pay as the interest is so high. I have never missed an interest note in all the time I have had the loan. Is there anything I can do about it? T. J. R.

The federal Circuit Court of Appeals has recently held that bankruptcy would terminate not only your personal liability but also the right of the creditor against your wages. Older state court decisions were to the effect that it would leave the creditor in a position to enforce the security.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

POLICE EXAMINATIONS.

Chicago, March 4.—[Friend of the People.]—I am about 150 on the present police list. Will any police vacancies be filled this year? Will any more candidates be taken from the list? When will the present list be thrown out?

C. C. H.

The present eligible list was posted Nov. 18, 1932. All eligible lists are in force for a period of at least two years and one day from date of posting. In police and fire lists they are sometimes continued in force beyond that time.

With reference to the matter of filling vacancies, I wish to quote you the following excerpt from section 9 of the appropriation bill, which is self-explanatory: ". . . In case of any vacancy in any position herein appropriated for, the head of the department in which such vacancy occurs shall not be required to fill such position if in his judgment and discretion there is no necessity therefore. . . ."

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN.—"Reduce the tax-burden, save money for the state, and do more to finance jobs for the unemployed." That is the 1934 financial program of Nazi Germany as revealed by Secretary of State Reinhardt.

The taxpayer whose tax bill is cut will again be able to buy goods, start new enterprises, and thereby provide jobs for the unemployed. The new jobs reduce the number of families on the unemployment list and will save dole expenditures. Thus tax cuts, Reinhardt insists, will restore sound economic conditions.

To start with the government will spend 2,295,000,000 gold marks to create jobs. The Nazis will spend it on highway construction, house repairs, and a flock of similar schemes to "crank up industry."

Apart from these expenditures, taxes will be reduced or abolished to enable individuals to place orders and make necessary purchases. No taxes will have to be paid on newly erected small residences which are occupied by the owner. Tax reductions are also to be granted for repair work on factories and shops.

Authorities are debating the advisability of reducing dues on unemployment insurance. Last year the public paid 500,000,000 marks for the unemployment fund, which considerably reduced its purchasing power. The method of collecting "voluntary" donations to the labor creation fund, by which 120,000,000 marks was raised, will be dropped April 1.

Marriage loans to young women giving up their jobs to men, and to poor men eager to raise families, will also be granted. So far 200,000 couples have married on the strength of this loan, which averaged $240.

Reinhardt states these loans will be continued until no more girls of marriagable age now holding jobs are left. He estimated the number of working women at nearly 6,000,000, and plans to reduce this to 3,000,000.

To boost the birthrate, tax reductions are to be granted to families with many children. Heretofore these reductions were restricted to the income tax. Now the property tax is to be cut. Thus a parent of four children—the theoretic "normal" German family—will pay no property tax for the first 60,000 marks, 10,000 marks being tax free for each member of the family.

Reinhardt announced that tax receipts during the past year exceeded those in 1932 by 300,000,000 marks. In the current year he expects them to be still higher.

"The state has had no financial difficulties and it will have none," Reinhardt concluded.

INDUSTRIAL ART IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, March 9.—In an article by Kathleen McLaughlin which appeared in the Graphic section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE on March 4 the following statements are made with reference to the school of industrial art in the Art Institute of Chicago:

> There is no textile design taught at this time, for instance, at the Art institute. No costume design is included in the course.
> Classes in textile, wall paper, and general pattern design are a regular and important part of the curriculum of the industrial art division and our students have an opportunity to acquire a thorough understanding of the processes, materials, and professional means of presenting designs for industrial use. Instructors in charge of these classes are professional designers who understand the requirements of industries and divide their time between teaching and professional practice.
> Our recently inaugurated evening course in costume design has at present a capacity enrollment and plans for extending the activities of this class are now being formulated. This is a thoroughly practical course and includes dress design, construction, fitting, cutting, and styling; this class is under the direction of a professional Chicago designer.
> Other statements in the last three paragraphs of the article, in failing to give a complete idea of what we are trying to accomplish, serve only to confuse further an issue which is far from clear in the minds of most nonprofessional persons. NORMAN RICE,
> Associate Dean, School of the Art Institute of Chicago.

A REMARKABLE NEWSPAPER.

Fort Wayne, Ind., March 8.—Your TRIBUNE lacks enterprise. You don't fill your advertising columns with liquor and tavern announcements at so much per line while howling in your news and editorial columns about the moral evils of liquor and the taverns. You don't even campaign against betting on the ponies while printing all the race results, including the odds on each horse. A remarkable newspaper, indeed. U. HERP.

LIFE ON THE EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Chicago, March 11.—I congratulate THE TRIBUNE on its new day by day story of the experimental farm. That new feature and Gaar Williams' cartoons offset much of the editorial snarling. STONEBOAT.

THE PRICE OF MILK.

Chicago, March 10.—Why is it now that milk is as low as 6½c a quart, cafeterias are charging 7c a small bottle and as high as 10c a glass? E. K.

THE DEMONOLOGY OF THE DEPRESSION.

Chicago, March 10.—The sentence in your editorial of today "You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet," reading "business flourishes, wages are highest, and employment is largest when the fewest restrictions are placed upon initiative and enterprise" calls up the interesting question of why these desiderata did not obtain in those three years just prior to the administration's so-called bludgeoning of "initiative" and "enterprise."

Surely, if ever there was a time for "initiative" and "enterprise" to assert themselves it was then, but, as you so ardently recommend to Gen. Johnson, a reading of the history of those times reveals a startling absence of any sustaining or reconstructive quality in either. They were, in fact, nonexistent except in so far as the "insider" used them in maintaining his position as beneficiary of the "outsider."

A man might climb out of a well, comparatively uninjured, after having been thrown therein through the "initiative" and "enterprise" of another, but, obviously, he will not survive many such experiences if he does not protect himself by restricting the type of "initiative" and "enterprise" which caused his misfortune.

Many of us, how many the presidential election of 1932 will show, are somewhat bruised from repeated tumbles and terribly weary of climbing. We do not believe that progress consists of sudden downward and slow upward perpendicular movements but rather forward on a horizontal level.

With us the President's methods for getting us out and, more importantly, keeping us out meet with unqualified approval and we will not be denied.

T. H. FLOOD.

CHLOROFORM.

Hubbard Woods, Ill., March 8.—In this morning's issue of THE TRIBUNE appeared an article by Walter Fitzmaurice in which is the statement that "an overdose of chloroform is just as ineffective as an underdose." This statement is absolutely incorrect. An overdose of chloroform produces paralysis of the center of circulation in the brain, thus destroying the heart action. Death may occur following a few deep inhalations of a concentrated vapor or it may occur several days after anesthesia due to a destructive action on the abdominal organs, especially the liver. This latter condition is known as acidosis or secondary chloroform poisoning.

INSULL PREPARES TO LEAVE GREECE FOR NEW HAVEN

Fugitive Is Placed Under Police Guard.

BY EUGENE SPECK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, March 14.—For the fifth time an extension of his residence permit, granted to Samuel Insull, fugitive Chicago utilities promoter, by the Greek government, expires tonight. There is every indication that thereafter he will board a ship for a new retreat. It is likely, however, that he will not leave until Friday.

Government circles tonight reported that if he is deported he will be sent to Albania, although there are good reasons to believe that Insull has his own plans pointing to another destination.

The Greek government today tried to help the fugitive depart voluntarily. The two highest police officials in the country called at his flat. They asked him where he would prefer to go and volunteered their services in obtaining visas.

Insull Sulks in Room.

Insull sulked in his room alone. Mme. Helen Kouryoumdjoglou, his intimate friend, talked for him. She walked from the group comprising the two officers and Mrs. Insull to the fallen magnate. He was in an adjoining room, supposedly in bed.

The conversation was carried on for some time. Afterwards the officers announced that they had been helping Insull prepare for his departure and refused to disclose what choice he had made. It was also impossible to discover what visas, if any, he had obtained.

A round of the consulates this afternoon revealed that the officers had circulated in Athens carrying not Insull's Greek laissez passer [permit to pass], but the document of identification issued him yesterday by the American government—proof that he had agreed to use it for travel.

Legations Deny Giving Visas.

All the legations and consulates, however, denied they had granted visas. Still two important indications were uncovered. Insull's destination is either eastward or northward. A rumor persists that he has obtained a Rumanian transit visa and that Turkey will grant him the same. Heretofore Mustapha Kemal Pasha's government has asserted he would be arrested at the border.

Activity is apparent in Insull's flat. The lights were on in all rooms late tonight. Usually only the bed lamp is visible in Insull's room. The building is closely guarded. Attendants refused to allow anybody but residents to reach the self-operated elevator.

A policeman was on guard at the porter's lodge and everybody loitering in the street behind the building was questioned by another officer, who was assisted by a fireman in watching Insull.

Under Police Surveillance.

It is not that he is being shielded. Tonight Insull was virtually a prisoner, for he was actually under police surveillance. The officers on duty have instructions to follow him if he flees.

Despite the precautions, Greek officials face tomorrow with a shudder. It will be a hard job to remove the fugitive, who professes to be an invalid, from his bed and place him aboard a train or steamer, especially if Insull, as before, is stricken with a timely heart attack, rendering him inarticulate and practically paralyzed.

There is good reason to believe Insull has found a new refuge, but at the last minute he may change his mind. It seems likely that in his present frame of mind he may climb into bed and defy a policeman to touch him.

WINNIE JUDD'S FATHER PLEADS FOR A PARDON

Phoenix, Ariz., March 14.—(AP)—The Rev. H. J. McKinnell appealed today for a pardon for his daughter, Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted "trunk murderess."

His petition was received and filed by the state board of pardons and paroles without comment.

Once sentenced to death on the gallows for the slaying of Agnes Anne Le Roi, Mrs. Judd was found insane and placed in the state hospital at Phoenix. She also was accused of killing Hedvig Samuelson and sending the bodies of the two women to Los Angeles.

Should the authorities of the state hospital at any time find Mrs. Judd has become sane her original sentence must be carried out under Arizona law.

KERNER'S PETITION FILED FOR REHEARING GRAND JURY DECISION

Attorney General Kerner yesterday filed with the Illinois Supreme court a petition for a rehearing in the Lieber case in which the Cook county grand jury system was declared illegal. The decision of the high court cast doubt on the legality of 700 pending indictments, and jeopardized convictions in a number of important criminal cases.

The ruling, handed down by the Supreme court last month, reversed the conviction of Jack Lieber, Chicago robber, on the grounds that the grand jury which indicted him was illegally impaneled. The decision was prevented from becoming effective by a stay of mandate pending hearing on the petition for a rehearing.

ERRORS, LAXITY FOUND IN STATE PRISON RECORDS

Auditors Criticize Drug Handling.

Records of the two penitentiaries at Joliet and Stateville were described yesterday as in such a deplorable condition that a complete audit of the financial affairs is impossible. Auditors from the office of State Auditor Edward J. Barrett and from the Audit Company of Illinois made a joint inspection of the books and besides finding the fiscal affairs to be a puzzle, they reported an apparent laxity in keeping records pertaining to drugs used at the prisons.

The report went to Gov. Horner at Springfield and he issued a statement that every defect in record keeping found by the auditors would be corrected immediately. The period under investigation was from May 1, 1932, until the present, and it was reported the prison industries were conducted at a loss of $101,725 during that time "subject to the correctness of inventories."

No Shortage, Warden Says.

Col. Frank D. Whipp, warden of the two prisons, said he is certain there is no shortage in the cash accounts. He said the audit has been going on for three months, following an audit made a year ago by the same auditors.

"There was no criticism of our methods a year ago and the same system is in vogue," the warden said. "A business manager is in charge and there are about twenty convicts assigned to keep books. It is true that some store receipts were thrown away, but they had been recorded in previous inventories and I heard of no difficulties in making inventories in the present audit."

Suggests Drug Inquiry.

"An analysis of receipt and withdrawal of morphine tablets, during the period from July 1, 1933, to Dec. 1, 1933, revealed unusual circumstances which in our opinion are such as to warant further investigation by proper officials," the auditors reported.

Col. Whipp denied that convicts found it easy to get dope and the auditors, according to the reports from Springfield, did not charge this. The quantity of morphine reported missing was 360 tablets, which, Col. Whipp said, cost $2.70. In several instances prison officials told auditors that signatures on requisitions for morphine were not theirs, the investigators declared.

"Most of the records, both principal and subsidiary, are kept carelessly or incompletely, often lack the most essential information, do not provide ready cross references, and abound with errors," the report charged.

BREMER GANG AVOIDS TRAP SET FOR THEM

Rock Island, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—How a trap laid for kidnapers of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn., for whose release on Feb. 7 the family paid $200,000 ransom, failed near Joy, Ill., this week was related by officers in Rock Island today.

The kidnapers had demanded an additional $10,000 to replace the same amount which they refused because of serial markings. The car of an intermediary passed through Davenport, Ia., and Rock Island Monday noon, carrying a package to be planted on a lonely stretch of dirt road between New Boston and Joy. The package was placed as demanded. Officers watched. No one picked it up.

However, a farmer, noticing an automobile containing a machine gun in the yard of a deserted farm, organized a posse and surrounded the car. It belonged to an officer.

INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE.

Evansville, Ind., March 14.—[Special.]—Clint Payne, 34, was indicted today by a Warrick county grand jury on a charge of killing John Mitchell, 40, of Boonville last Saturday night. Mitchell died a few hours after being stabbed.

ILLINI FACULTY, STUDENTS LAUD PREXY ELECTION

Choice of Willard Meets with Approval.

Urbana, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—The selection of Prof. Arthur Cutts Willard for the presidency of the University of Illinois meets with the approval of faculty men and students, it was revealed in comments made by many leading members of the faculty and student body today. Prof. Willard was chosen unanimously for the presidency by the board of trustees of the university at a meeting held in Chicago late Tuesday evening.

Dr. Arthur Hill Daniels, former dean of the graduate school, who has been acting president since the resignation of Dr. Harry Woodburn Chase last year, will relinquish the office to Prof. Willard on July 1, when his term expires. Dr. Daniels, who has reached the retiring age of 68 years, will then retire.

To Be Seventh President.

Prof. Willard will become the seventh president of the university when he assumes the office in July and the second engineer to hold the office. A successor to Prof. Willard as acting dean of the college of engineering will probably not be named until some time this summer, it was intimated today.

"The presidency of the University of Illinois is a great honor, but a much greater responsibility," said the president-elect on commenting on his appointment.

"The University of Illinois was founded to serve the people and the industries of the state and the record of its accomplishments is written largely in the lives of its alumni. The opportunity and the need for worthwhile service to the state is probably greater today than ever before in the history of the university. This opportunity will be met with all the resources at the disposal of the faculty and scientific staffs of the university both in Urbana-Champaign and in Chicago."

Dr. Daniels, acting president, praised the record of Prof. Willard and asserted the university faces the future with confidence under his leadership.

Voices Confidence in Willard.

"In the election of Arthur C. Willard as president the university trustees have chosen from the faculty a man who through twenty years of loyal and distinguished service to the university as a teacher, scientist, and administrator has the respect and confidence of students, alumni colleagues on the faculty and elsewhere in his profession, and of the industries of the state and nation," said Dr. Daniels. "The achievements of his former students are a record of his services as a teacher. As a scientist and engineer he is recognized as a national authority of the first rank in his specialty; his advice is invariably sought by engineers on important problems of heating and ventilating.

"I join with my colleagues on the faculty, students and loyal alumni in best wishes for the success of his administration, and I ask for him the same generous cooperation and loyal support which the friends of the university have given me."

REVOLT IN ROCKFORD JAIL IS QUELLED AS POLICE WIELD CLUBS

Rockford, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—Protesting a bread and water diet upon which they had been placed, five prisoners wrecked the southwest cell block of the Winnebago county jail here this morning. They hurled dishes through windows, smashed light bulbs and plugged up toilets and wash bowls to flood the entire jail tier before police squads and deputies could club them into submission.

They were thrown into solitary confinement after being subdued. Three of them, charged with auto larceny, were awaiting action upon pleas for probation. The fourth was to be taken to Joliet penitentiary to serve a one year sentence for assault with intent to commit robbery, and the fifth was serving a 60 day sentence for stealing auto tires.

MORE EVIDENCE POINTS TO WRECK AS 1ST LAKE SHIP

Diver Finds Vessel Was Scuttled and Burned.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 14.—[Special.]—A diver today continued a search for evidence that may establish that an old wreck near Hessel, a summer resort south of here, is that of Le Griffon, first sailing vessel on the great lakes, after he had discovered yesterday what he termed "unmistakable signs" that the little ship, whatever its name might be, was scuttled and burned.

It had previously been the intention to await the coming of spring to raise the wreck, but with the discovery of evidence that led to the belief that the wreck had been scuttled and burned, the chamber of commerce of Hessel pressed forward today to bring the wreck to the surface. Timbers were to be brought up today and it was the plan to assemble the wreck ashore in a museum built for the purpose.

Village Hums with News.

The little village today was buzzing with the excitement resulting from the discovery yesterday afternoon by Diver William McCoy. Should the vessel prove to be that of Le Griffon, there would be justification for the belief that Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de la Salle, who built and commanded the little craft before she departed on her fateful voyage from Green Bay, Wis., to Niagara in 1679, had been a victim of treachery of his crew. He believed they sank the ship and stole her rich cargo of furs which was to repay countrymen to whom he was deeply in debt for his enterprise of exploration.

The diver said after descending to the wreck that a large round hole, evidently opened with a large augur, had been made through the planking at the stern and that all of the upper works, nearly to the water line, had been burned away. He brought up a piece of wood, charred at both ends, through which two heavy square iron spikes had been driven. He also brought to the surface an iron rod about 14 inches long with a hand fashioned washer threaded at one end.

Even More Convinced.

With the discovery that possibly the ship was scuttled and burned, those in charge of the investigation are more firmly convinced than ever that the wreck at Birch island is that of the ill fated Griffon.

La Salle, himself, who no doubt knew her crew as well as he did the ship he built, was firmly of the opinion that he had been betrayed and his ship deliberately wrecked.

Parkman, noted historian, says of the Griffon's fate:

"Indian fur traders and even Jesuits have been charged with contriving her destruction. Some say that the Ottawas boarded and burned her after murdering those on board; others affirm that her own crew scuttled and sunk her; others again that she foundered in a storm.

La Salle Blamed Treachery.

"As for La Salle, the belief grew in him to a settled conviction that she had been treacherously sunk by the pilot and the sailors to whom he had entrusted her. La Salle, in a letter to Frontenac written in 1683, said that a young Indian, belonging to him, told him three years before he saw a white man answering the description of the pilot, a prisoner among a tribe beyond the Mississippi. He had been captured with four others while making his way with canoes laden with goods toward the Sioux. His companions had been killed. These circumstances, which La Salle details at great length, convinced him that the white prisoner was none other than the pilot of Le Griffon."

TELLS OF FORCED STRIKE TACTICS AT RACKET TRIAL

Witness Says Plant Was Blockaded.

BY JOSEPH ATOR.

A strike in which there were no employes to walk out, but in which union pickets nevertheless blockaded a pop bottling plant, was described yesterday in the racket conspiracy trial before Chief Justice Philip J. Finnegan of the Criminal court.

The witness who told the story, Joseph Benjamin, 1440 South Central Park avenue, was one of a number called during the day to back the prosecution contention that a criminal conspiracy was operated in the carbonated beverage industry in 1932 and 1933 through the agency of the Carbonated Beverage Institute of Chicago.

3 Defendants Involved.

Three of the eighteen defendants on trial are charged with participating in this phase of the general conspiracy charged in the indictment. They are A. J. Canfield, president of the institute; Morris I. Kaplan, its attorney, and Jerry Donovan, secretary of local 723 of the beverage drivers' union.

The indictment also named Murray Humphreys, Capone lieutenant, and Dave Ostran, an associate of Humphreys and field secretary of the institute, as participants in the beverage conspiracy, but they are fugitives. The other fifteen defendants, with Attorney Kaplan, are charged with racketeering in the laundry and cleaning and dyeing businesses.

In response to the questions of Assistant Prosecutor Thomas Dodd Healy, Benjamin testified that he, his brother, David, and David Cherny operated the Red Top Beverage company as partners, doing all their own work. On Sept. 20, 1932, Benjamin said, officials of Donovan's union surrounded the plant with pickets and prevented him and his partners from leaving the place.

Called a Chiseler.

When he was permitted to leave the plant, to interview Donovan, the union official charged him with cutting prices below the scale set by the institute, and called him a chiseler, Benjamin said. Before the pickets were withdrawn, he testified, he had to sign an agreement to cease the practices of which Donovan complained.

Another strike by Donovan's union was used to force the Green Lantern Beverage company, 400 North Paulina street, into the institute, it was charged by Attorney Charles G. Palmer, who preceded Benjamin on the witness stand. He was counsel for that company.

The strike was called on Feb. 1, 1932. Palmer said that he protested to Donovan that the plant used union help, and had had no trouble with its employes, and that Donovan sent him to a conference with Kaplan in which Donovan, two other officials of the union, Ostran and Palmer's clients participated. Kaplan charged the Green Lantern company with "chiseling" and said the strike would be called off if the company joined the institute and paid $175 as its first month's dues, Palmer said.

Strike Called Off.

"When I gave the check," Palmer related, "I said, 'This is with the understanding that the strike is to be called off.' Kaplan said, 'O. K.' He told Donovan that the Green Lantern had signed up, and to call off the pickets. Donovan called the plant in our presence and told his men that the strike was over."

The conspiracy case is founded in part on the prosecution contention that it is illegal for a labor organization to call a strike for the purpose of forcing an employer into any trade association.

On cross-examination Attorney Benedict J. Short, representing Kaplan, attempted to show that Palmer had at one time appeared in litigation as a representative of the Ku Klux Klan, in opposition to Kaplan, but prosecution objections to that vein of questioning were sustained.

Six Gunmen Call.

Leon Hirsch, who in 1932 was a partner in the Charles Westerholm company, another beverage concern located at 2340 West Erie street, testified that after repeated urging by Ostran, that company joined the beverage institute but failed to pay its dues. It was also fined $25 for a violation of the institute's trade practice code and failed to pay the fine.

Shortly after that, Hirsch said, six gunmen visited his plant, lined him and a screaming woman bookkeeper against a wall at the point of guns, and smashed the machinery in the place with sledge hammers. The company then paid its back dues, he said, and suffered no more trouble. Hirsch caused laughter in the courtroom when he identified Attorney Floyd E. Thompson, one of the defense counsel, as the defendant Canfield.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Removing an Obstacle

ORDER BY ICKES CALLED BLOW TO CITY'S BUSINESS

Chicagoans Attack Bill on Trade Wastes.

[BY A STAF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., March 14.—[Special.]—Four representatives of industry in Illinois protested to the general assembly today against the passage of a bill to allow the Chicago sanitary district to charge manufacturers for treating industrial waste they discharge into the city's sewage system.

Passage of the bill was part of the conditions laid down by Secretary of the Interior Ickes when he approved a $40,000,000 loan to the sanitary district to allow it to build sewage disposal plants in compliance with a decision by the United States Supreme court.

Fear Large Tax Burden.

Today the assembly was told that the bill would allow the district to tax every business in Chicago, the small shopkeepers as well as the vast packing plants in the stockyards. Each tradesman would be forced to install a meter gauging the quantity and content of waste he pours into the sewage system and that expense alone was estimated by one speaker at $25,000,000.

"I believe," said David R. Clarke, general counsel for the Illinois Manufacturers' association, "that this bill would affect 50,000 business establishments in Chicago. And I have been told that a meter to gauge the waste could not be purchased for much less than $500. So the initial cost to business men would be $25,000,000. No one can say how much they would be charged for treating this waste.

"There also is the matter of increasing pay rolls of the sanitary district if the bill becomes law. Hundreds and perhaps thousands of meter readers, chemists, and other employes would have to be employed, and either the industries or the taxpayers would pay the bill."

Protests for Packers.

Other speakers were Attorney James G. Condon of Chicago, appearing for the packers; L. B. Howson, Chicago engineer, and Louis A. Dumont of the Chicago Association of Commerce.

"We're in sympathy with treating packing house waste," Mr. Condon said, "but we will fight extravagant notions of how to do it. We believe that the cost of treating waste should be spread so that every one should bear his share. I hope to be able to see Mr. Ickes in Chicago Saturday and convince him that this bill is unjust."

Most of the sanitary district trustees and engineers were present for the joint hearing of house and senate members. Their plea for passage of the bill was made several weeks ago and today's session was for the purpose of hearing the opposition.

Cites Federal Orders.

Nevertheless, Trustee Ross A. Woodhull, chairman of the district's finance committee, made a short rebuttal argument in which he said that the district was only carrying out the orders of the government in seeking adoption of the bill.

Their argument at the previous hearing was that the Supreme court decision would reduce the flow in the drainage canal to such a point that it would become necessary to find new revenue with which to treat the waste.

No attempt was made to advance the bill after the hearing.

Labor Asks U. S. Aid in Fight for Recognition of Unions

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(AP)—Labor today began a major campaign for government assistance in winning industrial recognition of unions and equality of bargaining power between working men and their employers.

At the national labor board a hearing called to try to prevent widespread strikes in the automobile industry brought demands from American Federation of Labor men that employers be made to recognize their unions, coupled with warnings that the auto plants were "like a tinder box" to which a match would be touched unless prompt action were taken toward satisfying the men.

At the capitol Secretary Perkins joined Senator Wagner [Dem., N. Y.] and other witnesses in urging the senate labor committee to approve Wagner's bill, which would create a permanent labor board and outlaw employer influence over the organization of employes.

Today's were the first hearings on the measure, much opposed by leading industrialists.

Auto Magnate Sees Pay Boost.

As the automobile workers testified, leaders of that industry sat waiting their turn to answer the claims and demands. The automobile executives were resting upon yesterday's call by their code authority for a 36 hour average work week with increased pay rates.

Just what this plan entailed was not clear today. William S. Knudsen, executive vice president of General Motors and chief spokesman for the corporation at the labor board hearing, said it was not definite how the reduction in hours would be obtained since the average was to be taken over the year and there was no telling how long the high production period would run.

Knudsen said there probably would be a 10 per cent increase in hourly and piece pay rates, but he was not positive about the figure.

Labor Lists Grievances.

The labor witnesses at the strike hearing, speaking for various plants, all presented substantially one story:

That old employes had been discharged for various reasons after soliciting membership in the American Federation of Labor local unions or after opposing company union plans of the managements.

That plant officials last fall promoted the formation of company unions throughout the industry, with the exception of the Ford Motor company, frequently using pressure to get the men in.

That after the federation unions had been formed their leaders had not been able to get the management to negotiate on demands but had run into requests from the executives for lists of union members.

The principal demand put forward was for recognition of the unions with a requirement that once these had shown a majority membership in the plants through elections supervised by the labor board, they would become full spokesmen for all employes in negotiation of wages and hours. They demanded also that all men discharged for union activity be reinstated promptly.

Knudsen was accompanied by A. E. Barit, Hudson Motor company executive; Harlow Curtice, president of Buick, and E. F. Fisher, vice president of Fisher Body, together with other General Motors officials.

JANUARY RELIEF LIST HERE LOWER THAN DOWNSTATE

During January, for the first time since a state group was organized to distribute public funds to the destitute, Cook county had fewer families on the relief rolls than down state counties. There were 89,349 families on the Illinois Emergency Relief commission rolls in Cook county and 94,529 families receiving aid downstate.

The cost of relief for Cook county, however, amounted to $3,316,760, while the obligations incurred for downstate aid aggregated only $1,737,417, according to a report made public yesterday by commission auditors.

The proportion of the total state population receiving public aid decreased for January to 9.1 per cent. In December this percentage amounted to 11.4 per cent of the total population. Most of the decrease was due to Cook county, where the percentage of population on the relief rolls dropped from 12.2 in December to 8.5 per cent in January.

Alderman Present as Restaurant Is Held Up

Two armed men early today entered the restaurant of Walter Powers at 3950 West Madison street and after terrorizing a dozen guests, among them Ald. Thomas Terrell of the 29th ward, compelled Miss Ruth Frundberger, a cashier, to surrender $100. The pair then fled, joining two confederates in an automobile. No attempt was made to rob Ald. Terrell or the other patrons.

ORDER WRECKING DISCONTINUED ON OLD COUNTY JAIL

The work of demolishing the old county jail at Illinois and Dearborn streets was ordered discontinued until further notice yesterday by Commissioner of Public Works Oscar Hewitt. "We are simply taking time out to check up on the situation over there. I have no definite plans in view, but feel that an investigation is necessary," he declared.

Huge sections of the old brick walls had already been torn away by employes of the Civil Works administration, exposing the rows of cracked and rusted cell blocks. The project would provide space for parking, playgrounds, or other recreational activities. The wrecking of the jail is the first of a series of demolition projects which CWA officials and the city building commissioner hope will eliminate, between now and March 31, more than 3,000 condemned buildings.

Lehmann of the Chicago department store family, tonight said she was going to Chicago next week to press her divorce action against her husband, and would then return to Hollywood to continue with her contract as a motion picture actress. She is known in movies as Virginia Pine.

ENDS BIRTHDAY BY KILLING WIFE, FRIEND AT PARTY

Machinist Told He Lost Pension.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 14.—[Special.]—James M. Cain, 70 years old, climaxed his two day birthday celebration today by killing his wife and shooting a friend fatally while in his home in downtown Pittsburgh.

Tragic undertones had been sustained through the birthday celebration, for only a few days ago he learned he was to be retired without a pension, after 40 years as a railroad machinist, because he had been in the "outlaw" strike of 1926.

Cain was prevented from taking his own life when police leaped on him after surrounding his house at 16 Boyd street.

As the police lunged at Cain, whose back was turned, and knocked down his arm, he pulled the trigger of a pistol he had aimed at his head. The bullet went through the ceiling. Cain was overpowered.

A few moments afterward Cain, apparently suffering from prolonged drinking, sat on a kitchen table. He stared at the body of his 60 year old wife, Mrs. Creen Cain. He mumbled, "Is that my Tony? Is she dead?"

"My God!" he added, when told that she was.

Then he begged the police: "Let me die."

A guest in the house, James Fitzpatrick, 69, had been taken to the Mercy hospital before the arrival of police. He was wounded below the heart. He lived long enough to say Cain did the shooting.

From neighbors police learned that Cain had been a machinist for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad.

64 Dental Laboratories Fight State Sales Tax

Suit for an injunction to restrain Knowlton L. Ames Jr., state director of finance, from collecting the 2 per cent sales tax on dental articles manufactured by 64 dental laboratories was filed in the Circuit court yesterday. Attorney Alvin E. Stein, who filed the petition, said he would appear today before Judge Joseph Burke and seek a temporary injunction pending a full hearing of the suit.

KENTUCKY OFFICIAL SLAYS SECRETARY AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle McCrocklin, secretary to Nathan O. Gray, head of the state automobile department, was found shot to death today in an automobile with Gray, who also died of a bullet wound in the head.

The automobile was in a lane off the Louisville road. The couple was found by a farmer, who called G. C. Wainscott, a policeman. He gave it as his opinion that Gray shot his secretary and then turned the gun on himself. Gray held a pistol in his hand.

County Judge L. Boone Hamilton, acting coroner, said it was his belief that jealousy was the cause. Friends of Mrs. McCrocklin said she had remarked only yesterday that she would like to be transferred from Gray's department.

Her home was in Harlan, Ky., and his home was in Kuttawa, Ky.

STONE COMPANY ENDS DEFENSE AT NIGHT SESSION

Counsel for Henry F. Norcott, former president of H. O. Stone & Co., and four of his associates, who are on trial before Federal Judge Philip L. Sullivan for use of the mails to defraud, completed their closing arguments in a night session last night. The defense attorneys centered their attack on the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and pleaded that their clients were guiltless of wrong doing.

Judge Sullivan had ordered a night session to speed up the trial, the second for the ex-officials of the defunct real estate concern. They were previously convicted, but granted a new trial on appeal. It was indicated that Special Assistant District Attorney Joseph A. Struett, in charge of the prosecution, may speak all through today in his closing argument. In that event the case may not go to the jury until tomorrow.

AUTOMOBILE THEFTS.

Automobiles stolen, 32; recovered, 47; stripped, 5 [from police records for the twenty-four hours ending at midnight Tuesday].

GREED WRECKS PLAN TO PEDDLE SPURIOUS CASH

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Greed among a gang of counterfeiters who tried to rob one another of $45,000 in fake $5 bills led to their downfall today. As told by Alan G. Straight, secret service chief here, William Pundis, mail order house employe, and Stanley Whilchis, a linotype operator, both of Binghamton, N. Y., and a Brooklyn janitor met William Wintermuth and Robert Reidt of Baldwin, L. I.

The Long Islander got Frank Volkman, a printer on a Suffolk newspaper, to print the $5 bills for $3,000. Denied immediate pay the janitor completed $5,000 in spurious bills for himself, took $45,000 in half finished bills and fled.

The bills fell out of a bag in Albany. He buried them and fled, later writing and telling where it was buried. Two pals sought it and the government sought them. According to Straight, Pundis and Whilchis confessed.

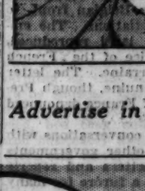

CLEANING PLANT WORKERS STRIKE OVER PAY, HOURS

More than 650 members of the Cleaners', Dyers' and Pressers' union, who are employed in 15 Chicago cleaning plants, walked out on strike yesterday. Without waiting for formal action by union officers the men left their work charging that their employers are violating the NRA code by paying women $8 a week for working 50 and 60 hours and men $15 to $18 for the same number of hours.

The workers declared that an appeal was made to the NRA regional board without success. Union officials have called a mass meeting of the workers for next Sunday when official strike action is expected.

Frank Harsher of the Cleaners' and Dyers' association said yesterday that he did not know the motives behind the strike. He announced that officials of the association would discuss the situation with NRA authorities today.

EMPRESS ZITA'S BROTHER, PRINCE SIXTE, DIES AT 47

Tried for Separate Peace for Austria-Hungary.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 14.—Prince Sixte of Bourbon-Parme, brother of former empress Zita of Austria-Hungary, died here today of an illness contracted several years ago on an exploration trip to the Congo. He was 47 years old.

During the war Prince Sixte, proud of his French blood, attempted to negotiate a separate peace for Austria-Hungary, one of the conditions of which was giving Alsace-Lorraine to France. The negotiations were stopped when Italy objected, believing that the United States would soon enter the war with the allies.

Prince Sixte was the seventh of 18 children of Duke Robert of Parme. He was a son of the duke's second wife, the duchess Marie Antonia, and was born in Wartegg château, Switzerland, Aug. 1, 1886. He was married in Paris, Nov. 12, 1919, to Hedwige de la Rochefoucauld. They have a daughter. His younger brother, Felix, was married six days before, to Charlotte, grand duchess of Luxembourg.

Early in 1917 Emperor Charles I. of Austria-Hungary recalled Sixte, who was serving on the Belgian front, to conduct peace negotiations. The emperor, in a letter later reproduced, recognized the justice of the French claim to Alsace-Lorraine. The letter was found to be genuine, though Premier Clemenceau of France denounced it.

Prince Sixte held conversations with representatives of other governments in Switzerland. Letters and reports of the talks caused a furore for many months and involved the names of Count Czernin, Austrian premier; President Poincare, and other French statesmen, and Prime Minister Lloyd George of Great Britain.

RELATIVES FAIL TO PAY RANSOM; MAN IS SLAIN

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Believed to have been killed because of the failure of his relatives to pay $5,000 ransom, the body of a man tentatively identified as Max Kasoff, 37, was found early today on Long Beach road, Ocean Side, L. I. He had been blindfolded and shot twice in the head and once in the neck.

Kasoff, who had been in the automobile rental business in East Houston street, last was seen at 1 a. m. last Thursday when he left his apartment to take his car to the garage. His disappearance was not reported to the police until 1 a. m. Tuesday by a brother.

In the interval the Kasoff family received word that Kasoff had been "taken for a ride" and that he would be freed if $5,000 were paid.

ROBERT TRIEGER, NORWOOD 'POLICE CHIEF,' IS DEAD

Robert E. Trieger, known during his long service in the Chicago police department as the unofficial "chief of police of Norwood Park," died suddenly yesterday in his home at 5927 North Harlem avenue. He was 68 years old. Funeral services will be held Saturday.

Trieger resigned from the police department in 1929 after 38 years on the force. He joined the police force in 1891, and when the little town of Norwood Park was incorporated into the city limits of Chicago in 1893 Trieger was given the beat and kept it until he resigned. The citizens in the district got the habit of using his home as the local police station, waking him up at all hours.

FAMOUS RUSSIAN AVIATOR MISSING ON RESCUE FLIGHT

MOSCOW, March 15 [Thursday].—(AP)—The intrepid Russian air pilot, Liapidevsky, who recently saved 12 women and children from an ice floe in the Arctic ocean off Bering strait, was believed today to have met disaster in an attempt to rescue 89 remaining members of the Wrangel island expedition.

The government rescue commission announced early today that the flyer had disappeared. It was believed he had been forced down after taking off yesterday morning from Cape Wellen, across the strait from Alaska.

The flyer had started for Cape Van Karen, where it was proposed to establish a new base for airplane rescue operations, intensified in the last two weeks by the breaking up of the ice on which the survivors of the vessel Cheliuskin are marooned.

WIFE WHO SLEW HUSBAND TRIES TO END HER LIFE

Mrs. Dolly Elwell, 28 years old, who shot and killed her husband, James, in their flat at 6231 South Park way on Feb. 15, attempted to commit suicide yesterday by inhaling gas in her room in Indianapolis. In the room was an envelope containing $500, which was addressed to a relative who is caring for Mrs. Elwell's two children.

Indianapolis authorities took Mrs. Elwell to the city hospital for treatment and asked the police here if she was still wanted. They were informed that the grand jury voted a no bill in her case and that no charges were pending against her here. She had told the police she shot her husband, who was general manager of a concern printing theater programs, when he attacked her with a knife.

IF YOU GET UP NIGHTS
Lax the Bladder With Juniper Oil, Buchu, Etc.

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Juniper oil is pleasant to take in the form of BUKETS, the bladder laxative, also containing Buchu leaves, etc. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 25c box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep.

FLEES POLICE AT FATHER'S BIER; TAKEN AT DANCE

Last Friday Thomas Girsch died. On Sunday his son, Thomas Jr., who had been dodging the police since some companions implicated him as a member of a stickup gang, went to the family home at 2939 Allen avenue.

A policeman called there seeking him the same day, but forebore to search the house when he learned of Girsch's death. Young Girsch, however, did not care to remain longer. His mother borrowed $10 and gave it to him and he departed.

His first stop was a dance hall at 527 South State street, where he checked his hat and overcoat and danced away his $10. In the overcoat, while he danced, the checkroom girl found a note which read: "Stick 'em up; this is a robbery." It was part of his professional equipment.

The police were called and Girsch was arrested. Thomas Sr. was buried yesterday, but his son didn't attend the funeral. He was at the detective bureau telling of his crimes.

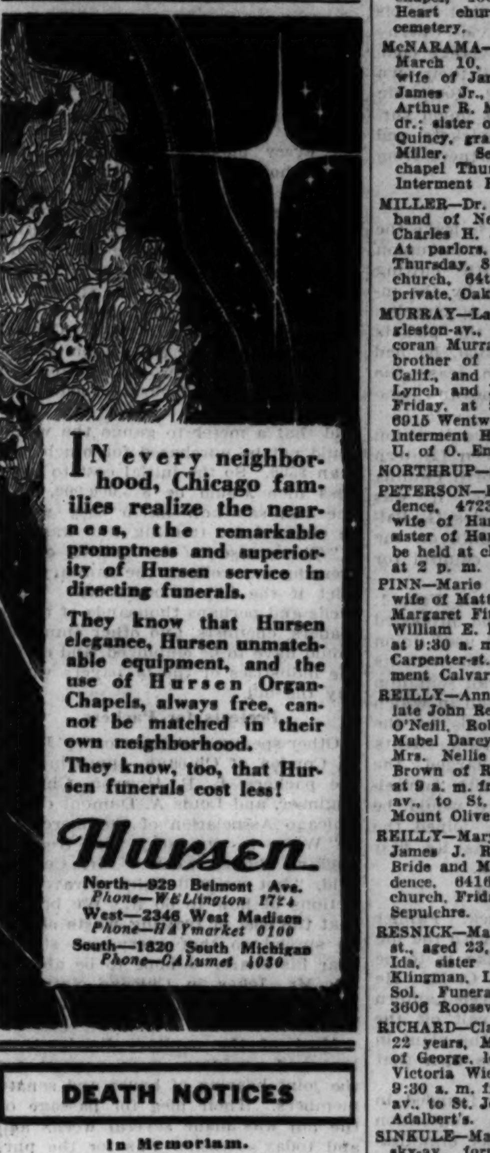

WOMAN ORDERED HELD TO JURY IN SLAYING OF BOY

Mrs. Anna Kmiec, 49 years old, owner of a candy store at 2648 North Western avenue, was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of manslaughter yesterday after she had shot and killed Stanley Paulszynski, 15 years old, 2836 North Rockwell street.

Mrs. Kmiec told a coroner's jury that a group of boys came into her store Tuesday evening and began to play a penny slot machine. They were noisy and scared customers away with their profanity, she declared. They refused to leave when she told them to get out, she said.

"I got an old revolver which has been in the house for two years," she continued. "I decided to fire the revolver into the air to scare them. I didn't mean to hit anyone."

The Paulszynski boy was struck by the bullet and died before he could be taken to a hospital. Mrs. Kmiec was taken to the county jail after the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Students Plan Vacation Trips from Colleges

Many Are Going South for Spring Holidays.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ALONG about this time of the year when crocuses and tulips are beginning to show their heads, the younger generation does classroom day dreaming about trunks that need packing, train reservations to points west and south, and a gay fortnight swirling with play.

Few of the eastern colleges and boarding schools are declaring their spring holidays on the same day this year, but most of the spring vacations overlap at least by several days so that brothers and sisters have a chance for reunion whether it's at home or away at a southern resort.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fortune are planning for their two younger daughters, Barbara, a student at Vassar, and Jane, who is taking life seriously this year at the University of Chicago, to vacation with them at Hot Springs. Mr. and Mrs. Fortune and Jane will meet Barbara and Miss Eleanor Kirkland, daughter of the Weymouth Kirklands and also a student at Vassar, at the Virginia resort the end of next week.

The gay, good time the three young women will have is assured by the fact that an interesting delegation from Princeton and Harvard will be at Hot Springs over Easter, for the Princeton Glee club is to give a concert in the Homestead's little theater the evening of March 31 and the Harvard Hasty Pudding club is to present its show the evenings of April 2 and 3, also at the Homestead.

Peter Fortune, who was graduated from Princeton last year, is half way around the world on his globe trotting journey. He plans to be away as long as their money holds out.

Waller Reunion at Palm Beach.

William Waller III., a Yale undergraduate, is another who is going south instead of returning home for his spring vacation. With two classmates and his cousin, Robert T. Wheeler, a student at Choate, he will go to Palm Beach to join his mother, Mrs. William Waller, and his sister, Miss Virginia Waller, at the Waller home, "Casa Manana." Miss Waller left for the south yesterday, taking with her her two cousins, Miss Jean O'Brien and Miss Louise Brewer. Mrs. Waller is leaving this morning.

First among the spring vacation arrivals here are the three attractive daughters of Mrs. Frank J. Bersbach, Barbara, Helen, and Joan, who come today from their studies at the Shipley school. Miss Anne Bryant, daughter of the John Jay Bryants, will not be at home from Shipley until Saturday, but this will be in plenty of time for her to find a fancy dress costume for the Junior Fortnightly masquerade Saturday evening at the Fortnightly club to which she has been invited.

Early this morning Miss Ruth Elting is planning to meet her cousin, Miss Barbara McNulty, daughter of the Byron McNultys of Pasadena, who is coming to spend her holiday from Farmington in Chicago. Miss Elting is the daughter of Mrs. Philip Le Fevre Elting.

Allene Withers to Take Air Trip.

Most exciting of any vacation trips is the cross continental hop Miss Allene Withers, a debutante of the last season, is going to make in order to take part in the wedding of her sister, Miss Leila Bond Withers, and William Oothout Davidson, April 7 in Pasadena, Cal.

As soon as Sarah Lawrence adjourns on March 30 Miss Withers will go by train and plane to the west coast. For the last several years her mother, Mrs. Allen L. Withers, has lived in a charming Spanish house in Pasadena during the winter and there it is that Miss Leila has chosen to be married. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davidson of Santa Barbara. Allene will be her sister's only attendant. Kenneth Waters of Santa Barbara will be best man for Mr. Davidson.

Two more Sarah Lawrence students, also both debutantes of the season just past, are planning to remain east for their vacation. Miss Nancy Harris, daughter of the junior Alan H. Harrises, will go to New York to visit Miss Herricka Button, daughter of the William H. Buttons, while Miss Patricia Calkins, daughter of the George B. Calkinses, will be with friends in and about Boston and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Forgan are setting out by motor this week for the east to spend a quiet and restful holiday in New England with their two daughters, Margaret Louise, who is enrolled at the Garland school in Boston, and Miss Nancy Forgan, who is at Chatham Hall in Virginia.

Instead of returning to Chicago Miss Mary de Tarnowsky, who made her bow to society last fall, will go from Bredford Junior college at Bradford, Mass., to visit her cousin, Miss Violet Oakley of Philadelphia, the well known portrait painter. Miss Jean Lamson, the debutante of the Warren Lamson family, and Miss Betty Ballard, who is the Ernest Ballards' daughter, will be back from Bryn Mawr by Easter day.

The middle of next week Miss Dorothy Ott, daughter of the John Nash Otts, and Miss Peggy Sargent, whose mother and father are the Chester F. Sargents, will start the return from Smith.

Two Students Will Be Fashion Models.

Miss Marjorie Mills and Miss Cornelia Fabian are anticipating their return from Smith. They are to be fashion mannequins during their Good Morning!

And now comes Richard Barthelmess, crusading in the cause of the American Indian. A worthy cause—and a good picture. In "Heroes for Sale," you will remember, he took the side of the war veterans.

This film's title suggests a story concerned with wholesale scalpings. Such is not the case—literally. Figuratively—yes. "Massacre" would inform the world of cruel wrongs endured by the Indian on reservations allotted to him by the White Man—ostensibly his benefactor and protector. Thus it is that you see the latter as scalper and the former as scalpee. A reversal of order from other days.

Mr. Barthelmess plays Joe Thunder Horse, son of a Sioux chief, and a graduate of Haskell university.

Joe is star attraction of the Wild West show at A Century of Progress—a meal ticket for his employers and a pet of neurotic ladies—when word comes that his dying father desires his presence.

He returns to the reservation for his first visit since he was 5 years old. Alas, what a state of affairs he runs into . . . !

A corrupt agent, assisted by blood sucking missionaries, water power, cattle and oil interest representatives and other lesser folk, is oppressing and cheating the pitiful redskins over whom he has jurisdiction. None are safe from the crooks. Joe's sister, on the day of his father's funeral, is violated by one of them . . ."

But help is at hand. Joe Thunder Horse goes to bat, i. e., to Washington and there seeks and obtains succor . . .

The picture is frankly propaganda. Quite the most forceful screen propaganda against American injustice since Muni made "I Am a Fugitive." It is based on Robert Gresner's book, "Massacre."

The story develops logically and dramatically. Mr. Barthelmess is at a virile best. Ann Dvorak proves intelligent and appealing as the slim Indian Haskell graduate who acts as secretary to the agent, Quissenberry, and aids Joe in his campaign. Dudley Digges plays the latter nastily—as he should—and Claire Dodd does a smooth bit as the thrill hungry society girl. Minor parts were well cast.

A worth while film—very!

Produced by Harold Austin.
Presented at the Castle theater.

There comes a time in the life of every kingsnake when he looks just like the NRA eagle.

If you don't believe this, watch the fellow over on the Castle screen during his encounter with a fitch.

"Eat 'Em Alive" was produced by Harold Austin, who made "Africa Speaks," "Fisherman's Paradise," and "Monsters of the Deep," and the adventures it details are comparatively near home. The picture was filmed in the American desert of Texas, Nevada and Arizona.

Personally I'm fed up—for the present, anyway—with watchin, dog eat dog, so to speak. Some of the scenes in this release would have made me downright ill had I kept my eyes open. Fine way to review a movie! scoff you—with your eyes shut. Well—if you enjoy watching foot after foot of film devoted to the minute by minute depiction of one snake consuming another, a live frog being swallowed quarter inch by quarter inch, by a reptile, a centipede gorging on a live black widow spider—go to it. Nazi on it, so far as I'm concerned!

However, the entire production isn't devoted to such ghastly spectacles. There's an amusing fray between the aforementioned fitch and rattler, an interesting view of bird life in the vicinity of Pyramid lake—an amazing body of sweet water in the very heart of the desert—and some things like that. The accompanying lecture is informative and well delivered. Photography is excellent, when you consider the climatic conditions under which the cameraman worked.

But I do wish they'd declare "closed season" on these "eat or be eaten" films. For awhile.

See you tomorrow.

The Chicago Urban league will hold its nineteenth annual dinner at 6 o'clock tonight in the Chicago Woman's club, 72 East 11th street. Dr. Horace J. Bridges will speak on "Hitlerism and Race Prejudice." Elbridge Bancroft Pierce, president of the league, will introduce Dr. Bridges.

A Wish for Good Weather on Tuesday

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

To see Mrs. John D. Ames looking out of her Astor street window one must know that she is hoping it will be pleasant weather Tuesday night for the Emerson Settlement house benefit at Orchestra hall, where Princess Aleka Rostislav will give a monologue titled "Pages from My Memoirs." Originally scheduled as one of the series of Sunday entertainments that the Emerson house board has sponsored, the lecture was postponed from two Sundays ago until next Tuesday. Mrs. Ames is a member of the Emerson board of directors.

Farrell Plays Polo as Studio Chiefs Worry

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 14.—[Special.]—Charlie Farrell has been sneaking in a lot of early morning polo practice that gives his employers at Fox studio the jitters.

The contracts of nearly all polo playing actors include clauses binding them to stay off their ponies while they are appearing in any particular picture. But Fox's was so glad to get Charlie back for his current role with Janet Gaynor in "Change of Heart" that the studio didn't insist on the polo clause.

Charlie confesses he feels guilty about it, but he just simply can't resist Jim Gleason's pleading for "just one chukker this morning before we go to work." And Spencer Tracy, who also is a polo enthusiast who works at the same studio and has horses at the same stables, must sit in the stands while Charlie plays. Tracy does have one of these contract clauses.

Farrell has sold his yacht to concentrate on polo. He has bought fifteen polo ponies and stables them at Uplifters Ranch near the seashore outlet of Santa Monica canyon. "I have two very good friends who have their own yachts, both bigger and better yachts than mine was," Charlie says, "and they will see I go sailing whenever I want to. Besides no one can uphold two expensive sports like polo and yachting at the same time."

Jim Gleason, a pleasing and interesting actor, is working on the Farrell-Gaynor film as a dialog director. "I decided to quit as an actor," Gleason said. Knowing this decision won't please theater and movie goers, I asked why. "O, when anything gets to be a grind it's time to quit. It got so acting wasn't any fun to me any more."

Gleason collaborated on the script for "Change of Heart" which is the new name the movies bestowed on the Kathleen Norris' story, "Manhattan Love Song."

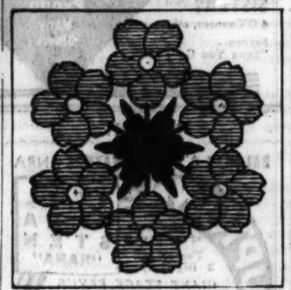

Hal Mohr, who is handling the camera work for the film is the grayish haired fellow who may become a son-in-law to Prof. Emerson Venable of the University of Cincinnati one of these days unless usual signs fail.

Evelyn Venable, the professor's daughter, and one of the most promising of filmdom's younger leading women, was at the Fox studio café again yesterday to have lunch with Hal. To do so, she had to make a grand rush from Paramount studio, eight miles distant, where Evelyn does her own movie work.

Versatile Quilt Is Modification of English Theme

Patterns of this quilt design are 5 cents each, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices, One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Wreath of Violets.

BY NANCY CABOT.

Taken from an old English quilt, this block has been modified to be used in a room with French provincial, beechwood furniture, or a colonial mahogany suite. Violet blue, green, and a touch of yellow fulfill the quilt rule of two cool colors and one warm color for each appliqued block. The completed coverlet requires only 24 applique blocks and 18 plain ones.

Mrs. Herrick Praises Notable Advances of Women in Government

Genevieve Forbes Herrick of the Washington staf of THE TRIBUNE described how women in Washington are helping to break precedents at the Hotel Sherman yesterday. Mrs. Herrick spoke before a joint luncheon of the Alliance of Business and Professional Women of Chicago and the Association of Commerce. The occasion was in recognition of National Business Women's week, March 12 to 17.

Women prominent in the fields of journalism, industry, and public service were present to hear Mrs. Herrick disclose the connection between "Work, Women, and Washington." Quoting Frances Perkins, secretary of labor, "It's time we treated ourselves to a bit of civilization," Mrs. Herrick praised the very noticeable advance of women to high offices. Miss Perkins she described as a leader, not of women so much as of men.

"The feminine politician and civil service worker realizes that she owes what seniority she has to men as well as women," Mrs. Herrick explained. "The strictly feminist attitude has almost entirely disappeared. No such thing as a 'women's bloc' exists in Washington."

Another observance yesterday of National Business Women's week took place in the city council chambers. With Mrs. John Wesley Gray acting as mayor pro-tem, members of the alliance held a ten minute session. Mayor Kelly addressed them, asking for their coöperation in solving the city's financial problems.

Meringues Do Fluffy Marvels with Desserts

Egg Whites Have Exciting Potentialities.

Economical tips for week-end food shoppers—a weekly radio feature—will be presented tomorrow by Mary Meade over station W-G-N. Tune in at 2 o'clock for Miss Meade's market chat.

BY MARY MEADE.

Meringues—they're fairly bursting out all about town these days with fluffs, puffs, and kisses! They're piling up on fat slabs of pie and baking themselves brown cheeked in the oven. They're crowning tartlets and loving it. They're perching on crackers, and they're baking themselves into crunchy foundations for all the fruits that blush in the spring, tra la!

So, if you can lay aside bridge, bed quilts, and other serious matters for a bit, we'll blow ourselves to a bit of air and egg white—and see what wonders we can work.

All meringues, like all Gaul, are divided into three parts. There are those airy concoctions which are piled onto pies and browned. There are the come-hither egg white frostings. And there are baked and crunchy kisses and glaces.

Half the world is sure it can make the best pie meringue that ever coyly held a peak. And the rest of the cooks would give their pet poodles if they could. So, if you belong to the wise ones, skip this next. But if you're just one of the rest of us, here is a handful of pointers for weepless, shrinkless, sinkless pie meringues.

Be knowing and allow 2 tablespoons of granulated sugar for each egg white. If the sugar is powdered, use 2 tablespoons of the fine stuff and 1 of granulated sugar. Mix the two sweets together and they join company more easily with the eggs.

So, for the trick of beating up pie meringue. Beat the egg whites until foamy, but not stiff. Begin adding the sugar, continuing beating until the whole business is stiff. Know why you beat it in, and don't use fold? It's because folded-in sugar seems more often to cause little drops of water to ooze out disconsolately after the baking is finished. And lie on a weeping pie when all the world is gay!

A pie meringue whispers of a pie in the offing. So, out with it. If the filling has been pre-cooked, chill it well before tumbling it into the baked pie shell. You'll find there'll be little chummy intermingling between filling and meringue if the former turns a very cold shoulder to the fluff as it descends.

In dashing the egg white pie-ward, don't be too concerned with the manner of its coming. Pile it on lightly from a spoon, and don't you dare smooth it down or you'll spoil the bumpety brownness which is it's pride and joy.

Whereupon, ovenward—ho! And here comes a clash of schools, both of which are right. For excellent meringues may be made with a very hot oven and a short baking time, while others love the comfort of a slow oven for a longer time. Likely the high temperatures and short times are best when we have lemon pies or others in which the filling should be only slightly heated. As a rule to tack on a brain shelf, a moderately slow oven [325 to 250 degrees F.], with 12 to 15 minutes, will do the act.

Which guides us into the paths of cake frosting which, we find, take shape when we add more than the above mentioned amount of sugar per egg white. The idea here is to make sirup of the sugar, and then drizzle it slowly into the being-beaten egg whites. This hot stuff cooks the eggs and does away with baking. Or, here's a frosting which brings in cream of tartar, and promises a meringue of fine texture and color and grand fluffiness.

FLUFFY CAKE FROSTING.

Turn 1½ cups of sugar, ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar, and ⅛ teaspoon salt into 1 cup hot water. Boil without stirring until a thread forms from the tines of a fork. It will read 245 degrees F. on a candy thermometer. Beat 2 egg whites until stiff, then continue whipping them vigorously as you drizzle in the sirup. Beat until stiff enough to spread, then add ½ teaspoon of lemon extract. Pile lightly onto top and sides of your cake.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

We've been fussing around with a certain kind of cream rouge for more than two weeks. When we first came upon it in one of our stores we'll confess to recoiling in absolute horror. It is, in its container, boldly, blatantly orange—as vivid as the fruit itself. And orange rouge is something we never could write home about. Too easy to go wrong with it, where most skins are concerned.

But after a few seconds of experimentation with this one on the back of our hand we decided we'd been pretty hasty with the theatrical recoil gesture. On the flesh that orange rouge changes miraculously.

We tried it first on a pal whose coloring we'd defy any one to classify—fair skin, delicately pink cheeks, medium brown eyes, and medium brown hair. She's rather the English type, if you get what we mean. Her skin has definit red undertones; we never dreamed this orange rouge would suit. But it did; it's the most perfect rouge she has ever used, giving a soft, healthy pink glow that is exactly what she needs. This success of orange cast rouge on pink toned skin was a huge surprise to us; it's actually the first time we ever saw it work well.

The next woman we made use it was gray haired, with skin that is almost transparently white. It gave her a rosy cheek tint that livened her eyes and emphasized subtly the whiteness of her skin; altogether perfecting the pink and white picture that is so charming in mature women.

A brunette with definit yellow skin undertones found that it did something effective for her, too; gave her a warm, almost red shade that took her complexion tint out of the sallow into the glowing class.

The only woman we found who couldn't possibly use it was red haired. Her skin is fair and the rouge looked well on the skin; considering the ensemble of skin and hair the effect wasn't so good.

In addition to its virtues as a cheek coloring medium, this is one of the easiest rouges to apply—because it is delightfully creamy.

Appearance More Important than Style.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Reversing the formula of accenting to the nth degree, your best asset, come down just as firmly with the soft pedal on things about you that are not so good.

The other night, at a show, a young woman was observed who took the new streamline hair edict too literally. Her ears were really ugly, but the hair was pulled back sharply from the brow and from the sides of the face, leaving only the two ears fully exposed. She was in style, but why expose a liability simply to follow one fashion edict? There are dozens of other chic ways of hairdressing. One doesn't have to follow one style only. In fact, one with a pair of homely ears might, if clever, create a unique style for herself. A great many of our fashion vogues have been crated because of a leader's liability of one sort or another. But one does not really need to "create" to cover ears, what with all the clever coiffure arrangements available today.

If you have small, shapely ears there is no coiffure arrangement so charming as that which will let the ears be shown. Ears need not be so small and shell-like to be worn exposed, but they cannot be large or stand noticeably away from the head.

Here and there, it is true, one runs across a woman who appears to be able to break all rules, do with her hair what she wants, or wear clothes that no one else would wear, but such a person has to be a strong personality, a woman of great interest personally, to get away with it.

But, speaking of ears, it is a curious phenomenon how comparatively few women have lovely ones. However, it is one of the liabilities, where it is a liability, which needn't be cried over, since an ear may be so artfully covered. Partial covering is generally all that is needed, and, if one wants the swept back look to the coiffure it may still be managed nicely with the upper half of the ear in concealment. Then, if it is still a large ear, one can always minimize its lobe-size with a fetching earring.

Illinois D. A. R. Open Meeting at Evanston; Hear Defense Chief

More than 600 members of the Daughters of the American Revolution assembled yesterday at the Evanston Woman's club for the 38th annual convention of the Illinois chapter. The conference will extend through Friday.

Mayor Charles H. Bartlett extended greetings to the women after Mrs. Julian G. Goodhue, state regent, had formally opened the convention.

Mrs. William A. Becker of Montclair, N. J., chairman of the national defense committee of the D. A. R., outlined the national organization's position on matters of military policy. She warned the women that the D. A. R. should not become a militaristic organization even though it has taken a firm stand on adequate national defense.

A Vicious Circle

By ALICE CAMPBELL

SYNOPSIS.

Tommy Rostetter, Paris correspondent of the London Times, is persuaded by his friend, Helen Roderick, editor of L'Etoile, to take her place at a dinner party. Otherwise there'd be thirteen guests. The party is given by Dorinda, known as Dodo Quarles, in the Paris apartment that was her mother's. Dodo's mother was Helen's closest friend. Dodo herself is untrammeled by scruples or breeding. Her stepfather, Basil Jethro, celebrated Oxford scholar, is her guardian and trustee. He has long since given up trying to curb her. Helen had promised Basil she would keep Dodo under her wing a bit. Basil appears for a short while on the eve of the party. Tommy's dinner partner is Dinah Blake, young American artist, whose engagement to Christopher Loughton in the American embassy, according to rumor, was broken on account of Dodo. Bannister Mowbray, of forbidding reputation, is the guest of honor.

INSTALMENT IV.

A SAVAGE WEAPON.

What exactly was Bannister Mowbray? Difficult to separate facts from myth. Rumor had it he came of a good Highland family, his mother a Greek, and that in a remote past he had been sent down from his university for dubious practices. At all events he was known to have delved deep into mysteries the normal eschews, and to have founded a cult which, after being hounded from place to place, was now domiciled in Corsica. Just what went on in the circle of his initiates no outsider could definitly state, but credible report declared that the man's readiness to prey on the infatuated disciples who clung to him with a strange devotion.

Would the fickle Dorinda be enrolled as one of these followers? Tommy doubted it, even though at the moment she was lavishing eager attention on her new prize, scarcely noticing the slim, dark-eyed Argentine on her left, except, now and then, to rest a careless arm on his shoulder or tweak his ear with a bearish caress. The girl was devoid of coquetry. She took what she wanted, yawned, and turned elsewhere, and yet, possibly because her frank exuberance acted on one like a heady tonic, Tommy found it hard to dislike her, easy to excuse her crude shortcomings, and—but this was after his third glass of champagne—beginning to condone her treatment of Basil Jethro, on the plea that oil and water will not mix.

He took stock of the other guests. The Argentine and a callow, noisy Italian boy called Umberto he dismissed as nonentities, together with a pink-and-white English girl, Rosemary Anson, Rita Falkland, a languishing blonde who long ago had been a star at Daly's theater and was now the ex-wife of the South African diamond king, Aaron Kroll, was decked out in most of her jewels, including the diamond marguerite and twin ropes of pearls which had caused endless litigation, and it was amusing to see Mowbray's covetous glances at the treasures which never by any chance could be wrested from their owner's grasp save over her dead body. She was empty-handed and intent on but two passions—preserving her beauty and legal tussels over her alimony.

A slenderly exquisite Englishwoman with the madonna-face framed in bat's wings of glistening jet hair was placed on Mowbray's right. She was a Mrs. Cope-Villiers, familiarly known as Dick, virginal to view, and a reputed addict to cocaine, who for years had clung tenaciously to the tired, gentle Russian painter with the string-colored hair—his name was Misha Soukins—at present conversing with Tommy's partner.

Next door to Dick Cope-Villiers was Ronald Cleeves, second son of Lord Conisbroke, and for some time past the henchman of Bannister Mowbray—a young man of radiant Saxon type and an Apollo's build, whose physical perfection was marred only by a total lack of animation. Not a muscle of his face moved, even his eyes remained blank and expressionless, as though what lay behind them was frozen in a glacier. At intervals, after the manner of boys from the same school, he and the woman next him exchanged desultory gossip. Of the other guests he took no notice.

The woman just mentioned was the soignee, rapier-edged "Cissy" Gault, daughter of Sir Adrian Gault, steamship magnate, and she for her part was intent on cold-shouldering the eager, elderly bachelor vainly clamoring for attention on her other side. Tommy could not blame her, for in his estimation Peter Hummuck, some time of South Bend, Indiana, ranked as the most pestiferous social nuisance in Paris. Peter, with his crumpled face and washed-out eyes, was inescapable. Although nominally he dealt in antiques and designed teagowns for middle western compatriots, he appeared to spend his entire existence in a tireless dash from one gay function to another. Tommy let his gaze wander past to the glum and taciturn Australian poetess, Maud Daventry, who was his close neighbor in the Place du Palais Bourbon, but whom he seldom encountered except on the stairs. Her conversation with him so far had been limited to her Borzoi's distemper.

Having boxed the compass, he turned again, with relief, to study the piquant profile and delicate ear of Dinah Blake. Different, yes—a hedge-rose accidentally caught up amidst stale, hot-house blooms. He could not see her eyes but he knew their color—clear, aquamarine blue, pure as crystal, and exactly matching her tulle frock which, Victorian in its primness, sheathed her small body and billowed softly to the floor.

Alert, purposeful, the girl could have nothing in common with her present associates. He felt vaguely sorry to find her here, sorrier still to note, as he now did, the feverish texture of her gaiety. Helen was probably right in believing she was wretchedly unhappy, but determined not to show it. Admiring the gallant stand she was making, he felt a sudden desire to lend his support.

The opportunity of doing so came sooner than he expected. Momentarily silent and distrait, she was staring straight ahead of her at Dorinda, who, her apricot gown slid from her shoulder, eyes swimming darkly like pools covered in heat-haze, and over-ripe lips curved in a smile, was sprawling blowsily forward with elbows on the table. How coarse the latter looked! Almost like a handsome octaroon. Glancing sideways he saw his companion's underlip caught between her teeth, her eyes contracted with a strangely concentrated look of hatred. . . .

Tommy's ire rose against Loughton, the conceited under-secretary at the American embassy, whom he regarded as the less-pardonable culprit, and whom he had already a reason for wanting to thrash. Infernal puppy! But quick, something must be done, before other eyes saw what he had seen. He addressed his partner with such precipitancy that she jumped.

"Virginia?" she repeated, gay again, and turning her clear gaze full upon him. "Yes, how did you guess it? But do I expect to go back there to live? I'm afraid not. It's a heavenly place, but could I earn a penny amongst people who still paint natural roses and on dessert-plates and adore the monarch of the glen? My efforts would horrify them. I should end by burning the lot—as I very nearly did this afternoon."

"What restrained you?" he inquired.

"O—ingrained economy, I suppose. Canvases cost money. Some day I'll scrape mine and use them again."

All went smoothly, in flippant vein, till the occurrence of the incident which, for two persons, was to be fraught with such dire consequence. If only the silver grape-scissors had done their job properly! As luck would have it, the hostess, for once alive to her guests' needs, glanced across in time to see Mrs. Cope-Villiers struggling with them, and made a long arm to the sideboard behind her.

"Try this," she cried, displaying a savage-looking dirk with a handle of white bone and brass. "I'm told it's done murder, so it ought to cut a grape stem."

"Darling!" gasped Dick, "but how rash of you! Where did you get hold of such a divine weapon?"

"Trailed a thrilling black man round and round the Toulon quais. Did my damnedest to vamp him, but all I got was his knife."

Uproarious laughter.

GASOLINE ALLEY—BEWARE OF CAULIFLOWER FEET

Dancing Called Necessity for Healthy Youth

BY DORIS BLAKE.

She's crazy about dancing. And he won't take her to dancing places. So she has been two-timing him lately, and quarrels upon quarrels have arisen over her harmless vice.

She says over and over again that she'd rather dance than eat. Her folks and her friends tell her she is going to lose this grand Bill of hers unless she curbs those dancing feet. But why, we would inquire, can't the grand Bill get a little fast motion in his feet? He's not an old man, isn't troubled with rheumatism or flat feet. He's just ornery on the dancing subject for no explicable reason.

Why youth is ever afflicted with a distaste for the dance floor is one of those things beyond our comprehension. We think there is something missing in a young person who doesn't respond to the dance tune and the fun of a good dance floor. He's aging before his time. We'd even go so far as to say that a young man who won't try to dance and doesn't want his girl to dance is a little too "heavy" for young companionship.

Besides, there are folk who'd rather dance than eat. Gay, bubbly spirited folk are these with the tingling toes, good for what ails the heavy footed companions who inhabit their groups. Unless they go to such extremes as marathon dancing and neglect of their ordinary duties we can't see where their dancing taste is any more censorable than a taste for olives.

Instead of encouraging married folk to sit on the sidelines while others do the dancing we believe that a lot of the tension common to domestic life would be borne off on the dance floor. Besides being a release, it is a wholesome recreation and exercise in one. And marriage, particularly when it houses one of those dance antagonists, needs recreational features of just this light hearted order.

Consequently, were we Bill's girl, we'd battle for the right to dance and we'd do our durndest to get Bill stepping around to lively music.

Students Plan Vacation Trips from Colleges

Many Are Going South for Spring Holidays.

spring holiday. The Evanston board of the Northwestern University settlement has selected them as two of the models for the bride tea and fashion show it is to have for the settlement's benefit the day after Easter, the afternoon of April 2, at the Country Club of Evanston.

Others who will be modeling the smartest in spring attire on this occasion will be Mrs. Arthur Rogers Jr., Mrs. Horton Fall III., Mrs. Arthur Dole Jr., and Mrs. Harold Barnes.

With the net proceeds of last year's party amounting to $1,200, the board has a definit goal to achieve this year, although it expects to reach this and even raise it to $1,500, thus making an even greater contribution to the board's annual settlement pledge of $10,000.

Mrs. Chester D. Tripp, chairman of the board, left the beginning of this week with her daughter, Miss Madeleine Tripp, for a fortnight's holiday in New Orleans, confident of the success of the party. Until Mrs. Tripp returns Mrs. Edward P. Welles will be the temporary board chairman.

Mrs. Roger L. Foote, Mrs. Sumner T. McCall, and Mrs. Kenneth Burgess have the fashion show in charge. Mrs. Donald C. Miller is chairman of the tea committee, assisted by Mrs. John H. S. Lee, Mrs. John Howland, and Mrs. Vernon David. It is up to Mrs. Albert Koch, Mrs. Arlington Harvey, and Mrs. John E. Wilder to select the bridge awards. The tables will be in charge of Mrs. Walter Clyde Jones and Mrs. Arthur Dole.

Miss Doris Bokum to Be Bride Today.

Miss Doris Bokum will become the bride of Newton C. King at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at St. Chrysostom's. The oldest daughter of the Norris H. Bokums and the son of the Calvin P. Kings will be united in marriage by the Rev. E. Ashley Gerhard of Christ Church, Winnetka, who was a classmate of the bride's father at Princeton.

Mrs. Walter Wheaton Augur and her daughter and son-in-law, the Robert C. Orrs, are in Wynnewood, Pa., today for the wedding of their son and brother, Newell A. Augur, and Miss Trimble Hoblitzelle, at the home of Miss Hoblitzelle's brother and sister-in-law, the Harrison Hoblitzelles. The couple will make their home in St. Louis.

Mrs. Browning to Be 97 Today.

Mrs. Stephen Garretson Browning has asked some of her friends to be in the receiving line this afternoon at her 97th birthday party. Accordingly Mrs. William Burry, Mrs. William C. Niblack, Mrs. John M. Zane, Mrs. William B. Storey, Mrs. Ralph C. Otis, Mrs. Fielding Marshall, and Mrs Ephraim A. Otis are going to receive with her and her daughter and son-in-law, the Frank J. Loesches.

The party is to be from 4:30 to 7 in the Lord Nelson room of the Drake hotel. No formal invitations have been issued.

The Chicago alumni of Williams college have invited their wives to the dinner they are giving tonight at the Blackstone hotel for Harry A. Garfield, who will retire in June as president of the college. President Garfield arrives in town this morning with Herbert E. Botsford, secretary of the National Society of Williams Alumni.

Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay III. will have a place at the speakers' table as the wife of the president of the Chicago alumni.

Mrs. Edward N. Hurley Jr., Mrs. Julius Thompson Benedict, Mrs. David F. Bremner Jr., Mrs. George F. Douaire Jr., Mrs. Frank M. Gordon, Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody, Mrs. Allen B. Ripley, Mrs. Donald Scott, and Miss Marie Plamondon are some of those who will meet for luncheon this noon at Mrs. Joseph W. Cremin's apartment at 20 Scott street. Members of the board of Madonna center, they will make plans for their eleventh annual dinner dance to be held April 28.

Tea Tomorrow to Open Art Show.

Many from the north shore will be driving to town tomorrow afternoon for the tea which will open a one man exhibit of paintings by Mrs. James Bernard Mullen [Frances Buell] in the Lord Nelson room of the Drake hotel. The All-Illinois Society of Fine Arts is presenting the exhibit, which includes several portraits of Chicagoans as well as foreign landscapes.

Among the portraits are those of Mrs. James R. Addington [Sarah Wood], Mrs. Herman D. Smith, Mrs. Potter Smith and John R. Leonard Mrs. Mullen, who signs her portraits Buell Mullen, studied in Rome and Belgium for many years. Her mother, Mrs. Charles C. Buell, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Buell Jr., will be among those at the opening.

The Stage

The Majestic theater, once famous for its programs of high grade vaudeville, has been acquired by Aaron Jones, head of the old theatrical firm of Jones, Linick & Schaefer, under a long term lease. Mr. Jones at present is operating the State-Lake and Woods theaters. He will reopen the Majestic on April 1 under a policy not yet announced. Mixed bills of cinema plays and vaudeville may be expected.

"Richard of Bordeaux," a historical drama, with Dennis King as its star, will begin a tour April 2 in Washington, D. C. This production, one of the most elaborate of the New York season, was recently mentioned in a dispatch from New York as a possibility for a spring engagement in Chicago. Mr. King has not appeared in Chicago since his great success in the rôle of Francois Villon in "The Vagabond King" in 1926.

The annual performance for the benefit of the sick fund of the Stagehands' union will be given in the Civic Opera house on April 10. It will be a revue, with many celebrities of the stage, the screen, and the radio profession among its participants. C. C.

Knowledge of Outdoors Adds to Child's Fun

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

An older friend of mine who used to travel abroad in the quieter days before Europe was in political convulsions with sovietism, Fascism, Nazism, and civil war rampant used to say, "You get out of a trip to Europe just what you take to it"—meaning of course that Leonardo's "Last Supper," meant more to you if you know something about the painter and the painting and these glorious days of Florence. Or that the beautiful chateaux of France gave you more real pleasure if you had or acquired some knowledge of this history of the country and its kings and their queens of favorites.

To be sure it's true. And true in a sense of everything—true of this subject we've been talking of this week—the outdoors. The world of nature means a lot more to you, you get more out of it, if you know something about it. By the same token it means a lot more to your children—knowing something about it.

The seeing eye is important as a first aid to growing knowledge. Children usually have it and some grown people. For example two people or children may look at the same twig. One will see—a twig. The other will see that strange freak of nature—a walking stick. One will see a criscross of branches. The other will see the little nest of a kinglet or the flattened out form of a red squirrel on the tree trunk.

The more you know about outdoors the more you and the children will get out of it. Two things will feed you knowledge. Sharp observation [or the seeing eye which grows keener with use. And books. The latter are to help you to identify what you see and to fill in the gaps about it, requiring knowledge that the average person hasn't the time to acquire in person.

It's lots more pleasure to be able to recognize and distinguish between the bluejay and the bluebird, the starling and the grackle, the cardinal and the scarlet tanager than to be able to think, "Oh there's a blue bird," or "There's a black bird and a red one too." It's more fun too to know that the bullfrog was once a spot in a mass of jelly and then a wiggling pollywog, than to look and just know "frog."

Parisiennes Combine Print Frocks with Plain Coats to Make a Spring Ensemble

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Printed silk dresses, peeping out from under plain coats are appearing early in Paris this spring. The new French prints that come with white or colored designs on black ground permit wearing before fine weather comes in.

The latest fashion in coats demands that the wrap make no pretense of meeting in front so one gets a good glimpse of the dress worn underneath, and for this reason printed frocks are particularly in favor.

Jean Patou designed the ensemble shown here. The coat is made of black wool, with bands of silver fox flung over the shoulders, and with plaited panels set into the front below the waistline, so there is a definite blowing forward of the silhouette. The belt of this coat is of black leather fastened with two diamond shaped pieces of the same leather.

The dress has box plaits at the front of the skirt so it also gives a forward movement. The bodice has a folded jabot collar of white linen with plaited ruffles at the edge, and plaited bands of white linen show just above the waistline of the bodice and above the wrists of the sleeves. The black crêpe de chine of the dress is printed with white and green.

Mode of Prints Now Appears in Pajama Styles

New Sleeping Costumes Have Tailored Lines.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Tailored, trim, new sleeping and lounging pajamas have got into print along with some delectable new spring nightgowns that are as gayly printed and then trimmed with lace. But the prints are tiny affairs, prim little buds and blossoms sparsely sprinkled over white, flesh, or pale blue backgrounds.

The pajamas are the trickiest affairs imaginable . . . the slender trousers are of the printed silk, while the shirtlike blouse is made with pocket, collar, and cuffs of the printed material.

Enterprising designers have decided to make all new spring pajamas in a tailored manner, while they really outdo themselves and make all nightgowns frilly, lace festooned, and just as feminine as anything you could want . . . good looking slim affairs have lovely transparent net yokes and puff sleeves, with a narrow band of net around the lower hemline.

Lots of wide val lace is also trimming the newest nightgowns, with a revival of light sky blue as a spring fashion color.

One shop is showing some stunning new lounging pajamas of heavy dull crêpe. The trousers are scant, with a polo shirt blouse fastened down the front with two contrasting frogs. These can be yours for a very modest sum. You can find them in dull blue trimmed with coral, in red coral trimmed with blue, and some knockout old gold affairs also contrasted in bright color.

New travel pajamas, very tailored as to long sleeves and high necklines, need no longer distress your esthetic soul because they are only available in navy, black, and such practical colors.

The 1934 models are every bit as tailored, but you can now buy maize-yellow, mauve, dull blues, and corals, practically any color that you crave, and they are just as practical, just as effective for travel as they are for your leisure time lounging around home, besides having price tags that will make you grab them before the rush.

Reinald Werrenrath Displays His Skill as Program Builder

Reinald Werrenrath, who knows many things about how to sing a recital of baritone songs, appeared in one at the Goodman theater last night. Apart from his rôle in "Music in the Air," no great test for a singer of his ability, it has been quite a time since he was last heard in Chicago. Wherefore it is pleasant to testify that during the interval he has remained as accomplished an artist as ever. If anything, he is a better one.

It was a clever program that he presented last night. After the customary group of the ancients he went into a group of lieder, two of these being by Arnold Schoenberg, who has lately been much in the air. These were early Schoenberg, written at a time when his melodies were fairly conventional and interesting as showing his derivations rather than his later tendencies.

Some old folk songs of the British isles followed, and at the end there were four Kipling ballads with settings by Hasel Felman, Edward German, Frank E. Tours, and Arthur Whiting. Such were the diverse manners of song writing faithfully interpreted by Mr. Werrenrath. He is always elegant in his singing, he is frequently dramatic to a high degree, and he sings words in various languages so clearly that they are as pleasant as the melodies upon which they ride. E. HOW DULL, LIFELESS HAIR GAINS NEW LIFE AND LUSTRE —without the use of dyes, bleaches, henna or oils

Now an utterly new and original make-up for the hair that restores youthful beauty

It is called Geral—and the improvement it makes in the appearance of the hair is almost unbelievable. Hair that was dull, soon gleams with beautiful highlights and lustre. Hair that appeared lifeless takes on a vigorous, healthy look. Hair that was "straw like" in texture becomes soft and fluffy. Do you wonder then that women by the thousands are daily flocking to this original make-up for the hair?

Utterly New and Different

Geral is utterly different from anything you have ever used on your hair. It is not a dye, bleach or henna—nor does it contain oil. Applied in a moment, it actually beautifies the hair as rouge, powder and lipstick beautify the face. Geral makes Blonde hair more blonde. Gives Red hair a redder glow. Enriches the color and sheen of Brown and Brunette hair. And causes White or Gray hair to lose that ugly yellowish cast. Geral imparts NOT an artificial look but the natural life, sheen and softness of youthful girlhood. Obtain Geral at all good toilet counters or drug stores.

CONQUERING CONTRACT

By P. HAL SIMS

Mr. Sims is universally acclaimed the greatest living contract and auction player. He was captain of the renowned "Four Horsemen" team of four, now disbanded, and has won twenty-four national championships since 1924. These articles are based on the Sims system, which includes the one-over-ons principle which the Sims group of players was the first to employ and develop.

REBID OVER TWO NO TRUMP RESPONSE.

HERE is a good example hand illustrating a jump response by the opening bidder based on the expectation of no losers in his trump suit, or at least a finesse for the queen, with the certainty of no loser in a second suit—singleton ace. Responder needs more than his two primary tricks, including only one ace, to see slam probabilities, and would have passed the four-spade contract even if opponent had not doubled.

Note that South did not bid four spades because he feared that North might pass three spades, but because he is making a mild one suit slam try.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 Sp. [1]	Pass	2 N.T. [2]
Pass	4 Sp. [3]	Double [4]	Pass
Pass	Redouble [5]	Pass	Pass
Pass

1. There is plenty of rebid value with this aggressive type of hand.
2. Perfect distribution for a no trump contract. The jump response is to try to force a game bid from the opener either in spades or no trumps.
3. Denoting a long, solid spade suit and an invitation to continue the bidding.
4. A bad double. On the bidding the contract should not be set more than one trick. I advise a safety margin of two tricks.
5. South can see six tricks in his own hand, and he should be able to lay the cards down for nine tricks. If his partner's two no trump response was made with aces, there is a chance that he will make extra tricks. The additional loss caused by the redouble will not amount to more than 200 points, and should he make the contract he will gain at least 240 points.

The play:

Trick	West	North	East	South
1.	♥K	♥2	♥3	♥A*
2.	♣5	♣3	♥9	♣K*
3.	♣7	♣6	♥6	♣A*
4.	♣Q*	♣10	♥7	♣2
5.	♣4	♣Q*	♣3	♣2
6.	♥4	♥5	♥8	♣4*
7.	♥9	♦4	♦2	♣J*
8.	♣A*	♣10	♣7	♣J
9.	♣5	♣K*	♣8	♣6
10.	♥Q	♥10	♦6	♣8*

*Winning hand.

North now wins the diamond ace and heart jack.

Points of play:

Upon the lead of the heart king at the first trick, South realized that West should hold for his double spades queen x x, hearts king, queen, diamonds king, and the club ace. It would therefore be necessary to strip the hand to make an end play, or to squeeze one of these high cards to pick up the extra trick necessary to make his contract.

At trick 7 South can see that the only way he can effect this saving of a trick is for West to have left the following cards:

Diamonds—K x x
Hearts—Q x Clubs—A x

If this is so, one round of trumps will squeeze the hand and then no defense will defeat the four spade bid.

If at trick 7 West had discarded the diamond seven South would have played the diamond ace and then a small one back and ducked it.

If West had discarded a small club South would have played the club and West would then have had to lead from the diamond king, jack, ten, or heart queen, nine.

British Ambassador New Dean of Corps; Wife Is an American

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Official notice has been received in Washington of the transfer of the Turkish ambassador, Ahmet Muhtar, dean of the diplomatic corps, to be a deputy from the district of Kastamonu to the grand national assembly of Ankara, the Turkish parliament, and he will leave shortly to return home.

This will make the British ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay, dean of the corps. This is the first time a British ambassador has been dean of the corps since the retirement of Sir Esme Howard. Previous to Sir Esme there were three deans who had American wives, the late Ambassador Da Gama of Brazil, the late Baron de Cartier of Belgium, and the former Spanish Ambassador Juan de Riano; and now another American woman will be the doyenne. Sir Ronald Lindsay's wife is the former Miss Elizabeth Sherman Hoyt of New York, who was a cousin of Sir Ronald's first wife, Martha Cameron, daughter of Senator Donald Cameron.

Mrs. Frank C. Letts of Chicago and Washington has gone to Florida for some weeks.

DENMARK LIMITS TRADE WITH U. S. TO EVEN BALANCE

Says America Must Buy as Much as It Sells.

BY JOHN AHL-NIELSEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

COPENHAGEN, March 14.—Americans who would explain how their country's sales to the 3,000,000 inhabitants of Denmark decreased 60 per cent since 1930 have to look no further than the record of their own reciprocal purchases here to find a major cause of the decline. Neither is it necessary to look further than the record of English-Danish trade to find one plausible reason why England and her dominions apparently have America beaten.

For Denmark's good will, and orders for foreign goods, go to those countries which buy from her. England has done so extensively. The United States has not.

The fall in American exports to this country was continuous and drastic from 1930, when Denmark spent 194,000,000 kroner for American articles. The figure fell to 154,000,000 kroner in 1931, 87,000,000 kroner in 1932, and 78,000,000 kroner in 1933. A krone, which has a par value of 26.8 cents, is currently worth about 22.8 cents.

U. S. Purchases Slight.

In those years Americans were making reciprocal purchases of Danish goods in comparatively minute amounts. In 1931 the United States spent only 5,000,000 kroner here, in 1932 the same, and in 1933 7,000,000 kroner. Meanwhile, England has been buying 70 per cent of Denmark's agriculture, which is her only natural industry, and upon which all business in Denmark depends.

I have gained the impression that Danish consumers would rather pay slightly more for English goods than buy from other sources. This is certainly good will. Denmark is clinging to the English market. She is always negotiating for elasticity in English tariffs and import restrictions, which, of course, is only obtained by reciprocal increases in Danish imports from England.

But that does not mean that the United States' cause is hopeless. The ability of the United States, if given the opportunity, to furnish what Denmark needs is unquestioned. Denmark's chief imports vary from agricultural products—wheat, barley, oats, corn, wheat flour, cheese, cotton, oranges and lemons—to timber, wood pulp, iron and steel and paper.

Two Ways to Increase Exports.

It seems to me that the United States, which has had a trade treaty with Denmark since April 26, 1826, has two ways to increase her exports to this country. They are:

1. By increasing her export to England of many products which Denmark can buy via England.

2. By increasing her own imports from Denmark through direct trade, so that the Danish consumers will feel encouraged to reciprocate.

One of Denmark's foremost authorities, when asked why American exports had fallen so drastically, said that in Denmark the United States stands up against one of those Chinese walls which European nations have built as self-protection during the last critical years. Certainly the discouraging record of American reciprocal purchases has not helped any.

Offers U. S. Few Products.

Denmark can offer the United States a few luxury articles, beer and porcelain, but she can never expect to sell in a big way to the United States, because she can offer nothing which the American consumers cannot get at home. But Denmark asks only for a fair chance to exchange some of her produce. She says that America cannot continue to sell her goods worth nearly 200,000,000 kroner yearly and buy in return to the tune of only 5,000,000 to 10,000,000 kroner. And she has proved it by cutting her American imports 60 per cent in three years.

My informant charges that when Denmark in the past increased her export to America of hides, cheese, and cement the United States has always raised her tariffs prohibitively.

In February, 1932, the big decrease in Danish consumption of American goods started with the establishment of a new governmental department called the "currency office." Denmark had been compelled to follow the lead of her biggest customer, England, when the latter went off the gold standard. It was hinted that the currency office was established at England's request.

Aims to Balance Trade.

The fact remains that this department has been poison to importers from many other countries than the United States. The intention of this office, which is working in close touch with the various state departments, is to limit the import so that it balances with the export; or, what is more important, to see that Denmark's customers also sell to Denmark.

Every importer here has to ask for a license from this office, and every year the sum of all licenses must be not larger than the sum of licenses for Danish export. Licenses are also limited as to countries. That is, if Danish exports to England are double those to Germany, imports are allowed in that proportion from those countries.

Ten per cent of Denmark's total wheat import in 1931 was from the United States. Now, most of this market has swung to Russia, Germany, Rumania, and Canada. A total of 438,000 tons, or 6 per cent, of Denmark's barley import came from the United States in 1931. Argentina and Canada are now grasping this, through England. Similar reductions in imports from the United States are noted in all other commodities.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farm

By Bob Becker

New Mamma for Chicks.

March 14, 1934.

ABOUT 150 peeping, little Barred Rock chicks are getting acquainted with a new "red hot mamma" today. These little fellows have come to the farm to be raised with an electric brooder which is going to pinch hit for clucking, fussy Barred Rock hens. Rawlings purchased the chicks with the idea of getting some new blood in the Barred Rocks which already are here on the farm. He is expecting to get a dozen fine cockerels out of the 150 newcomers.

I went out to the chicken house this afternoon to see how the little chicks are coming along, and also to see how they enjoy the warm glow from the brooder. It was as warm as toast in the coop, because a small stove was going and the electric brooder also was contributing heat to the interior.

This brooder looks like a big umbrella top with short curtains all around it. It rests quite close to the floor. Numerous little doors are cut in the curtains so the chicks can go in and out of the contrivance when they please. Around the top of the brooder [on the inside] is an electric heater which is controled by a thermostat. When it gets above 98 the current is automatically cut off. When the temperature drops to 94 on goes the heat again. The baby chicks cuddle under this artificial "mother" and apparently have no regrets about not seeing a real live hen. They are being fed a prepared food ground up very fine. In order to give them plenty of chances to scratch around and keep busy, Rawlings has sprinkled some chaff and other small stuff from the barn on the floor.

The Hereford steers [Clarence Thurow, the manager, sometimes speaks of them as "stockers"] don't have to worry about a "dry wave" as long as the windmill near their feeding yard continues to keep going on all cylinders. This windmill has had plenty of breeze whirling past it during the last few days; a good thing, too, because the steers certainly do drink an awful lot of water every day, and the mill has been working pretty steadily to pump enough to keep the tanks full. But then, a group of big steers eating 2,400 pounds of clover hay, 1,600 pounds of alfalfa, and 650 pounds of corn naturally have to get a lot of water to wash down that amount of food every day.

The letter box here at the farm produces a number of interesting communications nearly every day. Many of the letters are inquiring when visitors may come out to the experimental farm. Arrangements are not yet completed to take care of visitors who want to look over the place, see how the experimental crops will be planted and investigate other features of the farm. However, plans are being worked out now, and announcement will be made later regarding visiting hours.

J. F. Ziegler of Dwight, Ill., writes that he is anxious to visit the farm and see the experimental crops, because he has felt for many years that midwest farmers need to develop new crops. Mr. Ziegler has under his supervision more than 11,000 acres of farm lands not far from Yorkville, Ill.

"For years we in the middle west have devoted our lands principally to growing of crops for animal feed," he writes. "The market for oats and hay was greatly diminished. That leaves us with corn alone, and no country can be prosperous consistently on a one crop plan. Furthermore, those crops grown for human consumption always sell for more money than feed crops."

FEAR TRADE WAR AS BRITISH-JAP PARLEY BREAKS

Fail to Agree on Splitup of Textile Markets.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 14.—Negotiations between British and Japanese textile manufacturers, which have been proceeding here for five weeks, broke down today. A cutthroat trade war for the world's markets consequently appears likely.

The conference seemed doomed from the first. The British desired an agreement dividing the market of the entire world. The Japanese insisted that the British were only competent to make an agreement for markets in the British Isles and crown colonies, excluding even British dominions on the ground that they have their own fiscal autonomy and cannot be bound by any agreement reached by London.

Find Agreement Impossible.

After a final meeting today Sir Thomas Barlow, a board of trade official, who had been representing the British government, announced that an agreement was found impossible and that the delegations would now report to their respective governments.

What this means remains to be seen, but there is a strong demand in Lancashire and among protectionists in parliament for legislation to exclude Japanese goods of all kinds from British markets and perhaps help for British manufacturers in fighting low Japanese costs in other markets.

Britain Points Out Position.

In a memorandum issued by Sir Thomas after the breakdown of the conference, it was pointed out that world export trade in cotton goods up to 1929 amounted to about 6,000,000,000 square yards yearly. Since then, it was pointed out, it has declined to 5,000,000,000 square yards, and Japan is the only country whose exports have been increased, both relatively and absolutely.

What the British proposed was that the Japanese should still have an opportunity to increase trade as and when world trade is increased. The Japanese are unwilling to enter discussions unless such proposals are confined to the British isles and crown colonies.

FIRE ROUTS SIX FAMILIES.

Fire caused by an overheated furnace in the basement of a four story brick building at 1800 South Morgan street routed six families and did damage estimated at $500 yesterday.

EVIDENCE TAKING IN MILK 'TRIAL' TO CLOSE TODAY

Additional evidence was presented yesterday at the second day of the "milk trial" being conducted by Elmer D. Hayes, attorney for the agricultural adjustment administration, in the United States customs courtroom at 610 South Canal street.

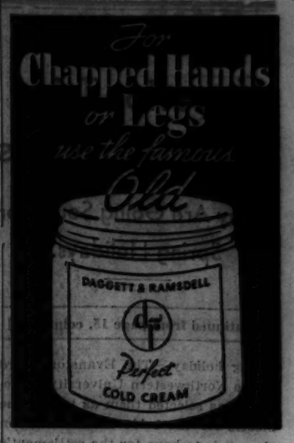

The case is the first test of the ability of the AAA to enforce a fixed minimum price to be paid farmers for milk. The defendants are Lloyd V. Shissler, a Lombard milk dealer, and the People's Dairy company of Cicero, which is headed by Shissler. Thirteen violations of the new Chicago milk marketing license are charged by the government.

The hearing started Tuesday and will be completed by noon today, Mr. Hayes said. Within a few days the evidence will be placed before Secretary of Agriculture Wallace in Washington for a final decision. Under the agricultural adjustment act, Wallace has the power to revoke the license for a dairy found guilty of violations and to impose a fine of $1,000 a day for each day that the dairy operates without a license.

The board of directors of the Pure Milk association, bargaining agency for 18,000 dairy farmers in the Chicago area, yesterday reelected Henry A. Pfister of Aptakisic as president.

MASTODON TUSK DUG UP BY CWA MEN IN AURORA

A huge tusk of the mastodon whose skull and shoulder blade were unearthed a week ago was dug up yesterday in Phillips park in Aurora by CWA workers who are constructing an artificial lake. The tusk, more than 7 feet long and 7 inches around, was found at a depth of about 10 feet. The workmen covered the tusk with plaster of paris as they removed it to prevent it from being damaged. It is expected that the full skeleton of the mastodon, which is believed to have been buried for 10,000 years, will eventually be found. It will be given to the Field museum.

Leader—Lands.

BY FRENCH LANE.

The old iron man of the bicycle—Reggie McNamara, 48 years old—pedaled himself and his partner, Dave Lands, into a tie for the lead in the six day race at Chicago Stadium last night.

The old boy, who since the opening fun was fired last Sunday night, has been the life of this bicycle party, never wheeled around a pine saucer in more brilliant and determined fashion. That's something, too, for the Iron Man has been riding on to nowhere in these six day trips for nearly 30 years.

Trailing by a lap until the early night sprints were half way over, McNamara took the situation in hand. He showed all of his old time speed. He laughed back at his younger rivals, and before the crowd of 9,500 could realize what had happened, he had thrown the race into a three way deadlock for the lead.

Cheer Old No. 1.

Tied with McNamara and Lands for first place were Debaets and Ottevaere, the Belgian-American team, and Gadou and Zach, the Swiss-Canadian combination.

From the beginning of this race a McNamara crowd had gathered at the Stadium. The youngsters have joined with the old fans whenever there was opportunity to cheer for him. They like the younger stars, too, but when the black jersey with the big No. 1 on the back starts flying around the saucer the crowd goes into a frenzy. Even the first night visitor knows McNamara is out on another roundup.

Those spry fellows who are just turning fat and forty should take heart at McNamara's feat. This is the 101st six day race in which he has engaged. He went down in nasty spills on each of the first three nights of the race. Every time he went sprawling deep into the pit the crowd gasped. "That's the last of him!"

Comes Right Back.

A few seconds later he would be back in the saddle spinning along with more abandon than ever. In the sprints he has been even more spectacular. Helped along by his partner, his team has accounted for 153 points.

McNamara has taken more punishment in injuries than any other athlete in the world. His casualties during 30 years of competition include 12 collar bone fractures, a fractured skull, three broken ribs, a broken leg, and two broken arms. But they haven't broken the Australian's heart, and after all that's the true test of a thoroughbred.

The end of McNamara's brilliant career appeared to be at hand just a year ago. He was injured in both the New York and Chicago spring races. He tumbled out of the Chicago race a few hours after it started. It was then that the fickle fans started to count him out.

Spills Threaten Havoc.

Wild jams and three sensational spills marked the fight for the lead yesterday. During the afternoon there came a tangle which threatened to wreck two or three teams.

The tangle started when Thomas and Schaller locked handle bars while spinning into the backstretch. They crashed heavily to the track and an instant later Hopkins and Gadou went smashing into them. Schaller and Gadou were able to get back to their feet and free themselves from the mess. Thomas and Hopkins were more severely injured and it was more than ten minutes before they were able to resume riding.

Team Forced Out.

Along about 10 o'clock last night the noisy crowd in the infield was silenced for a time when Hopkins lost his balance and tumbled to the bottom of the track, landing on his head with the wheels of his bike spinning above him. He was in bad shape ten minutes later. It forced the Irish team of Hopkins and Keating out of the race.

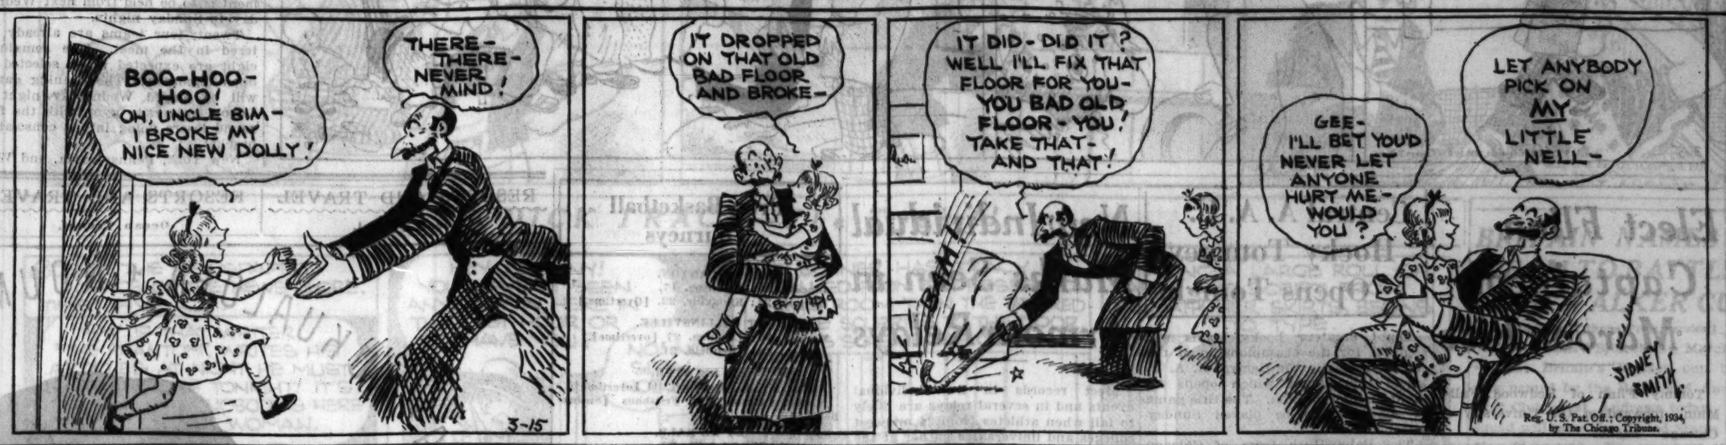

Later on in the night Edouardo Severgnini of Italy and Bobby Thomas of Kenosha rode themselves into a sort of a half-nelson tangle and they also slid all the way down the pine saucer. Both were back in action a few minutes later.

Results of the 1 a. m. sprints follow:

1. Wissel, Severgnini, Debaets, Ritter.
2. Peden, Lehmann, Winter, Ottevaere.
3. Ritter, Lands, Zach, Severgnini.
4. Walthour, Spencer, Reboli, Ottevaere.
5. Grimm, Ritter, Wissel, Andy.
6. McNamara, Peden, Spencer, Lehmann.
7. Debaets, Wissel, Grimm, Trieste.
8. McNamara, Gadou, Walthour, Spencer.
9. Debaets, Ritter, Wissel, Schaller.
10. Walthour, Ottevaere, Spencer, McNamara.

THE GUMPS—SIR LANCELOT GUMP

BOCEK AVERTS SHUTOUT WITH HOMER IN 9TH

Gregory Routed in Third.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., March 14.—Milt Bocek, the Cicero strong man, saved the White Sox from utter rout this afternoon by knocking a home run with one on and one out in the ninth inning. Instead of getting licked 10 to 0 in their final with the Los Angeles Angels, the Sox took their punishment by only 10 to 2.

That the Sox virtually were without pitching (except for Stines' windup stint) is shown by the fact that the minor leaguers made seven runs on five hits off Gregory and Tietje in the third inning, and slapped out two more markers off Tietje on three singles and a walk after two were out in the fifth.

The Angels made 12 hits for 13 bases and drew six passes.

An Error for Every Hit.

That the Sox virtually were without batting until Bocek took hold is attested by the fact that three pitchers, two of them third stringers, held them to five hits, a single by Haas in the first inning, singles by Dykes and Kress in the fifth inning, an infield scratch by Bonura in the ninth and then that tempering homer of Cicero Milt's.

That they virtually were without fielding is indicated by the fact that they committed five infield errors, no two of which were made by the same infielder.

Their three game set with the Angels completed the Sox sneaked back to their training base in Pasadena, there to ponder and correct their inefficiencies before meeting their cousins, the Cubs, here Saturday and Sunday.

How About Regulars?

In their three games here the Sox discovered many things. The minor leaguers, though losing two out of the three, made exactly the same number of hits as the Sox, 36. The Angel assortment included four homers while Bocek's effort today was the only homer for Chicago.

The Sox called upon none of their first string pitchers and therein rests their claims that they are infinitely better than they appear to be. Manager Fonseca has saved his veteran performers for the Cubs, but since none has pitched an inning he has no way of knowing that any of the so-called regulars will be any better than the recent performers, none of whom has shown much excepting Stine and Gallivan.

Trick Play Fails.

The Sox got two men on in the first inning and then went out in order in the second and third, but the Angels weren't willing to go along with this brisk scheme. Gregory retired three in a row in the second, but got a touching up in the third which led to his demise.

Mattick batted for Lightfoot and knocked a homer over the left field wall. Statz followed with a line double to right and Crawford walked. South bunted and forced Statz, Gregory to Dykes. Pasek and Bonura tried to put on a slick play, which they have attempted thrice, each time with dire results.

In attempting to catch South napping off first, Pasek hit the runner in the back, whereupon Crawford broke for third. Bonura recovered the ball and threw past third, Crawford scoring and South taking second. Demaree walked, after which Oglesby singled to center, scoring South and putting Demaree on third. Lillard flied to Haas, Demaree scoring and Oglesby taking second. Dittmar walked and Fonseca blew taps for the tall Mississippian.

Tietje Suffers, Too.

Tietje strolled onto the scene and Campbell cracked a double, Oglesby scoring and Dittmar stopping at third. Mattick, up the second time, walked, filling the bases. Statz singled to right, Dittmar and Campbell scoring and Mattick taking third. Crawford walked, again filling the bases. Then South, a kindly man, struck out.

Dykes led off the fifth inning with the second Chicago hit, a single to right, and Chamberlin ran for him. Kress singled to center, Chamberlin stopping at second. Pasek tapped into a double play, McDougall to Dittmar to Oglesby, Chamberlin reaching third. Tietje walked, but Uhalt was called out on strikes.

Talking it Over

BY ARCH WARD.

PUG RENTNER of Northwestern, for three years one of the outstanding backs in intercollegiate football, will play with the Boston Redskins next fall, it is reported. . . . Al Espinosa, once of Chicago and now of Akron, O., will be the professional at the new Mexico City Golf club, the guiding hand in which is Elias Plutarco Calles, former president and still a political power. . . . Ed Krause, Notre Dame football and basketball star, is being sought as gridiron coach at St. Mary's college of Winona, Minn. . . . Columbia college of Dubuque, Ia., also is interested in him. . . . Because of facial resemblance the Cubs always refer to Ray Benge, Brooklyn pitcher, as Cal Coolidge. . . . When Lon Warneke first heard them calling Benge Cal a few years ago he wanted to know who Coolidge was. . . .

PUG RENTNER.

Long Tom Hughes, for years one of the American league's greatest pitchers, now is employed by Chicago's Lincoln park board. . . . When Tug Wilson took over the athletic directorship at Northwestern university a few years ago he was introduced to Sig Larson, for many years custodian of Patten gymnasium. . . . "How long have you been here, Sig?" inquired Tug. . . . "Well, I have seen five athletic directors come and go," was the retort. . . . Tom Barton, 118 pound wrestler at the University of Chicago and sports columnist on the Daily Maroon, was half an hour late for his match with the Ohio university bantamweight at Athens, O., ten days ago. . . . Just as he was exchanging preliminary passes with his opponent a telegraph messenger rushed in shouting, "Telegram for Mr. Barton." . . . Barton leaned over the ropes, opened the message, which read, "Please file 150 words and summaries—Daily Maroon." . . . So Barton leaned back, pinned his man and wired in the result. . . .

Charles Bidwill, Chicago sportsman, is en route to San Francisco for the opening of the Tanforan racing season. . . . Zeke Bonura, White Sox first baseman, played a year of varsity football under Clark Shaughnessy at Loyola of New Orleans. . . . Clark intimates he wasn't the greatest football player in the world, but warns all pitchers in the American league to keep out of line of his drives. . . . Howie Morenz of the Montreal Canadiens, generally regarded as the fastest wing in recent hocky years, is developing a fight complex. . . . He became involved in fisticuffs for three successive games this season, drawing major penalties and a fine of $25, the first time he had undergone this embarrassment in a dozen years of big league hocky.

Gene Sarazen has gone nertz on flying. . . . Plans a tour of South American courses, which may keep him out of Bobby Jones' comeback show at Augusta, Ga., March 22-25. . . . He is scheduled to compete. . . . Livingston Osborne, one of the leading boxing judges on the staf of the Illinois athletic commission, is serving as a judge of a Cleveland dog show this week. . . . He won 13 cups at the World's Fair dog show last summer. . . . Mal Elward, end coach of the Purdue football squad, is in Florida recuperating from typhoid fever. . . . I don't know what position on a football team calls for greatest courage, but wherever it is that is where Elmer Layden of Notre Dame ought to use Max Marek next season. . . . Marek convinced 21,500 fans in the Golden Gloves finals last Friday night that he has one of the strongest hearts in sport. . . . It isn't often that a man looks better in defeat than in victory, but Marek showed more in losing the heavyweight championship fight than he ever did in his long string of Golden Gloves triumphs. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Jack Delaney knocked out Paul Berlenbach in the fourth round at New York. . . . Northwestern university swimmers won the Big Ten swimming championship. . . . Frank I. Fleming of Champaign won the national amateur three cushion billiard title. . . . Joie Ray set a world's record in the 1,500 meter run at New York. . . . Jack Hendricks was officially appointed manager of the Cincinnati Reds. . . . Tommy Gibbons knocked out Jack Moore in the second round at Winnipeg.

RACING DATES ARRANGED FOR 6 CHICAGO TRACKS

Commission Will Approve List Today.

Dates for the six Chicago race tracks were arranged yesterday by the Illinois racing commission. Members of the commission, however, withheld final approval pending the settlement of several minor matters, said to pertain to the applications of the Aurora Exposition Park and Sportsman's Park.

Walter C. Peacock, a member of the commission which only recently came into being, said the complete schedule for the summer season would be completed at a meeting of the board this afternoon.

Major Tracks Accommodated.

It is understod that the four major tracks, Hawthorne, Arlington Park, Washington Park, and Lincoln Fields, were awarded the dates they requested. There was no intimation of the commission's action on the applications of Aurora and Sportsman's Park, which had requested conflicting dates.

Sportsman's Park officials wished to open the half mile track on May 1 and run through May 19. Aurora also asked for the May 1 starting date, expecting to conduct racing through May 30. Direct queries on the conflict last night elicited a reply from Peacock that "all tracks appeared satisfied" with the commission's rulings, a statement he declined to amplify.

May Effect Compromise.

It was pointed out last night that it was within the jurisdiction of the commission to refuse one or both of these tracks dates. This was not considered likely, however, and announcement of the schedule today is expected to reveal a compromise arrangement, with Aurora perhaps being granted a spring meeting from May 1 to May 19 and Sportsman's Park limited to a fall meeting from Oct. 8 to Oct. 31. Sportsman's Park officials also had applied for fall dates.

Washington Park asked to be allotted May 21 to June 23. Arlington Park requested June 25 to July 28. Hawthorne wanted to run from July 30 to Sept. 1, and Lincoln Fields applied for Sept. 8 to Oct. 1, inclusive.

JOHN SABO IS NAMED COACH AT U. OF VERMONT

John Sabo, former assistant coach in football, basketball, and baseball at the University of Illinois, received a three year appointment yesterday as football and basketball coach at the University of Vermont.

Sabo was a three sport athlete at Illinois, where he was graduated in 1921.

Since his graduation Sabo has served as assistant football coach at Rochester university, directed all sports at East Aurora High school, coached basketball at the University of Kansas three seasons, and coached the backfield at Illinois from 1928 to 1932.

When Illinois curtailed its athletic staf last spring Sabo lost his job and last fall served as an assistant football coach at North western university.

He received word of his appointment yesterday from F. C. Abell, graduate manager of athletics at Vermont.

MICHELET, TRACK CAPTAIN, DIES AT DARTMOUTH

Hanover, N. H., March 14.—[Special.]—Robert H. Michelet, Dartmouth athletic star, died of pneumonia today. He was 22 years old. Michelet was a member of the Dartmouth football team and captained the track squad. He also was an honor student and was recently awarded a Rhodes scholarship.

Michelet, president of Delaeopitus, senior governing society, planned a memorial service for nine Dartmouth students who died of gas poisoning in their fraternity house two weeks ago.

$150,000 BLAZE DESTROYS EIGHT BELMONT HORSES

Belmont Park, L. I., March 14.—[Special.]—Sun Patch, 3 year old half brother of Kerry Patch, together with Helesler and Yelby, and five colts and fillies were destroyed tonight when fire damaged a public stable at Belmont Park in which ten thoroughbreds were quartered.

Kerry Patch, big money winner, and a brown filly were the only horses saved. Unofficially, the loss was estimated at $150,000. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

The stable, formerly used by Simon Healy, was about 300 feet in length and 50 feet wide.

Trainer Discovers Fire.

Jack McCormick, a trainer, discovered the fire. He summoned stable boys and other employés at the track and after an alarm had been sent in the work of rescuing the ten horses began. McCormick, with Tommie Wilson, went to Kerry Patch's stall and managed to lead the horse to a place of safety.

Others were able to get three other horses from their stalls but two of these broke away and rushed back into the flames and perished.

So rapidly did the flames envelope the wooden structure that within five minutes after the fire had first been discovered the entire structure was in flames. However, the stable boys and other employés unmindful of their own danger, worked heroically to rescue the animals.

Track Officials Absent.

Five of the horses which perished were owned by Lee Rosenberg of Great Neck, a Wall street broker, two by L. Robbley of Mineola, and one by Patrick Kelly.

In the absence of any officials at Belmont Park the police had difficulty in ascertaining the names of the horses which had been quartered in the stable and also their owners.

KALTEUX HEADS WINTER OLYMPIC SPORTS GROUP

Hanover, N. H., March 14.—[Special.]—Frank M. Kalteux, Northwest park commissioner, has been appointed president of the 1936 Olympic winter sports committee, it was announced yesterday. Kalteux also is president of the Amateur Skating union of the United States and last year led the 1932 American Olympic team to Norway.

Others named on the committee include Judge Newton Evans, Oconomowac, Wis.; J. K. Savage, New York; Henry Kemper, St. Louis; Chester Roan, Minneapolis; William Taylor, Bear Mountain, N. Y., and Edward A. Mahlke, Chicago, secretary.

Interest in Sox Would Have Brought Back Fielder Jones

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 14.—Fielder Jones, who died yesterday at Portland, Ore., was one of few major league baseball managers who retired voluntarily from active service while still in good standing with fans and employer and still physically able to continue playing.

At the end of the 1908 season, when the White Sox lost the pennant to Detroit in the final game, Jones announced he was through with baseball and remained obdurate to all efforts to induce him to reconsider. He went to his home in Portland, Ore., where he had large undeveloped timber interests with his brother, Willard Jones. He remained there during the years since except for a brief period as manager of the St. Louis Browns and in the ill-fated Federal league.

Rivalry Never Equaled.

Jones jumped to the White Sox from Brooklyn in the warfare which followed when the American league took its stand as a rival to the National league, then the only recognized major league in organized baseball. He directed the White Sox as manager from 1904 through 1908, a period during which they earned their name of Hitless Wonders from their ability to manufacture runs by inside baseball on few hits. Pitchers Ed Walsh, Nick Altrock, Doc White, Yip Owen, and Frank Smith also were factors in keeping down opposition scores.

It was this White Sox team of 1906 which defeated in the world series, four games to two, the great Cub machine of that year managed by Frank Chance, in a stunning upset. The Cubs were as high as 3 to 1 in the betting. Partisan rivalry between south side and west side, then home of the Cubs, never has been equaled since.

Market Secondary Then.

Business on the Stock exchange and Board of Trade those fall days was secondary to baseball arguments.

Jones was an exceedingly likeable fellow personally, with a keen knowledge of inside baseball which he imparted to his players. Quiet in manner, he had a piquant sarcasm which aroused umpire wrath on those rather infrequent occasions when he ran to the diamond from his outfield position to protest decisions.

One of these incidents was advanced as cause of the rift which developed into bitter breach between the friends of many years, President Ban Johnson and Charles Comiskey, co-founders of the American league in 1900.

The White Sox were crippled by injuries at the time, yet when Manager Jones and another player had arguments with an arbiter, they were promptly suspended by President Johnson, a stickler for respect to his umpires. He had just returned from a fishing trip and sent to Owner Comiskey of the Sox with his compliments two fine fish, whereupon the Old Roman retorted for publication, "What does the big stiff expect me to do with the fish? Play them in the outfield."

Chance Threatens to Quit.

During the season of 1908 Frank Chance had signed a contract to continue as Cubs manager for four years more. The Cubs were down at the time and the figure was comparatively modest. Later the Cubs went on to a pennant. Differences arose between Chance and President Charles Murphy, and Chance, too, announced he was through and would not fulfill his contract.

As representative of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in behalf of Chicago fans, the writer went to Los Angeles in February of 1909, with the training season near at hand, to induce Chance to change his decision. This result was accomplished with both Chance and Murphy, principally Murphy, making concessions, over a leased wire direct from Chance and the writer on the coast into THE TRIBUNE editorial rooms, where Murphy had gone for the telegraphic confab. It was regarded as a notable sports achievement at the time, but that is another story.

Tries to Persuade Jones.

Following this success, however, the writer was ordered to Portland to accomplish a like mission with Jones. We found Fielder sincere in his desire to quit and give his attention to business, thoroughly wearied of baseball worries. For several days we got nowhere.

Then because of our friendship and to give us a story, Jones said he would return, although he did not wish to do so, if Comiskey would sell him part interest in the White Sox at a fair price. When this was placed before the Sox owner in Chicago he said he was willing to pay Jones any salary within reason to return, but he positively refused to share interest in his club. He cited the fact he previously had a partner, a Milwaukee man whom later he bought out, and that the relationship was not satisfactory.

So Jones devoted himself to his timber except for the brief period at St. Louis. That tenure followed absence from the game for several years. It seemed to his friends that Jones' heart was not in his task to the same extent it had been when piloting his remarkable aggregation of White Sox Hitless Wonders.

Funeral Tomorrow

PORTLAND, Ore., March 14.—[Special.]—Fielder A. Jones, former manager of the Chicago White Sox, who died yesterday, will be buried Friday. The funeral services will be conducted by the Elks' lodge.

COMMITTEE OF THREE TO RUN BADGER SPORTS

Spears, Meanwell, Jones Placed in Charge.

Madison, Wis., March 14.—[Special.]—The University of Wisconsin board of regents today accepted a recommendation by the athletic board and voted to place "the professional direction of intercollegiate athletics" in the hands of an executive council, consisting of three members.

They are Dr. C. W. Spears, head football coach; Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, head basketball coach, and T. E. Jones, track coach.

The action by the regents thwarted hopes that Wisconsin would have an athletic director before the end of this academic year. The recommendation by the regents provided that, pending the June meeting, "business management and representation in ference relationship" be in the hands of James D. Phillips, university business manager.

Phillips Replaces Uteritz.

Mr. Phillips has been acting director of athletics since the resignation of Irwin Uteritz two years ago. Uteritz served less than two months after George Little resigned to accept the directorship at Rutgers university.

Members of the new executive council tonight seemed more puzzled than concerned as to the nature of their duties. Prof. Andrew T. Weaver, chairman of the athletic board, admitted that the recommendation was a compromise move, and said that duties of the council would be to "administer the internal affairs of the department and draw up the sports budget."

Regents Favor Spears.

From reliable sources it was learned tonight that members of the board of regents are strongly in favor of Coach Spears for the position as athletic director.

Ross Easily Whips Morro in Ten Rounds

Oakland, Cal., March 14.—[Special.]—Lightweight Champion Barney Ross of Chicago fought a wary match tonight against Filipino Kid Morro, taking no chance against a style with which he was unfamiliar. Ross coasted to an easy decision in a ten round nontitle bout before a scanty crowd in the Civic auditorium and there was no question about the decision of Referee Oakland Frankie Burns. Ross easily took nine of the ten rounds.

Ross was so careful, however, that the fans were somewhat disappointed in this, his second showing in the Bay district in two weeks. The champion staggered his opponent several times and sent him reeling against the ropes once, but in each instance the Filipino came back for more.

Morro refused to do any leading. His play seemed to be to last the limit, getting a buildup that may do him some good in a campaign he undoubtedly will launch on the strength of his showing.

Gate receipts were announced at $2,521 net. It was understood Ross was guaranteed $2,000. If that is correct Promoter Orma Foreman was in the hole before the boys entered the ring.

HELEN WARING WINS MID-SOUTH GOLF TOURNEY

Southern Pines, N. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Helen Waring, Pinehurst, N. C., won the sixth annual midsouth womens 'golf tournament today. She shot an 83 in the final 18 holes of the 36 hole medal play, for a total of 165. Miss Waring carded an 82 yesterday.

Charlotte Glutting, East Orange, N. J., was second, four strokes behind, while Jane Douglas, Beverly Hills, Cal., was third with 170. Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., who was successful in several winter tournaments, had an 83 day for a total score of 178.

CHICAGO MUSTERS TEAM FOR FIGHTS WITH NEW YORK

18 Golden Glovers Are in Camp at I. A. C.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's intercity Golden Gloves squad, which will meet New York in the seventh annual series of bouts between the nation's largest cities in Madison Square Garden March 28, will start work this morning at the Illinois Athletic club. By dinner time last night 18 of the boys had registered for their rooms.

Coach John Behr was ready for his protégés yesterday, and this morning, with the assistance of George [Jabber] Young and Trainers Freddie Schwartz and Harry Shall, the daily training routine will be mapped out. Since the squad will train in Chicago only seven days, no time can be lost. The boys will leave for New York March 22.

First Boys to Report.

Early arrivals yesterday included Joe Menicci, Waukegan, Ill.; Ray Harris, South Bend, Ind.; Paul Stedina and Anthony Zale, Gary, Ind.; Bill Treest, Batavia, Ill.; Tommy Barry, Springfield, Ill.; Johnny Brown, Harold Brown, Bob La Monte, John Logan, and Andy Scavini of Chicago.

Since six of the eight Golden Gloves champions are from Detroit and Cleveland and are not eligible to compete against New York, several of the members of the intercity group were drawn from the quarter-finals of the Tournament of Champions and earlier rounds. Some of these boys were defeated by the lads who last Friday night won championships and their selection was based on those performances.

Awaits CCC Permit.

Several changes may be made depending on whether the boys chosen are able to report. Peter Gregaitis, defeated in the semi-finals, was awaiting permission to leave the Fife Lake, Mich., camp of the Civilian Conservation corps. Gregaitis represented Grand Rapids, Mich., in the tournament. He is a light heavyweight.

Because of their classes at the University of Notre Dame, Max Marek, heavyweight runner-up to Otis Thomas, and Bud Marcy, featherweight, will spend only one week-end in Chicago with the squad. They are training daily, however, at the Notre Dame gymnasium.

Measurements will be taken today for the outfits the Chicago boys will wear against New York.

Novice Champions Measured.

The eight Novice champions, John Noto, 112 pounds; Melvin Gladstone, 118 pounds; Charles Cassolo, 126 pounds; Bob Foley, 135 pounds; Jacob Lampkin, 147 pounds; Rudolph Whittek 160 pounds; Walter Mack, 175 pounds, and Kurt Bartz, heavyweight, were measured for their team jersies yesterday. All except Foley, who lives at Gray's Lake, Ill., reside in Chicago. While the Novices will not train at the I. A. C., they will work with the intercity squad during the preparations in New York.

FLYWEIGHTS—John Brown and Jesse Robinson, Chicago; Patsy Urso, Grand Rapids, Mich.

WELTERWEIGHTS—Keith Graves and Fred Tyus, Peoria, Ill.; Bob Lamonte, Chicago.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS—Bill Treest, Batavia, Ill.; Fred Caserio, Chicago; Anthony Zale, Gary, Ind.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHTS—Ario Soldati, Rockford, Ill.; Peter Gregaitis, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Cooney Tucker, Fort Wayne, Ind.

HEAVYWEIGHTS—Otis Thomas and John Logan, Chicago; Max Marek, Notre Dame, Ind.

Since Treest and Thomas are the only champions in the list, the selections in the other weights who will face New York's champions will not be made until the night of the intercity bouts.

MANGIN ENTERS SEMI-FINALS OF U. S. NET MEET

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Gregory S. Mangin, defending champion; Lester Stoefen, Los Angeles; Frank X. Shields, New York, and Sidney B. Wood, also of New York, marched into the semi-final round of play for the national indoor singles tennis championship at the 7th Regiment armory today.

Mangin, completely recovered from an eye injury, played great tennis as he disposed of Andre Merlin, French indoor champion and last of the four Frenchmen who invaded the United States. The scores were 6-2, 6-3, 6-4. The other foreigners eliminated were Jean Borotra, Paul Feret, and Christian Boussus.

Stoefen, who is seeking a place on the United States Davis cup team, eliminated George M. Lott Jr., Chicago, 6-1, 6-1, 6-4. The lanky Californian showed too much speed for Lott and made several brilliant backhand returns in piling up points.

Shields needed only 49 minutes in defeating Dr. Eugene McCauliff, New York. Shields, who is ranked No. 1 among the United States players and seeded No. 2 in the tournament, triumphed by scores of 6-1, 6-1, 6-3.

Wood, who is No. 6 on the United States list, advanced to the semi-finals by triumphing over Frank J. Bowden, a fellow townsman, 6-3, 12-10, 6-3.

Mephisto Pins Kasaboski in Fronton Mat Show

Kid Mephisto threw Alex Kasaboski in 14 minutes with a body slam in the windup bout of a wrestling show last night at Rainbo Fronton before 2,000. They are light heavyweights. Fred Kohler, middleweight, tossed Jack McAdams. Other results:

Sven Siski threw Bull Curry.
Zack Malkov threw Jack Ross.
Walter Roxy threw Dale Haddock.

Walter Keller Appointed I. A. C. Golf Professional

Walter Keller has been appointed golf professional at the Illinois Athletic club. Keller formerly was assistant pro at the Oak Park Country club. Keller will hold classes for women on Tuesdays and Fridays.

Elect Flinn Captain of Maroon Five

Tommy Flinn of Redwood Falls, Minn., forward of the University of Chicago basketball team, was elected captain for next year at a meeting of the players yesterday. Flinn has been the fastest player on the squad for the last two years, and a favorite with his teammates and the crowds.

TOM FLINN.

Flinn was a back with the Maroons football team. The Chicago basketball team played without a captain this year and Hal Wegner, the only senior letterman, was elected yesterday as honorary captain for the season.

Eight major letters were awarded for basketball, five to sophomores. In addition to Flinn and Wegner, major awards went to Bob Eldered, Bill Haarlow, Gordon Peterson, Bill Lang, Leo Oppenheim, and Bob Pyle. Old English monograms were awarded to Charles Merrifield, Ed Dreeks, Ray Weiss, Maurice Gotschall, and Earl Seabor.

Five major letters were awarded for wrestling. They went to Capt. Marvin Bargemen, Max Bernstein, Edward Bedraya, Norman Howard, and Robert Kracke. Old English awards went to Thomas Barton, Theodore Block, Merle Giles, Roger Gorman, and Frank Pesek.

Fifty-one numerals for winter sports also were awarded yesterday, as follows:

BASKETBALL—Edward Bell, Morton Harris, Donald Howard, Hyrum Lewis, Shelby Passmore, George Pritikin, Mel Vinfury, Theodore Weinhouse and Norman Weiss of Chicago; Emery Kasenberg, New Windsor, Ill.; Cecil Leboy, Oak Park; David A. Lefevre, Elkhart, Ind.; Omer Miller, Indianapolis, and George Novak, Cicero.

SWIMMING—Karl L. Adams Jr., De Kalb, Ill.; Charles S. Wilson, Crystal Lake, Ill., and Robert Bathke, Jay G. Brown, William Koenig, James Cook and Floyd Stauffer of Chicago.

INVITE FORMER CHAMPIONS TO ENTER CUE MEET

Balkline billiard players from Germany, Japan, San Francisco, Chicago, and New York, all former world's champions, have been invited to participate in the international 18.2 balkline billiard championship tournament at 131 South Wabash avenue starting Monday, March 26.

At that time Jake Schaefer Jr. of Chicago will defend his world's title, which he won from E. Horemans of Belgium in 1929.

Entries have been mailed to five former champions: Eric Hagenlacher of Stuttgart, Germany, champion in 1926-'27; Willie Hoppe, New York City, holder of the title in 1907, 1910 to 1920, from 1922 to 1924, who also holds the world's 18.1 balkline and cushion carom titles; Welker Cochran, San Francisco, Cal., 18.2 champion in 1928; Ora Morningstar, San Diego, Cal., a veteran of 50 years and title holder in 1909, and Kinrey Matsuyama, Tokio, Japan, recognized as the oriental champion.

AYRES ELECTED GOLF PRESIDENT AT GLEN EAGLES

Harry S. Ayres has been elected president of the Glen Eagles Golf club, located at 123d street and Bell road. The other officers are Vice President Dr. Phil Mathesen, Treasurer A. W. Lemine, Secretary Harry L. Butcher. Directors include Judge William R. Fetzer, Prof. A. Eustace Hayden, Clifford Hatch, William Andrews and Joe G. Davis.

The club is operating on a membership basis and the 36 hole course is now open for play. Packey Walsh has been engaged as professional.

Illinois Golf to Continue to Operate as a Private Club

The Illinois Golf club will continue to operate as a private club, according to an announcement made yesterday. John McElhatton will be in charge of the club. Seasonal memberships are now being offered at $100.

Central A. A. U. Hocky Tourney Opens Tonight

Eight amateur hocky teams will compete for the championship of the central states in the Central A. A. U. series tournament which opens tonight at the Coliseum. The title game is scheduled to be played Sunday afternoon.

The Baby Ruth team of Chicago and St. Cloud Teachers college will open the tournament. The second Chicago entry, the Blue Ribbons, will meet the Veterans Hocky club of Wausua, Wis., in the second game.

The Baby Ruth club holds the Big Four championship and has two victories out of three required to win the city championship.

Tomorrow night's doubleheader will pair Eagle River, Wis., Falcons and the Flour City sextet of Minneapolis in the first game, followed by Chicago's third entry, the Shamrocks, in a game with the Eveleth Junior college of Minnesota.

These eight teams, paired in the first round, will each play at least two games. The winners of tonight and tomorrow will be paired to play Saturday night, while the losers will play in the afternoon. After this round has been completed the four leading teams in point total will play for the championship and place positions Sunday afternoon. A victory in the tournament will be counted as three points, a tie receiving one point.

Bothered by Rats? Go Get a Sealyham

BY BOB BECKER.

Although the ordinary house rat is generally considered a serious pest throughout the world, one which causes millions of dollars' worth of damage every year, there are a few home owners around Chicago who actually want to get hold of live rats, surprising as this may seem. This "demand" can in many cases be traced to owners of Sealyham terriers, those underslung little English dogs.

A few days ago Dr. Noel S. Young of Lake Forest, Ill., one of the well known Sealyham terrier enthusiasts in the central states, was telling us of his difficulty in giving his Sealyhams any work. About the only vermin he could work his dogs against were live rats. And it's not very easy to maintain a steady supply of these animals, because most people put out poison to kill rats rather than traps to take them alive.

Sealyhams Are Fighters.

Whenever Dr. Young can get live rats the Sealyhams have a regular little field trial all by themselves. The way these small but muscular fighting dogs go for a big rat is a marvel. This practice of using terriers in work for which they have been developed over a period of many years unfortunately isn't any too common in this country. Both the Scotty and the Sealyham [just to mention a couple of the terriers] have been bred for many decades to do some fancy fighting against vermin. Their short legs and powerful muscles permit them to go into holes and burrows and close in on animals.

They're great fighters, and once they get hold they never let go of rat, woodchuck or what have you. If Sealyham terrier owners could organize here in Chicagoland, hold a trial to show that the breed not only is a delightful house pet but also a bold fighting vermin dog, we have a hunch that it would be a liberal education to thousands of dog owners.

Just Show Him a Rat.

It is difficult to imagine a gentle, mild mannered Sealyham which makes a delightful companion in the home bristling up and becoming a vermin dog in a couple of seconds. But show an ugly house rat to one of these little terriers and he is a changed dog.

At the recent Westminister Kennel club show in New York a brilliant Sealyham terrier, Champion Cresheim Coquette, was placed second best in the show, losing first place to a wire haired terrier Flornel Spicy Bit. Another terrier, a Scotty, won third place. Here are three terriers which will be well worth seeing if they come to the Chicago Kennel club show the latter part of March.

New Individual Marks Seen in Armour Relays

Meet records in five individual events and in several relays are likely to fall when athletes from 24 midwest colleges and universities gather at the University of Chicago fieldhouse Saturday for the sixth annual Armour Institute relay carnival. Although the meet is of comparatively recent origin, it has attracted an increasingly faster field, and record breaking is already a tradition. Records in all 15 events have been broken in the last two years, six of them last year.

Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette flyer, appears almost certain to crack the mark of :07.2 for the 70 yard dash, which was established by McCormick of Notre Dame in 1932.

Lowry Threat in Pole Vault.

The pole vault record of 13 feet 5¼ inches, set by Ike Lenington of Illinois last year, is threatened by Ray Lowry of Michigan Normal. Lowry cleared 13 feet 8½ inches in a meet with Michigan this season, setting a new record for the Yost fieldhouse. The shot put mark, 47 feet 7½ inches will be assaulted by a large field, including Davis of Hillsdale college, who set the mark last year. Chinn Kamm and Dave Cook of the University of Illinois, both of whom are capable of 48 feet, and Don Elser of Notre Dame.

Ken Sandbach of Purdue, the hard luck athlete of the last Big Ten meets, who has been disqualified in the finals of both meets, set the Armour record in the 70 yard low hurdle at :07.6 last year. He will be back to try for still another record. He will be pressed by Alvin Jackson of Michigan State, and three of the place winners in the high sticks event of the recent conference meet, Bob Clark of Wisconsin, Joe Schoeninger of Illinois, and Art Jens of Northwestern. The same group will be after the high hurdles mark of :08.8 held by Black of Chicago.

Miller Threatens Record.

Marsh Miller, Illinois sophomore, has broken :50 for the 440 yard run in a recent meet and is the leading threat against the Armour record of :50.4, established by Burns of Butler in 1932.

The shorter races and the relays will be run with the university and the college classes differentiated. The 880 yard run, the mile and the four field events are open. Present records:

70 yard dash—McCormick, Notre Dame, :07.2, 1932.
University 2 mile relay—Michigan State, 7:38.2, 1933.
College 2 mile relay—Illinois State Normal, 8:18.9, 1933.
440 yard run—Burns, Butler, :50.4, 1932.
College sprint medley—Illinois State Normal, 1:38.1, 1932.
One mile run—Brocksmith, Indiana, 4:14.1, 1932.
70 yard high hurdles—Black, Chicago, :08.8, 1932.
880 yard run—Hornbostel, Indiana, 1:56.8, 1932.
College one mile relay—Illinois State Normal, 3:34.1, 1932.
70 yard low hurdles—Sandbach, Purdue, :07.6, 1933.
University 1 mile relay—Pittsburgh, 3:23.5, 1933.
Pole vault—Lenington, Illinois, 13 feet 5¼ inches, 1933.
High jump—Nelson, Butler, 6 feet 5 inches, 1932.
Broad jump—Brooks, Chicago, 23 feet 10¾ inches, 1932.

STADIUM FILLS CARD FOR MAT SHOW MARCH 21

With the closing of the match yesterday between Ray Steele and Ernest [Dutch] Hefner the Stadium wrestling card for March 21 has been completed. Steele and Hefner will clash in the first match, a 30 minute time limit affair. There will be five matches in all.

The feature bout is between Jim Londos and Gino Garibaldi. The Italian star has been after this match since Londos tossed Joe Savoldi. Garibaldi downed Savoldi recently and it was because of this victory that he was awarded the chance at Londos.

The card complete is:
Jim Londos vs. Gino Garibaldi.
Dick Shikat vs. Pat O'Shocker.
Sammy Stein vs. George Zaharias.
Jagot Singh vs. Frank Speers.
Ray Steele vs. Dutch Hefner.

WONDERBOLTS LOSE WALKER FOR CUP MATCH

Bobby Walker, right half of the Wieboldt Wonderbolts, probably will be unable to play when the Wonderbolts meet the Champion Stix, Baer, Fuller team of St. Louis in the second of a three game series for the national cup, western division, at the Kuppenheimer stadium, 18th street and Keeler avenue Sunday.

If his injuries keep him out of the game, Walker will be replaced by Art Waldron, first string reserve back. Sunday's game will be the first cup series match that has not been played at the Sparta stadium.

The Wonderbolts lost to the Stix in overtime in the first game of the cup series. Davie Evans will referee with Oscar Bloom and Jack Johnston, both of Chicago, as linesmen.

LOYOLA TOURNEY PAIRINGS MAY BE MADE TOMORROW

Pairings for the eleventh annual National Catholic Interscholastic basketball tournament probably will be made tomorrow night, it was announced yesterday by officials of Loyola university, where the tournament is to be held from next Wednesday to Sunday nights.

Twenty-four teams are already entered in the meet. The remaining eight are expected to be selected by noon tomorrow. The opening games will be played Wednesday night at Loyola university gym, with the first round losers going into a consolation bracket.

New York, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia are represented by the last four teams to be accepted. The new quintets are Canisius High school, Buffalo, N. Y.; St. Mary's High school, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; St. Joseph's High school, Huntington, W. Va., and St. Catherine school, Dubois, Pa.

Canisius is the city and county champion of Buffalo, and is coming here with a team averaging more than six feet in height with a record of 20 won and two lost. The Niagara Falls preps are also rated among the leaders in western New York, having won 17 and lost 2, both to Niagara university freshmen. The team reached the quarter-finals of last year's tournament, and is reputed to be much improved.

St. Catherine's of Dubois, Pa., also competed here last year, losing in the second round.

Enthusiastic wireless messages from Tahiti, Fiji, Pago Pago, received during the First Cruise from the nomads who sailed with the City of Los Angeles on January 12. "Charming islands", "wonderful itinerary", "a really marvelous ship". Never have we received more universal approval of a cruise.
Truly it is a "wonderful itinerary". Think of it. Miles away from excessive heat, in breeze-cooled sea-lanes of the South Pacific. To ports the whole world has read and dreamed about, but visited only now and then by Fortune's children in private pleasure craft.
Years of experience in Cruise Conducting planned this adventure and seasoned travelers have given it unstinted praise. And so, for the second time, the S.S. City of Los Angeles offers a boon to nomads at a price astonishingly low. Imminent sailing date. Make your reservations early.

CUBS EVACUATE CATALINA CAMP TO PLAY ANGELS

Hartnett Injures Finger in Fielding Drill.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 14.—The Cubs put in an hour of work today and then snapped the padlock on their Catalina island training field. The drill was limited, so as to give the athletes time to pack their belongings for the trip to the mainland, but it lasted long enough to furnish the veteran Gabby Hartnett a chance to get his name on the hospital list. However, the mishap means only a few days' vacation for the big boy and that will not harm anybody. So much has already happened that Manager Grimm refuses to worry about anything short of a broken leg for one of his regulars. That may come later.

Hartnett encountered misfortune because he thought he would like to do a bit of infielding to break the monotony of catching. He paraded out to second base and took care of a few grounders and pop flies hit to him by Grimm.

Finger Glove Is Cause.

Gabby was all right until he tossed aside his catching mitt in favor of a finger glove. He was promptly plunked with a ball that knocked the end of his third left finger at right angles to its normal position. He yanked the tip back into place and then hustled to the hospital, where an X-ray negative revealed a slight chip in the bone.

Little annoyances also arose in the final workout. Outfielder Tuck Stainback, who suffered an ankle sprain several dyas ago, came up lame and Grimm decided not to start him in the exhibition with the Angels at Los Angeles tomorrow. The youngster will be used only in the last few innings. A change also was necessary in the pitching plans for tomorrow. Lon Warneke was going to start and go five innings. His wife was removed to the hospital this morning, so Warneke was told to remain here until satisfied his presence was no longer necessary.

Rookie Hurlers on Job.

Under the arrangements made necessary by present conditions, Bill Lee and Roy Joiner, two of the three pitching rookies on the roster, will handle tomorrow's mound work. Because of Stainback's ankle trouble, the outfield, reading from left to right, will be made up of Klein, Cuyler and Babe Herman. Bennie Tate will catch in Hartnett's place. In the batting order Third Baseman English will lead off, followed by Second Baseman Billy Herman, Center Fielder Cuyler, Left Fielder Klein, Right Fielder Babe Herman, First Baseman Grimm, Shortstop Jurges, Catcher Tate, and Pitcher Lee. Except for the battery, this is the probable arrangement for opening day April 17 at Cincinnati.

The evacuation of the island camp does not mean that the monotony of training has been concluded. During the two weeks at Los Angeles there will be morning practice for all not billed to work in the exhibitions each afternoon. This means the pitchers will have to take turns getting out to Wrigley field before 11 o'clock. Extra infielders, outfielders, and catchers will be included in this pre-luncheon squad. Running will be the principal diet of the pitchers during this drill, at least for the first week. Several of them, like Malone, Root, and Tinning can afford the loss of a few pounds. The Los Angeles weather also is conducive to perfection of pitching arms.

Regulars to Face Sox.

Grimm wants to erase, if possible, the abuse heaped on his boys last fall by the White Sox, so he will use his regular pitchers in the games scheduled with the Cubs' long time enemies next Saturday and Sunday at Los Angeles. He'll order Malone, Bush, Tinning, and Warneke to share the labor in the two games. The veterans of the staf will have three days in which to tune up for those efforts.

BRITAIN NAMES TEAM TO BATTLE FOR WALKER CUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, March 14.—Great Britain's Walker cup team was named by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews today. The squad will meet the United States here May 11 and 12. The members of the British squad are Michael Scott, 56 year old British amateur champion; Roger Weathered, Cyril Tolley, T. A. Torrence, Eric Fiddian, Jack McLean, S. L. McKinlay, and H. G. Bentley. Two other players will be chosen.

U. S. TEAM ALREADY NAMED.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—The American golf team which will oppose Great Britain in the Walker cup matches at St. Andrews May 11 and 12 was selected last January. The squad includes Francis Ouimet, captain; George T. Dunlap Jr., H. Chandler Egan, Johnny Fischer, Johnny Goodman, Jack Westland, Lawson Little, Max R. Marston, and Gus Moreland.

BASEBALL LEAGUE TO MEET.

The first meeting of the Chicago Industrial Baseball league will be held tonight at 155 West Madison street.

Cards' Best Hurlers Beat Giants, 7 to 6

Bradenton, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals sent three of their first string pitchers—Bill Hallahan, Bill Walker, and Dizzy Dean—against the New York Giants today, and although the world champions collected 12 hits off the trio, the Cards won, 7 to 6. The Giants scored five of their runs off Walker, a former teammate, and the other off Dean in the ninth inning. Score:

Giants	000	032	001	6	12	4
Cardinals	030	002	20*	7	7	0

PHIL YANNIGANS TOUGH.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Those Phillies Yanigans served notice on Manager Jimmy Wilson's regulars today that they are by no means to be taken lightly. Until the last of the first practice game's six innings, the Yannigans were leading their first-string rivals. Then left-fielder Ethan Allen, in the closing session, hammered one of Ted Kleinhan's slants to right center field for a homer to tie the score at 5-all.

KOLP SIGNS CONTRACT.

Tampa, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Holdouts of the Cincinnati Reds dwindled from three to two today, as Ray Kolp, pitcher, signed his contract for 1934. Si Johnson and Joe Morrissey still are outside the fold. The Reds' hopes shot upward meanwhile as Chick Hafey reported 15 pounds heavier than he has been in two years and promptly, in batting practice, slammed a couple to the fence.

Regulars of the squad licked the Colts, 7 to 0, in a practice game today.

BERGER FACES FINES.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—Emil Fuchs, Boston Braves president, today notified Wally Berger, now debating over his 1934 salary terms in Miami, that he would be fined $250 for every day's training he misses after Friday.

In the Wake of the News

DUFFERS.

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 14.—Viewpoint of the professional who always has played good golf from his caddying days was elucidated at Coral Gables while the noted pros were here for the four ball championship before moving on to Augusta. It grew out of a kidding match in which Gene Sarazen, one time national open champion, agreed to play a match, using left handed clubs which he had never tried before, against Bill Cunningham, a Boston newspaper man covering the fight and then going to the Boston Red Sox training camp at Sarasota.

Stakes were only a dollar a hole, but there was some heavy betting among hotel guests who had heard of the unusual conditions. At the end of nine holes, Cunningham, a natural southpaw, had 51 and Sarazen 53. The pro had hit plenty shots of long distance from his unaccustomed stance, but his control was not good. At this stage, Sarazen, one down, paid his wager and said he had enough.

"I've never suffered so much in all the time I've played golf," commented Sarazen. "Such futility is terrible. "Is that the kind of golf you usually play?" he asked. Cunningham replied, "Considering this Miami-Biltmore course is pretty difficult and that there was a strong wind, I'd say it was somewhat above my usual game. In fact I was more than satisfied."

"Why, if I had to play that kind of golf I'd quit. I just couldn't stand it and I don't see how you do," retorted the pro. Then to wipe out the memory he took his right handed clubs and corralled a low 70.

Which only goes to show it's all in the viewpoint. The first time we broke 100—let's see; I guess that was the only time—our ambitions soared to a 90. But we got over that. Now 108 is good enough, and think of all the exercise one gets.

The Pantomime.

Come, pause with me above the page
Where Harlequin disports tonight;
The green of pine festoons the stage,
And candle flame is softly bright.

Let Columbine in sequined skirt,
On joyful toes, come dancing in—
O, dainty, graceful, laughing flirt,
Beware, he plays the mandolin!

The lovers sip life's heady wine—
Its smiles and tears, its joy and woe—
Fair Harlequin and Columbine
Who jest and wear the domino—
And well for those who learn, as they,
Of pantomime, to charm the play.

Freights Win; Other Chicago Quintets Lose

Kansas City, Mo., March 14.—[Special.]—Two free throws by Werner Frank, with the score tied, gave the Chicago Fast Freights an overtime victory over Dominion Electrics of Minneapolis, 40 to 38, tonight in a third round game of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament.

First one club and then the other held the upper hand. The Chicagoans led at the half, 22 to 20, but it required a basket by Budrick with less than a minute to go to send the game into overtime.

The two other Chicago teams were eliminated by representatives of the Missouri Valley A. A. U. league. Events leading to their downfall were much the same in both cases. The Schuessler A. C. failed to make an early lead stand up and fell before Renos of Hutchinson, Kas., 33 to 29. After holding the upper hand for the first 18 minutes, the Chicago Optometrists lost to the Gridley Chieftains of Wichita, Kas., 40 to 34.

K. OF C. TEAMS TO PLAY FOUR GAMES AT WHITE CITY

Four games will be played tonight at White City by west and south division teams of the Knights of Columbus basketball league in an effort to break ties so that pairings may be completed for the championship round which opens Sunday at the 132d regiment armory, Madison and Rockwell streets.

Damen plays Hughes to decide second place in the west section. Damen won the divisional title last year and was runner-up for the league championship. Tonight's schedule:

8:00—Tonti vs. Hennepin.
9:00—Damen vs. Hughes.
10:00—McHale vs. Loyola-Hyde Park.

Sunday's schedule in the championship round will bring into action teams from the three divisions. It follows:

Auburn Park vs. McHale or Aquinas.
Quigley vs. Calumet.
Settors vs. Damen or Hughes.
Santa Maria vs. Tonti or Hennepin.

Healthy HAIR well-groomed with VITALIS!

USE THE 60-SECOND VITALIS WORKOUT!

It's the 60-second Vitalis workout.

Whether you have thin hair or thick hair, the chances are that you suffer from tight, dry scalp. This condition must be corrected—and the 60-second Vitalis workout can do it!

Tight dryness goes. Your scalp wakes up. Necessary oils are restored to scalp and hair. Loose dandruff is routed from the pores. Your scalp and your hair are lubricated with pure vegetable oils which they need. There is no "gumminess"—no "slickness."

Your hair combs into place to stay. It is no longer limp—no longer balky. It looks the way a man wants his hair to look! Get Vitalis today from your druggist. Find out about this 60-second Vitalis workout for healthy, handsome hair!

A 50-SECOND MASSAGE... Rub Vitalis into your tight, dry scalp! It tingles back to life—your hair has a chance!

10 SECONDS TO BRUSH... Your hair looks handsomely-groomed. No "gumminess." No "patent-leather" look.

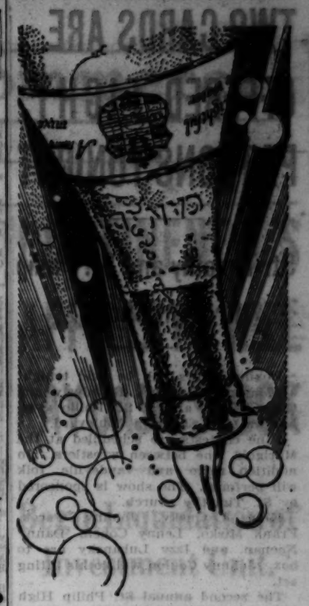

ASK YOUR BARBER

Your barber knows what Vitalis will do for your scalp and hair. Tell him to go ahead—with Vitalis.

PILES SUFFER NO MORE!

No more pain! No more itching or scratching! No more torture when you sit or walk! No more torment at the stool! The relief of Piles has now been solved. No matter what the form of Piles you suffer from—painful, itching, bleeding, blind or protruding—genuine relief for you lies in Paso Ointment.

Paso not only stops the pain and itching and makes defecation easy, but it tends to correct the condition of Piles as a whole. This is because Paso is threefold in effect. It is (1) soothing, (2) healing, (3) absorbing. Thus, it not only allays the inflammation and repairs torn tissue, but actually reduces the swollen blood vessels, which are Piles. The method of application makes Paso doubly effective. Perforated Pile Pipe attached to tube reaches high up in the rectum and thoroughly medicates all affected parts. Get Paso today at any drug store and see the relief it means. You will be more than amazed, more than grateful.

Hawks Play Leafs Tonight at Toronto

Toronto, Ont., March 14.—[Special.]—The Chicago Blackhawks arrived here this afternoon to play the league leading Toronto Maple Leafs tomorrow night. It will be the fifth meeting between the two teams and despite the runaway race, the Leafs have made of the 1933-34 schedule, they have been held to lower scores by the Blackhawks than by any other team in the league.

In the first game played at Chicago the Leafs defeated the Hawks by a 1 to 0 score; the second went to the Hawks, 2 to 0. A freak goal terminated their first game of the season here when a puck propelled by Charlie Conacher caromed off of Brother Lionel's chest into Charlie Gardiner's net, defeating the Chicago six, 1 to 0. The second game here ended in a 2 to 2 tie.

After tomorrow's match the two teams will return to Chicago, where they complete their season's schedule Sunday night.

In order for the Hawks to gain possession of second place in the American division, it will be necessary for the New York Rangers to lose their remaining two games to Toronto and Boston while the Hawks must defeat Toronto twice.

HAWKS RELEASE GRABOSKI.

Joe Graboski, Oshawa, Ont., amateur hocky player, was released yesterday by the Blackhawks and immediately left for his home to take part in the Ontario Hocky association's playoffs. The action was taken after Maj. Frederic McLaughlin of the Hawks discovered that Graboski suffered the loss of one eye, not as the result of a mining accident, as had been first reported, but during a hocky game. At the National Hocky league meeting Monday, Owner McLaughlin agreed to release the recruit after a conference with other league governors.

CHICAGO TROT CLUB GATHERS AGAIN TONIGHT

Plans for a saddle horse exhibition and trotting races to be held on Memorial day will be laid by members of the Chicago Trotting and Riding club at a dinner and meeting at the Sherman hotel tomorrow night.

The club will hold the exhibition for saddle horses and saddle ponies, together with the trotting and pacing events, at its private grouds, located on West River road at North avenue.

Eight or ten classes for show horses are planned and there will be eight dashes on the schedule. The club is eager to give owners of fine horses which are not of championship caliber and therefore not eligible for entry in the big shows a chance to exhibit their steeds at a special show.

Injury Forces Corbett to Cancel Fight with Terry

Sacramento, Cal., March 14.—[Special.]—A severe cut over his left eye, suffered while training today, has forced Young Corbett to cancel his match with Young Terry, which was scheduled at San Francisco for March 26.

18 Chicago Teams Enter Polo Tourney

Eighteen Chicago teams will enter the western polo tournament and the survivors will appear in the national meet at the 124th field artillery armory in April, it was announced yesterday following a meeting of captains and players at the Hotel Sherman.

The entry list constitutes a record for indoor polo. Among those who attended the meeting called by Herbert J. Lorber, chairman of the managing committee, were: Col. C. C. Haffner Jr., vice president of the Indoor Polo Association of America, who announced the award of the nationals to Chicago for the second successive year; Maj. Frank O. Wood of the 122d field artillery; Capt. C. A. Wilkinson, Lieut. Larry Smith and Lieut. John L. Hines Jr. of 6th corps area; Capt. Maxwell Corpening, Prentice Porter, John C. Bowers, Dave Silberman, and Lieut. Roy D. Keehn Jr. of the Chicago Riding club; Maj. R. G. Hunter, Capt. W. S. Everett, Lieut. Chris Schuh, and Lieut. Ray A. Waldron of the 124th field artillery; Charles Roovaart, O. T. Henkle Jr., and Edwin Hirsch of the South Shore Remount association, and Lieut. H. D. Reed of the Green Bay Rustlers.

Selection of officials for both the tournaments by vote of the players resulted in the choice of George A. Bates and Lieut. Romeo Mura as referees.

COMMISSIONERS SANCTION 2 OUT OF 3 FALL BOUT

The Illinois state athletic commission has granted Promoter Doc Krone permission to let Gus Sonnenberg, former heavyweight wrestling champion, and Jack Smith of Chicago wrestle two falls out of three with a one and a half hour time limit, at the Arcadia Gardens, 4444 Broadway, on March 27.

The two out of three fall contest between Sonnenberg and Smith comes as the result of a demand by Smith, who believes he can win in a longer match. A month ago the two were scheduled for a three fall contest, but Sonnenberg canceled at the last minute and Smith met Don George.

Jack Hurley, Wrestler, Is Killed in Fall from Hotel

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Jack Hurley, heavyweight professional wrestler, was killed early today when he fell from the fourth floor of a West 44th street hotel. Several hours before he returned to his hotel Hurley was defeated by Emil Dusek in a match at the Coliseum. His body was found in the rear courtyard of the hotel.

GRAINS WEAKEN ON LIQUIDATION OF MAY OPTION

Losses Are Fractional; Early Market Strong.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Liquidation by scattered holders of May grain contracts was under way yesterday, but prices held within relatively narrow limits and closed around the low figures of the day. Wheat was off ⅛ to ¼ cent, corn declined ¼ to ⅜ cent, oats were unchanged to ⅛ cent higher, rye was ½ to ¾ cent lower, and barley closed unchanged.

Dry weather and dust storms in the crop belt combined with an upturn in stocks caused fair activity in wheat during the first half hour of the session with the July selling up to 89⅜ cents, a new high since Feb. 16, but the buying movement was short lived and the option closed at 88¼ to 88⅜ cents.

May Wheat Sold Here.

May wheat was sold here against purchases at Kansas City, presumably by spreaders, the difference being about 3 cents, almost sufficient to permit shipments of cash wheat to the local market were it not for the premium prevailing in the latter for the cash article.

Increased pressure was apparent on the Winnipeg wheat market, which closed ⅝ cent lower with May at 68¼ cents, or 1⅝ cents under the high point on Monday. Export demand was said to be slow. Liverpool finished unchanged to ⅝ cent lower.

Rye developed independent weakness both in American markets and Winnipeg, but there was nothing in the news to account for the selling.

Wheat Belt Needs Rain.

Lack of subsoil moisture is reported over the greater part of the winter and spring wheat belt.

The North Dakota annual weather report said 1933 was the fifth successive year with precipitation below normal. It was also the third dryest year in the history of the state, and as a result of the five years of deficient rainfall ground water levels are the lowest on record. Private reports Wednesday said lakes were drying up and there was little water in the rivers. Conditions in South Dakota are reported as worse than in North Dakota, and Minnesota is also dry.

Kansas has had three rainy periods in the last six weeks and the moisture was said to have penetrated the ground to the depth of 12 inches but high winds have prevailed in the southwest for several days and have brought numerous reports of dust storms.

COTTON CLASSES LOWER; CONSUMPTION INCREASES

Cotton futures closed yesterday at net losses of 4 to 8 points on futures in Chicago, while New York was 1 point higher to 5 points lower. Spots in New York were unchanged at 12.45 cents. Houston and Galveston were unchanged at 12.35 cents. New Orleans dropped 5 points to 12.30 cents.

Consumed February	477,896	441,203
In cotton states	376,211	369,805

World's consumption of cotton during 12 months ending Jan. 31, were 24,969,000 bales, compared with 22,676,000 bales in the preceding year, an increase of 10 per cent, as given by the bureau of agricultural economics. Prices:

EGGS LOSE PART OF EARLY GAINS; BUTTER MOUNTS

Egg futures advanced to new high levels for the season on the Chicago mercantile exchange yesterday, but failed to hold, closing unchanged to ¼ cent higher. Butter was firmer, gaining ¼@⅝ cents.

Receipts of eggs were under last year and cash markets higher. The movement of stocks into storage totaled 15,000 cases less than last year, with New York reporting a net outward movement.

Butter news also was improved somewhat. Production was reported 15 per cent under last year. A government announcement stating 6,000,000 pounds of butter would be bought also encouraged buying.

Best Cattle and Hogs Sell Well, but Others Move Lower

Best grades of cattle retained their recent sharp price gains yesterday, with buyers competing for the kinds selling at $7 and above. The general run weakened later and closed slightly lower than the average Tuesday.

The snap to the trade on Monday and Tuesday was gone yesterday, however. Prime 1,139 to 1,174 pound steers at $7.60 equaled the previous high mark of the last 15 months. Some weighty beeves up to $7.50 averaging 1,398 pounds set up a new high figure for these weights. More than 40 per cent of yesterday's beef steers cashed at $7 or above, with upwards of 3,000 head selling at $7 to $7.60 the first three days of the week.

Prices Well Over Week Ago.

Bulk of the beef steers during the first half of this week brought $5.20 to $7.35, against a range of $4.75 to $6.65 the first three days of last week. Better quality of steers was a factor in boosting the market.

This rise in prices has been made on slightly heavier supplies. The run for three days at the 20 leading markets totaled 135,000, or 6,000 more than a week ago and 59,000 more than a year ago, when the banking crisis had curtailed the movement of all farm products.

Yesterday's butcher stock market was rather spotted, but mostly steady. Mixed yearling steers and hefers sold at $7.25. Calves met better demand at stronger price levels.

Hog Trade Two Sided.

A two-wa. market existed for hogs yesterday. Best kinds ruled strong to 10 cents higher, with some of the big butchers up 15 to 20 cents, but medium grades, which make up a rather large share of the run, sold mostly weak to 10 cents lower than on Tuesday.

Strongweight butchers are at the top of the list for the first time in many months and are outselling 150 to 180 pound averages by a wide margin. Prime 291 pound averages brought yesterday's $4.60 top, showing a 5 cent advance over Tuesday. The general average also was up 5 cents at $4.35. Receipts have been running a little heavier at most of the markets the last three days.

Lambs suffered a mild setback yesterday after recovering a big part of last week's sharp loss during the first two days of the week. Prices went down 10 to 15 cents early and closed 25 cents lower, with not much of the supply of wooled lambs selling above $9.65. Packers bought sparingly at $9.75 and city butchers paid up to $9.85.

JANUARY EXPORT TOTAL TOPS '33; UNDER DECEMBER

Only 3 Countries Take Less Goods.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 14.—The United States sold more goods to foreign countries, barring three exceptions, during January than it did in the same month last year, commerce department figures revealed today. Only Soviet Russia, the Dominican republic and Hongkong failed to bring their purchases above last year.

Compared with December, exports dropped to all but two of the seven grand total divisions and to 30 of the 40 best customers of American products. Value of shipments declined $20,400,000.

Imports in December declined by less than the usual seasonal amount, or slightly under $5,000,000, but shipments were smaller than in December from all but seventeen foreign countries and from all but one of the grand divisions, Asia.

Export Value $172,174,498.

Revised January trade totals placed the value of exports at $172,174,498, compared with $192,618,809 in December. Imports for January were valued by the department at $128,536,026, against $133,217,842 for the preceding month. Imports also were substantially higher for January than in the corresponding month last year.

France, Germany, Canada and the Philippines were among major export markets taking more from this country in January than for the preceding month. Germany showed the largest increase in imports from the United States with purchases valued at $15,728,485, or slightly more than $2,000,000 in excess of December purchases.

Britain Best Customer.

Great Britain was by far the largest customer for United States products abroad, notwithstanding the reduction in its takings under December. Exports to Great Britain were placed at $32,244,101, compared with $43,078,239 in December and $21,311,188 in January, 1933.

France imported United States products during January valued at $15,200,407, against $12,128,934 in December and $8,989,084 in the corresponding month last year.

Exports to Europe as a whole declined in January to $90,030,323 from $102,184,703 in the previous month. Imports from Europe likewise declined during the same period from $42,272,999 to $37,369,543.

TWO-SIDED LARD TRADE HOLDS PRICES STEADY

Scattered liquidation, counteracted by commission house buying, held lard prices within a narrow range yesterday. The close was 2½ cents higher on new July and September and unchanged on other months. Cash lots were stronger, with regular and leaf lard $6.50, the former advancing 2½ cents while the latter was unchanged. Loose lard was up 5 cents to $6.45. Liverpool lard was 3 to 6d lower.

RECOVERY PLAN BELIEVED TO BE AT CROSSROADS

Future Is Uncertain, Says Prof. Nerlove.

BY S. H. NERLOVE,
[Associate Professor of Business Economics, University of Chicago.]

The recovery program appears to have again reached the crossroads, and consequently the future of the economic scene seems to be decidedly uncertain. Available evidence indicates there has not been a sufficient expansion of private investment and revival in the capital goods industries to enable the government to curtail its emergency measures and vast expenditures.

PROF. S. H. NERLOVE.

Although the forward move of business activity since last March has been spotty, some observers believe distinct progress has been made. Physical volume of business activity, as measured by the New York Times weekly index, is about 30 per cent above last March. Commodity prices, as measured by the Annalist index of wholesale commodity prices, are more than 30 per cent higher than a year ago.

Common stock prices, measured by the New York Times average of fifty common stocks, are more than 80 per cent above their levels of last March.

Results Bring Mixed Views.

These favorable indications coupled with an increase in manufacturing employment of roughly 25 per cent, an increase in manufacturing pay rolls of over 45 per cent and an estimated increase of approximately 25 per cent in farm incomes have convinced a great many persons that the gains made afford a satisfactory basis for further business revival.

Other observers, however, point out several significant matters which lead them to distrust the lasting quality of the business recovery so far enjoyed. They suggest that comparisons with March of last year overrate the real improvement in view of the unwarranted panicky conditions then existing due to the complete breakdown of our banking system.

They point out that the gains made in both commodity prices and stock prices occurred during a period when unorthodox currency experiments were employed. They indicate that the increases in business activity were brought about during a period when industry was attempting to "fly" from the dollar and to "beat the gun" of the codes that threatened to increase costs considerably.

Employment Index Misleading.

In addition, they emphasize the fact that the improvement in employment shown measures only the number of laborers employed and does not afford an accurate measure of the number of hours worked. Even more significant, they point to the fact that gains in consumers' and farmers' incomes reflect to a considerable extent only the vast expenditures of the federal government. They suggest there is a decided probability these large expenditures will either get out of hand or will soon have to be curtailed drastically.

In short, it appears to these observers that the progress made on the road toward business recovery has so far been accomplished with the "cart before the horse" instead of behind it. According to them, a switch is necessary to bring about lasting business recovery, and how to do it, is the difficult task the administration now faces.

Outlook Confuses Business.

It is common knowledge that business men proceed on the basis of expectations: expectations in regard to prices, cost of production, volume of sales, and ability to collect debts. It is perfectly evident, too, that the whole business structure is extended on the basis of credit. Since even the great captains of industry have no infallible ability to forecast accurately, their expectations are necessarily based mainly on the assumption of an approximate continuance of past conditions in general, with a few attempts to foresee specific economic changes.

To slight changes they can adequately adjust themselves. To drastic changes that involve the entire price structure, system of hourly wages and the availability of investment funds they cannot effectively adjust themselves. Witness their reactions to the NRA, the AAA, the currency experiments, and the securities bill. Accordingly, if business men are going to bring about conditions that will emphasize the volume of sales and employment, they must have a reasonable expectation of profit and some degree of certainty in regard to future governmental action.

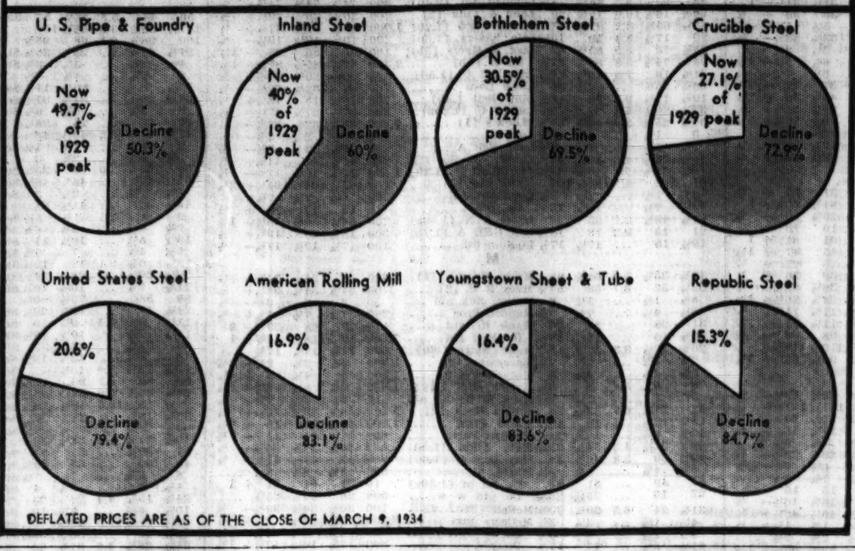

Accompanied by Income Gain.

In practically all recovery periods heretofore, these two conditions were present. Usually primary emphasis in the early stages of recovery happened to be placed on increasing physical production, particularly in the capital goods industries. The increase in production was accompanied by increases in income distributions and consequently revival was spread to the consumer's goods industries. In other words, increase in consumer's incomes accompanied and followed successful attempts to increase physical production.

The recovery program as it now stands, however, is attempting to put us on the road of lasting business recovery in a different way. This program is increasing consumer's incomes first and through such an increase is trying to bring about permanently larger production. In the process of accomplishing this aim, the two antecedent conditions to lasting business recovery usually present in the past

BILL TO EASE BURDEN OF MUNICIPAL DEBT URGED BY PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(AP)—Concern for debt burdened cities was evidenced anew today at the White House and in congress. President Roosevelt, who favors a general scaling down of debts, made it clear he was leaving it to congressional leaders to whip the Wilcox-Summers municipal bankruptcy bill into such form that there would be no more doubt of its passage.

The measure would permit lightening of municipal indebtedness by agreement of creditors. Chief objections have been to the provision that would allow 66 per cent of a city's creditors to say how much it should pay.

The White House has heard that advocates of the legislation are talking of changing it to require 80 per cent approval for reduction of principal, and 66 per cent approval for reduction of interest or postponement of maturities.

Prospects of similar relief for financially embarrassed companies doing general business likewise improved. The corporation bankruptcy bill, passed last session by the house to expedite reorganization of firms in difficulties, was approved by the senate judiciary committee.

At the same time Senator Trammell [Dem., Fla.] introduced a bill directing the Reconstruction Finance corporation to aid refinancing of counties, municipalities, school and road districts. Under the Trammell measure authority would be given the RFC to raise and use $750,000,000 in this program.

HOUDAILLE LOSS FOR LAST YEAR TOTALS $113,899

Houdaille-Hershey corporation and subsidiaries, manufacturers of automobile equipment, sustained during 1933 a consolidated net loss of $113,899, less than one-fifth of the loss of $590,523 for 1932, according to the annual report.

Provision for depreciation during the year amounted to $729,811, which changed the net income of $615,347 before depreciation into a loss of $114,464, later reduced to $113,899 by adjustment for amount applicable to minority interests in subsidiaries.

"The company has obtained a large amount of new business from one of the three largest producers of motor cars," declares Claire L. Barnes, president. "January, 1934, was the first month, since the code has been effective, that the company's production has been in large volume. Sales in January, 1934, were far in excess of sales for any January since 1930, and the company showed a profit for the month, compared with a loss of over $100,000 in January, 1933. Sales in February, 1934 were considerably greater than those of January, 1934."

W.W. CRUTTENDEN NEW PRESIDENT OF BOND TRADERS

Walter W. Cruttenden of Fuller-Cruttenden & Co. was elected president of the Bond Traders club of Chicago by the 250 members attending the ninth annual banquet of the organization at the Blackstone hotel last night.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Fred O. Gale of Halsey, Stuart & Co.; treasurer, Dominic C. Cronin of A. C. Allyn & Co., and secretary, Lawrence A. Higgins of Hulburd, Warren & Chandler.

A. E. Farroll of H. M. Byllesby & Co., retiring president, announced that plans were under way for a "World's Fair convention" of bond traders. He said that steps will be taken to form a national association at the summer session.

Steel Activity Contracts; Rate Falls to 48.5%

Manufacturers of containers and agricultural equipment increased their demand for steel last week, but business from the automotive industry contracted somewhat owing to apprehension of labor difficulties.

In addition, since prices have been reaffirmed, consumers have no interest in making anticipatory accumulations against expiring first quarter contracts and are limiting themselves to current needs. The percentage of capacity at which mills were engaged last week consequently descended a half point to 48½, according to the Iron Age.

Sympathetic to Wage Boost.

The industry, declares the review, is agreeable to the President's recommendation for an increase in wages and might accede to a raise of 10 per cent, provided it was accompanied by prices sufficiently higher to cover the expense.

While more tonnage from the railroads reached local mills last week, it was not large enough to prevent a decline of two points in operations to 49 per cent of capacity, according to the journal. Similarly, the rate in the valleys receded 3 to 52 and at Wheeling 5 to 75. However, at Cleveland and Detroit, which specialize in light rolled products, production held steady at 69 and 100, respectively. Heavier releases from the carriers raised operations one point to 31 at Pittsburgh and three to 33 at Philadelphia.

Oppose Union Recognition.

"Throughout industry there is a general disposition to accede to all demands of labor that are consistent with practical plant operations and do not threaten to stifle business at the source," comments the Iron Age, "but there is almost universal opposition to the closed shop.

"The steel industry seems disposed to follow the President's suggestion that wage rates be raised and might agree to an advance of as much as 10 per cent, provided prices might be raised sufficiently to cover the increase in cost. Further shortening of hours in the steel industry is not a practical possibility, since the average work week per employé during operations under the code has been only 29.2 hours."

Scrap advanced 50 cents a ton at Chicago, but fell 25 cents a ton at Pittsburgh last week. The Iron Age composite rose from $12.92 to $13 a ton.

ECONOMIC POLICY GROUP WILL HOLD HEARINGS HERE

International economic problems, particularly as they affect Chicago, will be discussed at hearings to be held at the Palmer house April 2 by the commission of inquiry on national policy in international economic relations. Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, is chairman of the commission, which was recently created by the Social Science Research council.

Among the men prominent in their respective fields who will talk are the following: Walter Lictenstein, vice president First National bank and president Chicago Council on Foreign Relations; Peter B. Carey, president Chicago Board of Trade; James L. Donnelly, executive vice president Illinois Manufacturers' association; Harry D. Gideonse, professor of economics University of Chicago; Silas H. Strawn; William Whitfield Woods, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers.

Dr. Hutchins said the inquiry has for its aim the determination of a desirable economic policy for the United States. Hearings are being held at important centers throughout the United States to take testimony on the subject.

SOVIET GETS ITS FIRST LONG TERM FOREIGN LOAN FROM SWEDEN

[Copyright: 1934: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, March 14.—The financial blockade of the soviet union was broken today when the first long term loan was granted to the bolshevist régime by a foreign country, Sweden.

The amount of the loan is 100,000,000 kronor, the duration is eight years, and the interest rate 5½ per cent, which compares strikingly with discount rates of 10 to 11 per cent which the soviet government is still paying and with the rates of two or three years ago, ranging from 25 to 35 per cent.

The only "collateral" is the word of the soviet government which will pay interest for three years and then proceed with interest plus amortization payments. Financial and economic circles here feel a natural elation which is not diminished by the fact that the soviet government expects to be free of outstanding foreign obligations by the end of this year.

It is regarded as notable that the Swedes, whose hostility to Russia is only second to that of the British, should be the first in the world to make a loan to the soviet government.

It is true that Britain, Germany, and others have given state guarantees for credits to Russia and that private firms in various countries have extended credits for soviet business for a year or two.

TRUSTEES LOAN COMPANY DEBT SET AT $10,559,749

Debts of the Trustees System Service corporation, the small loan company which grew to own a loop skyscraper, were listed at $10,559,749 in the schedules in bankruptcy filed yesterday in the United States District court by Attorney John M. Bryant, representing the corporation.

The schedules formed one of the bulkiest of such volumes ever filed in the district court here, attachés said, containing approximately 10,000 names of creditors in all parts of the country. Most of these were buyers of the corporation's gold notes, ranging in denomination from $100 to several thousand dollars.

Of the total liabilities $1,210,000 is secured by collateral in the hands of creditors, the schedules showed.

Assets listed in the schedules were $8,673,505, but of these only $65,661 is in cash. The major portion of the assets, or $5,398,000, was shown to consist of debts due on open accounts. Stock and bond holdings of the corporation are listed at $1,931,022, and notes and bills due at $1,617,045.

The schedule states that of the liabilities "$6,010,538 should be paid by others," referring, apparently, to the claims of the corporation against a number of its thirty subsidiaries in different parts of the country. Some of these subsidiary organizations have been adjudicated bankrupt, and there is a tangle of intercompany litigation now under way.

REFRIGERATOR FIRM TO MARK 7TH BIRTHDAY

R. Cooper Jr., Inc., distributor for General Electric refrigerators and household appliances, will celebrate its seventh anniversary with a meeting and banquet at the Palmer house today.

T. K. Quinn, vice president of General Electric company at New York, and P. B. Zimmerman, manager of special appliance sales at Cleveland, will be guest speakers at the banquet.

"It is a good time to celebrate," declared Mr. Cooper yesterday. "Our sales so far this year are running way ahead of quota. We plan to conduct an intensive campaign for the next 66 days in an effort to set a new sales record."

$3.67 A SHARE EARNED IN 1933 BY AM. SUGAR

Record Made Despite Bad Conditions.

The American Sugar Refining company, dominant domestic refiner of sugar, made a slightly larger profit in 1933 than in the preceding year despite adverse conditions affecting the industry, according to the annual report made public yesterday by Karl D. Babst, chairman.

The company reported consolidated net profit of $4,801,574, equivalent after preferred dividends to $3.67 a share on the outstanding common stock. In 1932 it earned $4,327,967, or $3.62 a share on common after preferred requirements. Dividends paid in 1933 were less than profit, amounting to $4,049,984, but the company set aside $10,000,000 from surplus for losses and reserves, applicable to prior years. As a result, surplus on Dec. 31, 1933, stod at $11,603,139, against $20,851,548 at the beginning of the year.

Conditions Unfavorable.

Chairman Babst went into some detail in his report describing the unfavorable conditions besetting the company. The company is the principal domestic refiner of sugar, but at the same time has a large investment in raw sugar properties.

He traced the manner in which the large importations of refined sugar from Cuba are hurting the company's domestic refining business while the economic plight of the Caribbean republic is affecting its raw sugar properties there.

Pointing out that importations of refined sugar last year were sufficient to meet the needs of the 15,000,000 consumers in this country, Mr. Babst said tariff protection is needed against the increasing flood of imports from Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines if the domestic refining industry is to be saved.

The present tariff imposes no duty on imports from Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, while the duty on Cuban refined is less than the tax imposed on the amount of raw sugar domestic refiner must bring in to produce a pound of the refined product. This in effect subsidizes the Cuban refiner, he declared.

Seek Only Just Relief.

He asserted the tariff relief sought by the domestic refiner is only that given as a matter of course to every other important manufacturing industry in the United States.

Mr. Babst commented briefly on the program which the President recently outlined to congress for the government control of sugar affecting all branches of the industry in this country and Cuba. The proposal was made while the report was being written. The effect of such a program is uncertain, he said.

The consolidated year end balance sheet showed assets of $122,358,169.

FORD CAUTIONS WORKMEN ABOUT QUICK RICHES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., March 14.—Henry Ford today declared industrial and commercial conditions will continue to improve throughout the year, but warned against get-rich-quick schemes.

"I believe that this movement of recovery will be greatly speeded by a general advance of wages in all lines," Ford said, "and I believe the bankers cannot put anything more over on the American people—at least not in this generation. In the last year the American people have learned so much about the bankers they are no longer afraid of them.

"In the present condition of the country a good many harmful things would be put over on the people if the President did not stop them. Most of these things come into collision with President Roosevelt. He stops them.

"There is one thing I wish to emphasize. The workmen, now that prosperity is coming back, must not be fooled by any get-rich-quick schemes whether they come from the stock market, the politicians, or the so-called labor leaders."

Food Index Down 1 Cent; First Drop in 13 Weeks

New York, March 14.—(AP)—The Dun & Bradstreet food index dropped one cent in the week ended March 13, its first decline in thirteen weeks, to $2.14. This compared with $1.54 a year ago. Wholesale markets for foodstuffs showed "decidedly irregular trends" in the past week, the agency reported.

Power Output Rises 18.4 Pct. Over Last Year

The favorable margin maintained last week by national electricity output over that of the corresponding week in 1933 was 18.4 per cent, one of the largest gains ever officially reported, the Edison Electric institute announced yesterday.

However, the cause of the excess was to a great extent the stagnation induced in business last year by the bank holiday.

The week's total, amounting to 1,647,024,000 kilowatt hours, was actually a little lower than that of 1,658,040,000 for the preceding week. In the parallel period of 1933 the output amounted to 1,390,607,000 kilowatt hours.

Chicago Follows Trend.

In Chicago, also, while the year to year gain improved, the week's output was seasonally less than that of the preceding week. Production for the district was 100,710,000 kilowatt hours, compared with 102,809,000 in the preceding week. The margin over output in the like period of 1933 was 13.9 per cent, against 13.4 in the preceding week.

Week ended—	1934.	1933.	Per cent.
March 10	100,710,000	88,388,000	+13.9
March 3	102,809,000	90,642,000	+13.4
Feb. 24	102,830,000	90,230,000	+14.0
Feb. 17	99,758,000	95,486,000	+ 4.5

Increases by Division.

The trend was higher in the major territorial divisions last week. In New England output was 17 per cent higher than that of the corresponding week of 1933, against 15.7 in the preceding week; in the central industrial, 27.6 against 24.6; west central, 12.7 against 10; southern states, 18.5 against 11.9; on the Pacific coast, 7.9 against 7.7. In the middle states the margin declined from 15.3 to 14.1 and in the Rocky mountains from 18.3 to 15.7.

VALUE OF DOLLAR RISES SLIGHTLY; CLOSE 59.54 CENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 14.—The value of the dollar rose slightly today in terms of the gold franc, closing at 59.54 cents, against 59.52 yesterday. Trading was quiet and confined mostly to transactions to meet trade demands.

The franc eased ¼ point to close at 6.58 cents, but the British pound held steady at $5.10. Other principal currencies also showed little change for the day.

The London open market price for gold sagged 1 cent to the equivalent of $34.70, with only a small amount of the metal sold to American agents. The New York reserve bank today reported imports of $9,362,200 of gold from five countries.

Harris Trust Votes Usual Dividend of 3 Per Cent

Directors of the Harris Trust and Savings bank yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 3 per cent on capital stock, payable April 2 to stockholders of record March 17.

DENIES WIRE BILL EXCEEDS WISHES OF WHITE HOUSE

Dill Asserts President Knew of Details.

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(AP)—Charges that the communications control bill exceeded the desires of President Roosevelt were countered today by Chairman Dill of the interstate commerce committee with the assertion that the chief executive had seen the Dill-Rayburn bill before he proposed some form of regulation to congress.

Lining up with Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, who opposed the bill yesterday, Sosthenes Behn, president of the International Telephone and Telegraph corporation, appeared as a witness before the committee.

Terms Proposal Destructive.

He said that, while he endorsed Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation for a regulatory commission, he believed the regulations proposed by the Dill-Rayburn measure were "destructive even for the control of a monopoly and inadequate for the fair and equitable regulation of the competing telegraph services."

While Dill said the President had seen the bill, he explained he could not say whether Mr. Roosevelt approved all its features.

"We didn't," Dill observed, "violate so terribly the President's wishes. The President didn't mean there should be a literal binding against new regulation now."

A Republican member of the committee, Senator White of Maine, after hearing the testimony, announced he proposed to offer a substitute, providing only for a commission to hold powers now possessed by the interstate commerce and radio commissions.

Cable Group Urges Adoption.

Urging adoption of legislation looking to the control by this government of rates charged for international cable service, Col. Grayson Murphy, chairman of the Cable and Radio Users' Protective committee of New York, said that north Atlantic cable companies could "engage in mutually satisfactory agreements between themselves and foreign interests, and those American citizens who are dependent upon this service are absolutely at their mercy and have nowhere to go for relief."

OPTICAL FIRM HERE NAMED IN BANKRUPTCY BILL

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the federal court yesterday against the Wahlgren Optical company, Wabash avenue and Madison street, one of the largest manufacturers of optical supplies in the country.

Attorney Michael Gesas, representing the petitioner, the Shur-On Optical company, with an unsecured claim of $50,000, said the defendant corporation's liabilities were in excess of $200,000 and the assets less than $75,000. The appointment of a receiver will be asked today.

CONTINENTAL'S AFFILIATE WILL PAY CASH, STOCK

Begin Liquidation of Investment Unit.

Distribution of $750,000 in cash and 1,000,000 common shares of the Chicago corporation will be made March 27 to holders of beneficial interest certificates in the Continental Illinois company. The concern is the former investment affiliate of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company and the distribution announced yesterday marks the initial liquidating dividend. The company is being liquidated in compliance with the banking legislation adopted a year ago by congress.

The disbursement is being made in the ratio of $1 cash and 1 1-3 shares of Chicago corporation stock for each 1-750,000th beneficial interest in the company to holders of record March 23. One share of the old Continental bank stock represents 1-750,000th interest in the company.

Certificates of Interest.

When the capital reorganization was made late last year through the issuance of $50,000,000 of preferred stock separate certificates were issued to represent each stockholder's interest in the affiliate. Bank stockholders who exchanged their shares for the new stock received separate certificates to represent their proportionate interest in the affiliate. Thus the holders of the bank stock and the beneficial certificates now are not necessarily the same persons. Holders of the old bank stock, however, are entitled to share in the dividend in the ratio of their holdings. The certificates are currently quoted in the unlisted market at $5 to $5.25.

Prepared Months Ago.

Trustees of the company began preparing months ago for the liquidation of the company after the passing of the banking legislation. Assets were converted into cash as rapidly as possible and no new investments were made. The investment in Chicago corporation was not disturbed because of the limited market and the size of the holdings.

The 1,000,000 shares of Chicago corporation represents a current market value of over $3,000,000, but it would have been difficult if not impossible to liquidate such a big block.

I. M. M. TO FIGHT WHITE STAR AND CUNARD MERGER

New York, March 14.—(AP)—P. A. S. Franklin, president of the International Mercantile Marine company, said today that I. M. M. attorneys have been instructed to seek a court injunction to restrain the Cunard company, the Oceanic company and others from proceeding with the merger of the Cunard-White Star Lines.

Franklin returned today from Europe and charged that the right of stockholders in the Oceanic company had been violated. He also alleged that the new merger is "nothing more or less than a British National Line, backed by the British treasury to the extent of about £50,000,000."

The I. M. M. company holds all of the shares of the Oceanic company as security for the balance of approximately £2,350,000 still due for the sale of the White Star Line.

"We do not wish to be even remotely interested in a British national line, as our desire is to develop under the American flag exclusively," Franklin said.

RESERVE CHIEFS STUDY EMPLOYE PENSION PLANS

Plans for setting up an organization to administer the new pension system for employés of the 12 federal reserve banks were discussed here yesterday by representatives of the various banks. The meeting was held at the Federal Reserve bank, 230 South La Salle street. Detailed plans were not made public.

Setting up of the pension system for reserve bank employés was authorized several months ago by the federal reserve board.

It is understood that James B. McDougal, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago from its founding in 1914 until his retirement last month, will be one of the first employés to get a pension under the system. He was on sick leave for a year before his formal retirement.

RAILS, UTILITIES RISE IN UNEVEN STOCK MARKET

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 14.—Taking little notice of a combination of rather favorable news developments, stocks idled through another sluggish session today. The market looked best in the forenoon when ragged upward progress was made, with rails pacing the advance. But the movement lacked drawing power for buyers, and from noon on the market lapsed back into a slow drift.

The close left a mixture of price changes, few of them noteworthy. Pivotal issues on the whole were lower on the day. Turnover was 1,400,869 shares.

The market's slackness reflected more than anything else the disposition of traders to hold off making commitments until publication of the market regulation bill about which there is still much fog.

Favorable News Ignored.

With that uncertainty hanging overhead the market found itself unable to take advantage of a sizable budget of good news, such as progress of efforts to relieve labor trouble in the automobile industry and the defeat in the senate of the St. Lawrence waterway treaty, with its alleged threats of encroachment on the business of railroads and utilities.

Rails made their best bid in the first hour, pushing ahead to new highs on the rally. Atchison was up nearly 2 points above 69, and New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Southern Pacific brought the best prices of the last two weeks. Consolidated Gas and a few other leading utility issues likewise negotiated moderate gains. Both the carriers and power shares had the advantage not only of the waterway bill failure, but the outlook for unified regulation of highway, airway, and waterway transportation.

Motors Quietly Strong.

Motors likewise had good news behind them in the labor conference at Washington, outlook for the success of which was brightened by the move of the Automobile Chamber of Commerce, together with Ford, for hour reduction and wage increases. Better sentiment thus created was reflected in quiet buying of Chrysler, General Motors, other auto stocks and accessory shares.

U. S. Steel eschewed its erstwhile rôle of leader. It began poorly, recovered, and then settled back fractionally. Other stocks of that class were mixed and quoted within less than a dollar a share of previous closings.

A bit of speculation was aroused in certain aircraft stocks on the appointment of Col. Lindbergh and other famed aviators as administration advisers on air mail operation. Favorites were Douglas and Sperry, these having no direct interest in mail carrying. The group contributed heavily to the turnover.

New York, March 14.—For the seventh consecutive trading day domestic corporation bonds on the stock exchange moved higher today. Many issues of the group gained 1 to 6 points, with a number entering new high ground for the year in heavy trading. United States government bonds were mostly 2-32 to 10-32 of a point higher. Foreign loans gained irregularly.

Almost without exception all of the domestic corporation issues which showed major activity today closed unchanged to substantially higher.

Industrials Strongest.

On the average industrial bonds showed greater average gains on the day than did the rails and utilities. One feature of the market was that high grade issues shared fully in the activity and advances along with the more speculative issues.

Traders apparently paid little attention to auto labor difficulties, to a slight downturn in steel production, and to the hesitancy of stocks. The opinion seemed general that there would be little interruption to business advance.

American Water Works Quoted.

In the foreign list French government 7s jumped 2½ points to a new record high since issuance, at 180½, and the 7½s likewise touched a record on a fractional advance. United Kingdom loans were strong, as were most of the Scandinavian issues. Bonds of the German group, however, continued irregularly lower. Latin-American issues manifested considerable irregularity, with loans of the Colombian group showing the best strength.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance.

Investors' Guide: I am holding a considerable amount of insurance in Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company of Hartford, Conn. What can you tell me about it?—C. J. W.

Answer: Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company, Hartford, Conn., was incorporated in 1846. It is purely mutual.

Insurance in force mounted steadily through 1931, when a total of $967,-236,000 was reported. In 1932 it dropped to $950,564,000, as a result of economic conditions, and in 1933 a further drop of five per cent to $903,-879,000 was reported. The decline last year was about the average of all insurance companies.

Total income in 1933 was the highest in the history of the company. It amounted to $47,661,000. Disbursements were $38,265,000. The company has maintained a higher degree of liquidity than was formerly customary, due to demands on part of policyholders. This consequently cut down investment earnings. In 1933 the company earned 4.17 per cent on its assets, against 4.4 per cent in 1932, 4.8 per cent in 1931 and 4.9 per cent in 1930.

Assets at the close of 1933 aggregated $226,065,000, against $218,806,000 the year before. They consisted of $5,286,000 cash and $16,128,000 United States government bonds, constituting 10 per cent of total assets. Policy and premium loans, 20.8 per cent of assets, totaled $44,574,578. Other bonds, 33.8 per cent of assets, were $72,402,000; stocks, 3.7 per cent, $7,835,000; mortgage loans, 25.4 per cent, $54,465,000; and real estate, 6.3 per cent, $13,-617,000.

On the liability side there was a reserve of $558,000 for over due interest and $1,009,000 contingency reserve. After deducting these two items, surplus over all liabilities was $9,-128,000.

The company reported a ratio of actual to expected mortality of 57.4 per cent, against 58.4 per cent in 1932.

Foreign Gold.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate it if you would be good enough to inform me what the quotations are for pure gold in the States.—P. A. R. [Mexico].

Answer: The United States treasury is offering $35 an ounce, less one-quarter of one per cent plus refining charges, for foreign mined gold. We suggest you write to the United States mint at New Orleans, La., for an import license and for full information as to the procedure in shipping.

RAIL RESEARCH BUREAU URGED TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

Professor Says Study of New Fields Vital.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Research is the fountain of youth for the railroads and the roads must make greater use of scientific studies if they are to find a solution for their problems. This message was given members of the American Railway Engineering association by Dr. A. A. Potter, dean of engineering, Purdue university, at the Palmer house yesterday.

Dr. Potter, who is a member of the science advisory board of the transportation coordinator, said one criticism which might be made of the railroads in the past was that in their application of research work they gave too much attention to solving immediate problems and not enough to exploring new paths which would permit them to compete successfully with new forms of competition.

Consider Research as Insurance.

"Other industries consider research as insurance against attacks from their competitors," Dr. Potter said. "Any industry that does not do this is bound to lose out.

"In the last eleven years the railroads had gross revenues of around 53 million dollars. During this period they spent collectively $6,750,000 on research, or about 100th of 1 per cent, on research. Many large industries spend from 1 to 4 per cent of their revenues annually on research work."

Dr. Potter suggested the establishment of a central research laboratory to attack railroad problems from all angles—economic, operating, financing and technical.

Cites Possible Studies.

Problems waiting the study of such a laboratory include the following, he said: Riding qualities of passenger cars, ventilation, cleanliness, springs, balancing, use of lightweight alloys, and fuel economy. Most of all, he said, there must be experimentation with types of equipment which will lead to entirely different methods of transportation.

While praising efforts of the equipment manufacturers, Dr. Potter said one criticism which might be made is that these concerns are guided in their own experimental work largely by their own ideas of what the railroads need, rather than what the roads feel they need themselves.

RECOVERY PLAN AT CROSSROADS, SAYS ECONOMIST

Uncertainties Impede Future Path.

are being seriously interfered with. The whole recovery program threatens margins of profit and tends to increase uncertainty.

During the past year increases in consumer demand were not entirely dependent on the volume of incomes disbursed by business. Instead the increased incomes were dependent largely on vast government expenditures. As was to be expected, then, the pick-up in activity was chiefly in consumer's goods industries. What is more, even the relatively smaller gains in capital goods industries were brought about largely by government expenditures and credit.

Seek Redistribution of Wealth.

Briefly stated, it seems as if the whole recovery program in its essential features has been a scheme for attaining lasting business recovery primarily by redistributing income and wealth through government expenditures and control. This process obviously cannot continue forever. Some time soon it must be curtailed drastically. And to get the conditions necessary for a sustained business recovery consumer demand must be made almost entirely dependent on the volume of incomes directly disbursed by private business.

Why not amend or change our present recovery program to bring this situation about? Why not wherever possible create conditions that would immediately put profits in sight of the industrialist? Why not wherever possible create conditions that will make for as much certainty as possible? In other words, the administration might well move rapidly in the direction of bringing about a sufficient expansion of private investment and of aiding a further revival in capital goods industries so that it will be in a position to curtail its emergency measures and vast expenditures.

The recent presidential request for authority to revive tariff rates in order to facilitate negotiation of reciprocal trade agreements appears to be in this direction. This is a good start, and we probably need to do a great deal more along these lines.

FORECASTS U. S. RAIL OWNERSHIP WITHIN SIX YEARS

Trade Group Head Sees Banks "Nationalized."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 14.—Government ownership of the railroads by 1940 or shortly thereafter, with the rest of private enterprise then "falling an easy and inevitable victim," was predicted today by Dr. Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board.

"The question whether the responsibility for the development of the American railroad system is to rest in governmental or in private hands is crucial for the future of private enterprise in every field of economic activity in this country," Dr. Jordan said in discussing the spread of government power that "for all practical purposes our banking system today is nationalized."

Lack of Understanding Great.

"Yet there is little understanding of the situation and great indifference toward it today," he continued. "When the railroads are finally swallowed up in the maw of the government monster that is already feeding so greedily upon the productive effort of our people and paralyzing their creative power, our whole system of communications will inevitably go with it. And with the arteries and nerves of our economic life thus devoured the rest of the corpse of private enterprise will fall an easy and inevitable victim."

"When the railroads pass into the hands of the government," he said, "it will be because the American people have ceased to believe that the principle of private enterprise and individual responsibility are in themselves worth preserving in any field. The fundamental significance of this event is that it will be a definite signal of the passing of the essential spirit and underlying idea of American life out of which the country developed, the idea of individual self-reliance and personal responsibility.

"Complacent acceptance of the idea of government ownership of the railroads and expropriation of their investors is simply a reflection of the spirit of bolshevism which is abroad today, not only in this country but the world over.

Idea Spiritual Disease.

"It is the spiritual disease of the age which started long ago and has finally infected this country that drives men to blind exercise of mob power in destroying all distinguishing individuality, dragging everything down to the dead level.

"Beneath its fancy phrases and elaborate academic disguises this essential bolshevist spirit that has gripped the world today is nothing but a mobilization of the greed and envy of the uncreative mob against the creative power and enterprise of the minority of individuals in the community whom the mob cannot imitate but can only persecute and rob.

"No one imagines, I think, that the man in the White House in his innermost soul desires to lead any such moblization, and if he is forced to do so by the fatal circumstances of destiny, it will only be because there do not arise to his aid and support any other forces with sufficient intelligence, integrity and constructive will to lead in another direction."

TO ALL CREDITORS AND POLICYHOLDERS OF AND CLAIMANTS AGAINST THE NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA:

Pursuant to the decree entered on February 7, 1934, by the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, in the case entitled, "People of the State of Illinois, ex rel. Ernest Palmer, Director of Insurance of the State of Illinois, vs. National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, a corporation," in the Superior Court of Cook County, Illinois, in Chancery, Number 587,940, public notice is hereby given to all persons, firms and corporations, whether policyholders or not, having or asserting any claim or demand against the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, or having or asserting any title to or lien upon or equitable interest in any of the assets forming part of the receivership estate being administered by the undersigned Receiver, or having or asserting any preference, priority or security over creditors generally, that a contract between the Hercules Life Insurance Company, an Illinois corporation, and the undersigned, Patrick J. Lucey, as Receiver of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, was authorized to be and has been executed, under which the policies and contracts of insurance, supplementary contracts, annuity contracts, and the reinsurance contracts, issued, assumed or reinsured by the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, have been assumed and reinsured by the Hercules Life Insurance Company subject to the lien, and upon certain terms and conditions set forth in said contract, a copy of which may be had upon application to the undersigned Receiver.

Any policyholder who does not wish to accept the benefits of said contract may file a claim in the manner and within the time hereinafter referred to, and in that event Hercules Life Insurance Company shall be under no obligation or liability of any kind or character as to the policy or contract in respect of which such dissent is made and claim filed, and the policy or contract of such policyholder shall be considered as terminated as of October 17, 1933. Every policyholder who does not so dissent shall be deemed to have accepted the benefits of said contract and to have assigned his claims to Hercules Life Insurance Company, as provided in said decree and in the aforesaid contract.

All persons to whom this notice is given are required under the terms of said decree, on or before sixty days from the date of the entry thereof, to file written proofs under oath, in duplicate, of their respective claims or demands, with the undersigned Receiver, at his office, 29 South La Salle Street, Chicago, Illinois, and in default of so doing, they shall be forever barred and precluded from participating in the distribution of the assets of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, or of the moneys, assets or property in or which may hereafter come into the possession of the Receiver, or the proceeds thereof or income therefrom.

Said decree further makes provisions regarding the manner of proving such claims and demands.

A copy of said decree is available at the office of said Receiver. Blank proofs of claim are also available at the office of the Receiver, which will be furnished by the Receiver upon application to any claimant or his attorneys for use in making a proof of claim.

Dated, Chicago, Illinois, February 8, 1934.

PATRICK J. LUCEY,
as Receiver of the National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, 29 South La Salle Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

LEASE MAJESTIC THEATER TO LOOP PLAYHOUSE FIRM

Plan a Vaudeville-Picture Policy, Report.

BY AL CHASE.

Jones, Linick & Schaefer, who now operate three loop playhouses, yesterday leased the Majestic theater, at 16-22 West Monroe street, from the estate of E. J. Lehman through a lease made to the J. Theater corporation, a subsidiary of Jones, Linick & Schaefer. Aaron Jones Jr. will manage the playhouse. Dibblee & Manierre and the First Realty company were brokers.

Policy Not Determined.

According to Mr. Jones, the policy of the house has not yet been determined. It probably will be a combination of pictures and vaudeville, it was learned. Jones, Linick & Schaefer now operate the State-Lake, with movies and vaudeville; the Woods, with pictures, and the Rialto with burlesque and films. It is expected some alterations and decorations will be made to the Majestic and the house opened as soon as possible.

A year ago a syndicate headed by Tom Chamales leased the Majestic and operated it with pictures until a few days ago when the lease was given up.

Details on the lease of the Garrick theater by a Balaban & Katz subsidiary, the Randolph Amusement company, were made public yesterday. Considerable alterations in the lobby and some redecorating are contemplated. The lease is for five years.

Report on Apartments.

The Cook County Trust company, receiver for the Mozart apartments, 102 East Chestnut street, yesterday made public a statement of receipts and disbursements from the date of appointment, July 12, 1930, to Feb. 28, 1934. Gross income was $292,782 and disbursements $288,310, leaving a balance of $4,472.

Unpaid tax balances for 1928, 1930, and 1931 total $21,480. Attorneys' fees amounting to $13,000 were paid in full. The receiver's fees of $15,950 also were paid.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

The official forecast for today and tomorrow and yesterday's table of records follow:

We have opened a Chicago office with Mr. E. J. Bodman, one of America's leading bankers, in charge as resident vice president. We have done in excess of 25 million of business during the past three and one-half years.

We have more than sixteen thousand clients who have, through us, placed their funds in the safest place known to man. Our trust fund organization is doing business in thirty-six states.

We want intelligent men who recognize opportunity. If you are willing to bet on yourself, in other words, work for a commission, we will help you stage a financial comeback.

We will talk to you today, Thursday, at 10:30 sharp on a new money making sales plan. Come prepared to spend one hour. Your ticket of admission is character, ambition, industry and promptness.

Independence Fund of North America, Inc.,
120 S. LA SALLE-ST. SUITE 1349.

MAN TO MAN

WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF A BUSINESS THAT PAYS ONE MAN FOR LAST WEEK $170.00. THE WEEK BEFORE, MARCH 3RD, $105.00; THE WEEK BEFORE, FEB. 24TH, $104.00?

HERE IN CHICAGO

you may be one of many men who have awakened to find that the market for the product you have been selling is on the wane or has ceased to exist.

Most men unemployed or unprofitably employed, are associated in the same line of business too long. Surely the solution of such a problem lies in a change.

Any average person can, thru our unique selling and comm. plan make at least $40 or more per week at the start.

We train the men carefully for this work that we hire, and we finance them for stock and equipment.

NO INVESTMENT.

You don't have to invest or put up one cent. We are national manufacturers of a hygiene electric unit that has wide appeal and if you can show a clean record, are of neat appearance, between 21 and 45 years of age, and a real go-getter that wants to make money and are willing to work for it, come in and see for yourself the best deal in Chicago. We will tell you frankly if we can use you or otherwise.

APPLY THURSDAY ONLY
9 A. M. to 1 P. M. No other time.
Room 1007
Mather Tower.
75 E. Wacker Drive.

The pay roll in this office is thousands of dollars a month. It ranges from $150.00 a month for men new in this business up to several hundred dollars monthly for those with more experience. One new man, formerly a milk wagon driver, made $280.00 here his first month, February, and expects to pass that safely this month. Another man who joined us last fall had been getting $15.00 a week for work on highways, and in the first nine days this month he made $209.00. A former salesman has made $161.00 in three days. Here are some of the former occupations of men drawing good comm. in this outstanding electr. unit business—leading in its field throughout the world: A piano manufacturer, a barber, three civil engineers, a construction engineer, a painter and decorator, a tool and diemaker, an owner of a fleet of autos, salesmen, electricians, sign painters, theatrical producer, business men, teachers, aviators, buyers for large stores, etc., etc.

We find that men at the head of families, neat, aggressive, with good character and able and anxious to do a good day's work every day, make good faster than others. We have no "snap" to offer but we have independence and permanency. You add to your income as fast as your work merits. You know you will get your money—that the company back of you has vast resources and an unsullied reputation. In this changing world, many old lines will never come back to the same level as before—and like men displaced during the war, many will be displaced when complete recovery occurs in the old lines. But those here who have the will to succeed have nothing to fear. While we want men chiefly between 25 and 45, there is one man here 69 who is making a mighty fine living! He was 66 when he joined us. Where else can you match opportunity like that?

I invite you, on behalf of the company, to call for interview promptly at 2 p. m., Thursday, March 15—no other time—Room 215 at 1046 Wilson-av., E. of Broadway. My name is H. Herschend, and I have been in this work 21 months, after years spent in civil engineering. I have a better income than I had formerly and real independence. I shall be glad to go into details with you.

MEN—LIVING IN MOUNT PROSPECT, DES Plaines, Arlington Heights, Barrington, Palatine, Park Ridge, Niles, Bensenville, Schiller Park, Edison Park, Norwood Park, Jefferson Park, etc., preferably with cars, will be selected for these permanent positions. This is our first announcement, having just opened up here. Only a few months ago I went to work on a commission basis, handling these famous electric units, was new to me, as I had never sold a thing in my life—but I have made good, and helped others succeed, and we now have more business than we can handle alone. This is a large company, and it will positively finance any men whom we select. No money to pay out. Therefore, men with character references, in health, with family responsibilities, looked for. If interested, call promptly 2:00 p. m. —no other time—Room "A," National Bank building, Park Ridge, Thursday, March 15.

Could You Be a Fuller Man?

A Fuller man makes good commission and his life is one of rich human experience. He is industrious, ambitious, courteous, a thorough gentleman, able to meet the best people in his established route. Will train and finance men selected. If you measure up to the standard, Fuller wants you. Apply Thursday or Friday, 1 to 4 p. m.

Miscellaneous.

MEN.

If you had an opportunity for a good connection with a responsible reliable company we feel you would be interested.

We have a few opportunities available, if you live on the South Side, with one of the largest companies of its kind in the world, marketing an electrical unit on which there is no competition. Our men are making good money on a percentage basis and their incomes are not regulated by times or seasons. It is a permanent connection and pays well. However, while you are learning the business you may have to be satisfied with $125 to $200 per month. Previous sales experience is not necessary, as, if you are selected, we will thoroughly train you.

If you are neat appearing and have a desire to succeed, we will bank you to the limit with no investment on your part, and set you up in a profitable business. Come in and see me between 11 and 1 Thursday. Suite 430, Hyde Park National Bank Bldg., 1525 E. 53d-st. Ask for Mr. Lovell.

MEN—YOUNG.

No selling, residing on South Side and other sections of city; must be over 23 yrs. of age, neat and intelligent, to do contact work in conjunction with advertising campaign by large appliance mfr. Must be willing to work for about $25 on unusual bonus, comm. arrangement. Permanent work, excellent future. Interviews Thursday 2 p. m. only. No other time. Room 168, Pure Oil Bldg.

AT ONCE.

Three intelligent, neat appearing men who desire a permanent connection with national hsehld. appl. organization; must be willing to work 8 hours a day, start on our terms. Comm. This means about $40 a week to start. If you mean business, apply Emp. Manager, R. 618, 203 N. Wabash-av.

HOUSEHOLD'S LOW RATE POLICY HAS SAVED Chicago Borrowers HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS

For over 50 years we have given our customers a square deal. We were the first to reduce our charges below the legal maximum and we intend to continue lending money to worthy people at the lowest possible rate and to give them fair, courteous, businesslike treatment.

The charge for a Household Loan of $300 is 2½% per month on the unpaid balance throughout the life of the loan. Rate on loans less than $300 is 2½% a month on that part of a loan over $100 plus 3½% a month on the first $100. All charges figured on unpaid balances only.

Average Monthly Costs if Paid in Equal Monthly Installments.

Amount of Loan.	Monthly Rate.	Repaid in 3 mos.	Repaid in 12 mos.	Repaid in 20 mos.
$100	3½%	$2.33	$1.90	$1.84
200	3½-2½%	4.22	3.50	3.40
300	2½%	5.00	4.06	3.94

Quick, private service. Only husband and wife sign. Up to 20 months to pay. Come in, phone or write.
